

BOYS OF LEGION, 30,000 STRONG, SWING ALONG NEW ORLEANS STREETS

Splendid Parade Was One of To-day's Features of The American Legion Convention — National Colors and Silken Keys From Every State in Union Fluttered in Breeze

ALVIN OWSLEN OF TEXAS MAY BE COMMANDER

Owslen Was Spokesman of the Commission Which Brought in Report of Pro-German Influence Being Brought to Bear on School Text Books in United States

New Orleans, Oct. 18 (By the Associated Press).—The American Legion, after a brief business session, passed to-day. More than 30,000 men "fell in" for the parade and the brisk autumn air added zest to the event.

Fluttering bravely in the autumn air, borne by the men who carried them to victory four years ago, went the national colors, flanked by the silken keys from Legion posts from every state in the union, from Alaska, Hawaii, the Panama canal zone, Porto Rico, the Philippines Islands, Great Britain, Africa and China.

To-day's business session was slow in getting under way. The announcement by Alvin Owslen of Texas that he would accept the nomination for the national commandery if it were offered him, appeared to be crystallizing the sentiment of the south. Mr. Owslen, a former attorney general of Texas, and chairman for two years of the Americanization commission of the Legion, brought in a report this week, as spokesman of the commission, in which it was declared that a deliberate effort was being made to inject a pro-German account of the World war into the school text books in many parts of America.

The report also contained a declaration in favor of total exclusion of immigrants from the United States, and asserting again the stand of the Legion in opposition to the recognition by this government of soviet Russia.

CASCADE DROPS OUT OF ENDURANCE TEST

Morgan Gelding Withdrawn Because of Stiffness and Fatigue

Burlington, Oct. 18.—The field of horses competing in the annual 300-mile endurance test to determine the type most suitable for army mounts was further reduced at the start of to-day's 60-mile run. Cascade, a Morgan gelding, was withdrawn because of stiffness and fatigue, leaving 18 horses still in the running. John Gorette, riding Major S., came down, also, wearing by the first two days, and Captain Tate of Fort Ethan Allen replaced him as rider.

Thirteen of the 18 horses got away on the third installment of the test promptly at 6:30 this morning, the earliest possible starting time. The others idled out some of the lameness. Of the cavaliers that except down the autumnal roads the Morgans, Fairs and Gladstones, the cross-bred Arab Rustem Bey, Tottle Belle, an Anglo-Arab, and Pathfinder, a thoroughbred, seemed to have the most spirit and to have stood up best under the strain of the test so far.

The run to-day was to St. Albans and return.

MANY SHOTS REMOVED

From Body of Percy Currier Shot While Hunting

Greensboro, Oct. 18.—Forty-two bird shot have been removed from the left arm, one side of the abdomen, and left leg of Percy Currier, accidentally shot Sunday while hunting with William Rollin.

Currier and Rollin were after partridges and had separated, Rollin, seeing some bushes move, fired. Currier, who was behind the bushes, screamed and Rollin dashed forward to find his companion badly wounded.

Rollin carried Currier in his auto to the latter's home and then summoned Dr. S. E. Darling of Hardwick.

The wounds are not deep, but infection is feared.

NO ARREST YET IN HALL-MILLS CASE

Authorities Say There Won't Be Any Till Late Afternoon, If Then

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 18 (By the Associated Press).—No arrests until this afternoon—if then—was the word of authorities investigating the Hall-Mills murder to-day as they resumed their intensive pursuit of clues in the double murder mystery.

Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, was summoned from her home this morning to open her safety deposit vault at the Peoples National bank. What was found in the vault was not disclosed.

Meanwhile detectives were checking up on newly acquired information, some of which was declared to be extremely important. Great secrecy as to its nature was maintained. One angle, however, it was learned necessitated a trip to Lavallette, N. J., the home of Henry Stevens, brother of the victim's widow.

Publication to-day of love notes written by Mrs. Mills to Mr. Hall disclosed that the pair were conscious they were being spied upon.

In one ardent note, in which the choir singer described the "love nest" she would maintain if she were rich, she concluded:

"Darling, I could rave for hours—but I must stop as there are peepers around."

In another she said: "When I said that I would leave a note, I forgot that it may not be wise. But I may take a chance for I cannot have you disappointed, even though it isn't much."

Another, in which she took a dig at another woman she suspected of aspiring for a place in the minister's affections, drew a denial to-day from the husband of the woman in question—Mrs. Addison Clarke.

Mosier said that he was leaving a prominent downtown hotel with a friend last night, three bandits jumped on the running board of his friend's automobile and forced them to drive into a residential section, where about 250 unset diamonds ranging from one to six carats were taken.

