"The Store Where Quality Counts"

The Corsets that Women Like

We know this because we sell so many of them and sell them over and over again to the same customers. It is probably because Warner's is such an "all round" corset. It is fashionable in its lines, giving any type of figure those firm trim contours that are just right under tailored clothes; it is the soul of comfort, women tell us—and we think that is because it is so well made and the boning is so skillfully placed. It is certainly the most economical corset you can buy, because it is guaranteed not to rust, break or tear.

Under the auspices of the educational department, Miss Grace Clark of Montpelier gave a very interesting and instructive talk before the Woman's club yesterday afternoon on "Practical Education." Her handling of the subject was most masterly, showing a broad and far-reaching outlook. Several have club members been privileged to hear on practical a message, set in such clear-cut language. In spite of the cold, a good-sized audience greeted her and were well repaid.

Frigid weather and thermometers registering 30 below zero and few less than 24 in Barre and vicinity had little effect upon students of the high school or graded schools throughout the city. The high school attendance was practically normal in spite of the fact that many students walk in from the country. Perhaps the beginning of mid-year examinations has a tendency to bring them all out to-day, for it is this afternoon that the first examination will be given. This is the second year Spaulding students have taken mid-year exams. Mr. Hunt has influenced them last year. The customary six-week tests are still given as well.

Employees of the A. W. Badger Co. store were pressed into hasty service this morning when hot and cold water pipes in a room above the store gave way under the effects of the cold and emitted a stream of water into the store below. Mr. Badger happened to be in the store at the time, and with the aid of his force, managed to remove all furniture from the danger zone. A real lively flow of water poured into the showroom for a few minutes before the building water system could be shut off. This is the third similar occurrence that has happened since the furniture company first took up occupancy, the two previous occurrences resulting in much damage to stock. Mr. Badger is congratulating himself that no such ill effects were felt from this morning's experience.

Cars of the Barre & Montpelier Traction company were unable to make a complete trip to the end of the line in Barre this morning due to a break in the trolley line near the Allen lumber mill. Evidently caused by the extreme cold when the thermometers were flirting with the minus 28 and 30 mark in the early hours of this morning, the wire, only recently installed at this point, snapped, letting it down to the roadbed from just below Berlin street to Third street. A gang of workmen from the company's headquarters in Montpelier were on hand before 5:30 o'clock repairing the break, completing their work in time to let the 9 o'clock car make the first trip of the day. Previous to that hour passengers from the capital city were forced to make the journey from Third street on foot.

Mr. Carusi's new duties begin Monday and will continue through the legislative session. Meanwhile he will continue to perform some of his present duties in the office of Attorney Davis during evenings and week-end recess periods.

Spaulding high school's basketball team plays St. Albans high at St. Albans Friday evening of this week. If past league games of the season give any just basis to form comparisons of the two teams, Spaulding ought to win, as Montpelier had defeated St. Albans on the latter's own floor, 18 to 17, and Spaulding defeated Montpelier high on the Montpelier court, 22 to 9. Thus far this season, Spaulding has not been defeated in a league game, though every other league team has lost at least one game. Burlington, the next strongest rival to Spaulding, lost only to Spaulding here at Barre, and then by a single point, 24 to 23. Waterbury lost to Burlington on Burlington's floor, 23 to 18, Peoples academy of Morrisville lost to Waterbury, 30 to 12, and St. Albans, as stated above, lost to Montpelier. Thus, Spaulding leads the league, but there's a long pamphlet for the team to run before the season ends, with every team doing its best to prevent Spaulding from getting the silver trophy.

MONTPELIER

Elks Put on "The Jollies of 1921" Last Evening.

The first of two evenings' entertainments that the Montpelier lodge of Elks will present was given Tuesday evening, but because of the coldness of the night and the fact that there was an attraction at the State House, there was only about two-thirds of a house. A musical farce comedy, entitled "The Jollies of 1921," was presented under the management of E. G. Moyer of Chicago. It was in two acts of four scenes. Trouble with the music occurred at one time during the program, which upset things; but on the whole very good performance was given and Mr. Moyer complimented highly the talent which Montpelier has for entertainment of this nature. The scene was laid at the home of Fred Bancroft of Palm Beach, Fla., where he was entertaining some of his Montpelier friends. Some good dancing occurred. The last end of the affair was under the direction of A. C. Theriault and George Smith. The entertainment will be repeated this evening.

Fifty-Seven Russians Are Returning to Their Homeland Because They Could Not Bring in Wives, Etc.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Fifty-seven Russians are to-day carrying small American flags and they declare the principles of American freedom they gained in this country, back to their homeland, although they voluntarily renounced the American form of government for the soviet. They are not in sympathy with bolshevism, they say, but are returning to Russia because they could not bring their wives, sweethearts or families to America.

They are scheduled to arrive in Halifax to-night, to embark for Hamburg, Germany, thence over land to Sydkau, on the Lithuanian border, and on to soviet Russia.

There is only one woman in the party. She is returning with her husband to her parents in Moscow. She came to America eight years ago to be married and is accompanying her husband back to their home.
