

TIP OVER THE TREASURY

Reserve Board Plan Would Release the Sum of $200,000,000

WOULD HAVE BANKS HOLD FUNDS

This Would Leave Little Work for the U. S. Treasurer

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—A majority of the federal reserve board are in favor of a radical change in the method of handling government money. They would have all on hand held in the reserve banks instead of in the treasury and the sub-treasuries, as at present. This change would abolish the present sub-treasuries and vastly diminish the importance of the office of treasurer of the United States. There is a division of opinion among the members of the reserve board as to the time this change should be made, but it is said that there is no division among them as to the advisability of the change from a theoretical standpoint.

The change would by no means portend the abolition of the treasury department, as there still would be many departments of the treasury, such as those headed by the collector of internal revenue, in charge of the collection of money in the United States; the comptroller of the currency, in charge of the supervision of national banks; the customs division; the bureau of printing and engraving, where the paper money is made; the mints, where the metallic money is made; and the supervising architect, in charge of the plans and construction of all public buildings.

Then, too, other departments which are not generally known to be under the treasury department would remain. Several of the well-known divisions are the coast guard service, which combines the old revenue cutter with the life-saving service, and the secret service, the agents of which protect the president and run down counterfeiters.

So far as holding the money, however, the secretary of the treasury would become only a fiscal officer. He would draw checks with which to pay the government's bills, but would have virtually no money on hand. The system of paying by treasury warrants, which are actually checks on the treasury, would be abolished.

An advocate of the new plan points out that putting it into effect would release more than $200,000,000 for actual use in the country. About this amount is usually held in the treasury, and often much more, which under the proposed plan would be on deposit in the federal reserve banks instead of being locked up in vaults.

Incidentally, were this money all in the reserve banks, instead of being in the treasury vaults, the secretary of the treasury could not make crop-moving deposits. This would pass to the jurisdiction of the federal reserve board. The board, it is pointed out, could under this plan deposit all the money it might deem necessary in any member bank it chose, and in that way take care of the crop moving or any other situation that might arise.

It is pointed out that no other country with a big banking system, such as the reserve board, duplicates so much of its machinery by having a treasury department which keeps on hand most of the

ARGUE FOR SEPARATE NEW HAVEN TRIALS

Counsel for "Vendors in Good Faith of Stock" Attacks Charge of Criminal Conspiracy.

New York, Sept. 28.—Federal Judge Hunt heard arguments yesterday on the application of Lewis Cass Ledyard, Charles M. Pratt, Charles F. Brooker, Henry K. McHarg and Frederick F. Brewster, for a separate trial on the indictments charging them, with other directors or former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co., with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, Delaney Nicoll, in behalf of the defendants, maintained that Pratt and Ledyard were not conspirators as described in the indictment, but vendors in good faith of the stock of the Boston & Maine railroad, whose sale to the New Haven was approved, he said, by the authorities of Massachusetts and the attorney general of the United States. Upon the facts of this transaction, said Mr. Nicoll, "a momentous criminal conspiracy" had been charged. Mr. Nicoll held that all five of his clients should be included in the same class with George F. Baker and four other defendants who have already been granted a separate trial.

READY TO DEBATE SUBMARINES.

State Department So Informs Ambassador Bernstorff.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Acting Secretary Polk has advised Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, that whenever he is ready to resume negotiations on the submarine question he can take them up with state department officials here, or Secretary Lansing will meet him in New York or elsewhere. Secretary Lansing, on a brief vacation, has been holding himself in readiness to meet the German ambassador whenever the latter received word from the Berlin foreign office concerning the evidence in the Arabic case. Officials presume that inasmuch as Count Von Bernstorff has not yet been definitely advised from Berlin.

WEALTHY FARMER KILLS WIFE.