Members of the firms said they had not received official notification of the robbery.

CLUB WOMEN AT NORTHFIELD

Interesting Convention of the Third District Yesterday

Northfield, Oct. 18.—The third district of the Vermont Federation of Women's club held its meeting in the Congregational church in Northfield on Tuesday, as guests of the Ladies' Reading circle of Northfield. Mrs. John E. Piddock of Saxtons River, third vice-president, presiding.

Charles A. Plumley, A. M., president of Norwich university, was introduced by Mrs. Piddock, who stated that they were very fortunate indeed in having so prominent and exceedingly well known a citizen to welcome them to Northfield.

Following President Plumley's address of welcome, Mrs. Charles F. Duke, president of the Ladies' Reading circle, extended greetings from that club to the visiting members of the federation in a few well chosen words. Mrs. Walter W. Slack of Springfield, former president, responded. Mrs. Robert E. Smith of White River Junction, past president of the federation, was called upon to say a few words and graciously responded.

Miss Jean Pinney of Montpelier, factory inspector, spoke on the industrial conditions among women in Vermont and discussed prospective legislation to strengthen the laws which already exist.

Mrs. A. A. Smith, chairman of the committee on industrial and social relations, gave an outline of the work for the coming year, and urged the members to stand by any legislative work.

Mrs. Smiley of Montpelier, chairman of the committee on legislation, said she had always urged the different clubs to suggest anything they wished along legislative lines to be introduced in the coming legislature but that in all the eight or ten years she had held this office they had only received requests from the industrial committee, and that was the only one this year.

Following Mrs. Smiley's address it was brought out as the sense of the meeting that the Vermont federation would not urge federal aid or federal bills, being willing to assist and stand back of the congressmen and not desiring paternalism.

The afternoon session opened with a piano solo by Mrs. M. McCreedy and Mrs. Harold Aldrich.

Following this Mrs. C. G. Gifford, department chairman, gave a short address on the importance of the club's studying citizenship and teaching it. She laid particular emphasis upon the need of co-operation with the ex-servicemen and the fact that every woman should vote.

Mrs. Charles P. McKnight, chairman of university extension work, said Professors Flint and Peach of Norwich university and Professor Cady of Middlebury college, had signified their willingness to assist in study courses in the clubs, and that men from other localities had offered to do the same.

Mrs. DeForest gave the Women's clubs a most interesting and useful address, in which she said that all the clubs were working for the same results, and in the same spirit as a mobilized army, ready at any time to take the field.

Mrs. A. H. Smith of Barre spoke of the four departments of the clubs, education, home economics, music and art, and social welfare, and spoke in detail concerning the aims of each department.

Mrs. Bancroft stated that they had had club meetings regularly, and by entertainment had cleared $20, which was to be turned over to the federation.

Mrs. W. R. Harkness of Montpelier stated that the department connected with the club in which she was particularly interested is the one connected with the foreign born of the city, and spoke of the success of the pageant which was staged on Columbus day.

Mrs. F. S. Salisbury of Randolph attended the playground convention in Washington, and brought home inspiration to the club members concerning the purpose to be accomplished along that line.

Mrs. Downs of Williamstown said that one of the most pleasant occasions in their club during the year had been the reception given to the local teachers, and that effort was being made to make the town more attractive for automobile tourists, and equipping a playground for the children.

Mrs. Dutton of South Royalton displayed much interest in "Industry Connected with Vermont Rivers."

Mrs. Herbert F. Davis of Windsor brought a message from the biennial convention of Women's clubs held in Chautauque, N. Y., the last two weeks in June.

Mrs. Clayton of Morrisville spoke of the simplicity, good cheer and spirit of friendliness that pervaded at the New England conference held in Swampscott. The members were the guests of the Lynn club.

Miss Mary Moody of Morrisville, chairman of the education department, spoke of the five girls that they were assisting to receive this year, and the ways and means whereby the schools might be brought up to the standard.

Mrs. O. H. Coolidge, chairman of literature and library extension, endorsed the "book-vagon" and the useful purpose that it would fill in the state of Vermont.

Mrs. Francis E. Whitley of Webster City, La., gave the principal address of the afternoon session. Her subject was "The Conservation of Our Natural Resources." First she spoke of the responsibilities of good citizenship, and the added power given to women to carry on directly the great work of fitting their children to be the right kind of citizens. She said, "We should make this a land fit for heroes to live in, and should leave our land in as good condition as it came to us. Our depleted forests and our neglected waterways are a subject for women to carry on directly the great work of fitting their children to be the right kind of citizens. She said, "We should make this a land fit for heroes to live in, and should leave our land in as good condition as it came to us.