J. Smith Haines of Trumbull, Conn., Makes His Escape.

Trumbull, Conn., Sept. 28.—J. Smith Haines, a wealthy Trumbull farmer, yesterday shot and killed his wife at their home here, with a shotgun. He then made his escape. The shooting is said to have followed an argument over the question of hiring a team to take Mrs. Haines to court to testify against her husband, who was charged with having beaten her last Thursday.

The son, Jason, rushed home on hearing the shots. As the youth ran into the room, he said his father leveled the gun at him. The boy escaped, and running to a neighbor's house, notified the authorities.

NO GUNS FOR RAIDERS

A Partial Embargo on the Border Arms Shipments

MUNITIONS ONLY TO CHIEF FACTIONS

The Order Goes Out to All American Officials

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—Orders have been issued to all American officials on the Mexican border to seize all shipments of ammunition when the destination is not definitely known. No embargo is being laid on commercial shipments of war munitions to the principal factions, but it is the purpose of the government to prevent war supplies from reaching bandit hands and raiders operating independently. One large shipment is being held up at Laredo until its ownership can be determined.

Official confirmation of the story of how Yaqui Indians derailed a train between Hermosillo and Guaymas and burned sixty persons in a car of hay, was received here yesterday by the state department. No foreigners were reported killed. There now is no telegraphic communication between Guaymas and the Yaqui valley.

The Carranza government has warned American railroad men not to work in Mexico. "The department has been informed," said an announcement yesterday, "that the Carranza authorities have taken the position that all trains, whether their own or enemies' are military trains and that to avoid international difficulties, foreigners should not engage in railway service. It is stated that for some cause deemed sufficient, an entire train crew might be imperilled or even executed under martial law."

Reports from west coast districts show conditions more or less disturbed but nothing acute.

Villa agents here announced receipt of dispatches showing evacuation of Naco by Carranza forces and the prospective evacuation of Agua Prieta before the Villa advance along the border. They charged that Carranza troops before leaving Cananea on Sept. 23, killed one hundred civilians. Villa forces now claim complete control of the state of Sonora. Their main body is said still to be in Durango, Torreon, Chihuahua and other towns in the vicinity.

GOLF SEASON NEARING END.

Two More Weeks of Competition in the Weekly Tournament.

The 1915 golfing season is drawing to a close—only two more weeks and the weekly tournament will be ended, Oct. 9. It is certainly going to be a close finish in both classes, as there are about five players in each class with only a few points difference between them. There were 24 score cards turned in for last week, all players fighting hard for points. In Class A, James Freeland takes first place with a low net of 70. John Reid takes second with 73 net, and George M. Marston third with 74 net. In Class B, George Murray was first with a very low net of 67, with D. J. McMillan second with 71 net and W. Mathieson third with a net of 73.

The round robin tournament closed on Saturday, the competition having been started 15 weeks ago. Twenty-six players entered and the names were divided into two sections. This is a match play competition and each player had to play a match with each one in his own section. It proved to be a splendid tournament. A. W. Freeland and G. H. Fraser are tied for first place in one of the sections, they having played 11 games each. Both won 10 and lost one. This tie will be played off on or before Saturday, Oct. 2. Then the winner will play off a 36-hole match with James Freeland, he having won the other section. He played 11 games, won nine and lost two. The winner of this tournament will receive a handsome cup, presented to the club by George M. Marston.

BRITISH CENSORSHIP LOCKS UP THE NEWS

Not a Word Outside of Paris Report Reaches London on Momentous Drive in the West.

London, Sept. 28.—Not a word descriptive of the momentous operations in France, hardly 100 miles away, had reached the London newspapers late yesterday since the laconic dispatch of Sir John French Sunday night, with the exception of yesterday's official French report.

Newspapers are urging relaxation of the censorship. They contend it would be helpful in recruiting, and that the relatives of the men at the front are entitled to more information concerning their achievements.

The United States Inquires Whether Any Victims in Armenia Are American Citizens.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Ambassador Morgenthau, at Constantinople, was yesterday instructed to inquire into reported outrages against Armenians in Turkey, to ascertain if any victims are American citizens by birth or naturalization. So far, nothing has been received by the embassy at Constantinople to indicate that American citizens have suffered, but American mission property has been taxed and threatened with confiscation. The reported murder of two American missionaries still is unconfirmed.

PARIS SEES 120 PLANES CELEBRATE AT ONCE

Large Number of Aircraft Decked With Tricolor Were in the Air Together.

Paris, Sept. 28.—At one point in the environs of Paris Sunday, 120 aeroplanes went into the air in a spontaneous demonstration of joy over the victories for the arms of the allies, north and east. The point from which they rose is one of the railway transfer stations of the Paris belt line, and the arrival of 10 trainloads of German prisoners brought the first indication of the successes. One airman after another rose, waving the tricolor, until 120 machines were maneuvering.

W. C. Huntington of Rutland Placed Under Arrest.

Rutland, Sept. 28.—A warrant was issued by State's Attorney C. V. Poulin yesterday for W. C. Huntington has been confined at the county jail for several days, having been locked up by Deputy Sheriff H. R. Adams because he could not furnish surety in a civil case instituted against him in city court by the railroad to recover the $20. A few days ago Huntington was given his "time" by railroad authorities, being handed a slip entitling him to draw $11.92 for six and a half days' work. TRAINING THE FLEA.

How the Tiny Insect Is Weaned From His Jumping Habit.

"The teaching of the flea to do any sort of trick is, of course, a tedious, difficult matter," said a flea trainer. "The first thing to do is to break it of its natural habit of jumping."

"One can see how necessary this is when one considers the flea is less than one-eighth of an inch in length and has a jump of three feet—300 times its own length. If a six foot man had the same leaping power he could make leaps of 1,800 feet, so that when a flea has the advantage of one leap he is good as gone forever. My apparatus for jump breaking is a round glass ball. I confine him in this for three weeks. I look through this ball, touch it, flash lights into it, talk, do everything to let the flea accustom himself to my presence. At first he will jump and jump. He strikes against the curved walls and gets bruised. After a time, and I find three weeks to be ample, the flea gets to know me, and he also gets to know that it is less painful to crawl than to jump and get bruised.

"The flea cannot differentiate between transparent glass and no glass, so that when I take him from the ball he still strikes this peculiar obstruction and so he doesn't jump. So you see, a flea must have some reasoning power somewhere, but I am in no position to say where it is located. That is why I have to pick fleas up with tweezers and put them on my arm when I want to feed them. They don't dare to jump on me."—Kansas City Star.

A Disturbing Sound.

"There is no excuse for a man being run down by a motorcar. All he has to do is to keep his wits about him." "Of course," replied the recent victim, in sarcastic tones. "There is nothing more conducive to rational thinking than a loud 'honk' heard unexpectedly in one's rear."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Here's Nature's Own Remedy for Catarrh

Hymcol Relieves Catarrh Without the Use of Dangerous Drugs

Not until Hymcol was discovered has it been possible to truthfully say that a real remedy for catarrh was known.

Hymcol is an oil and its air is breathed through a small inhaler furnished with it for a few minutes four times a day, and during that time every particle of this Hymcol-laden air taken into the air passages and lungs is impregnated with a powerful germ-killing and health-giving antibiotic.

Spurred and incited often cause disorders of the respiratory tract or bring on some other disease and never make a permanent cure of catarrh. But when the air of Hymcol penetrates to the inner air cells of the lungs and enters the blood with the oxygen it not only kills the germs in the throat and nose, but kills the bacilli in the blood, freeing the mucous membranes from poisonous microbes and giving perfect health.

A complete outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hymcol for several weeks' treatment. The Red Cross Pharmacy has no such faith in the worth of Hymcol that they agree to return the money to any purchaser who is not thoroughly satisfied.
