

WORKING GIRLS LOOK HERE

Read what Mrs. Lucas Writes Concerning Her Troubles, which May be Just Like Yours

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had troubles that all women are apt to have, with pains in my back, weak, tired, nervous feelings and a weak stomach. I had been this way about a year and was unable to work or stand on my feet for any length of time. My husband's aunt told me how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done her and begged me to try it, so I did. All my pains and weakness are gone, my stomach is all right and I do my work at home and also work for Swift's Packing Company. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may publish my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. LULU LUCAS, 719A Vandewater St., St. Louis, Mo.

Again and again one woman tells another of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You who work must keep yourself strong and well. You can't work if you are suffering from such troubles. Mrs. Lucas couldn't. She tried our Vegetable Compound and her letter tells you what it did for her. Give it a fair trial now.

STATUE TO PERSHING.

Will Be Unveiled in San Francisco on Armistice Day.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—On Armistice day, November 11, a heroic statue of General Pershing, picturing him as if watching troops in battle, will be unveiled in the Golden Gate park here.

The statue is a gift to the city of San Francisco by Dr. Morris Herzstein, a local physician. It was done by an old friend of the doctor, Haig Patigan, noted San Francisco sculptor. Eight feet in height, the figure is of gilt bronze and stands on a pedestal of silver granite. The pedestal is five feet high. It presents the general in full uniform, standing squarely and looking forward, both face and figure animated with the expression of alertness and energy.

On the face of the pedestal is the inscription: "In tribute to General Pershing and the victorious armies of the United States and her allies during the World war, 1914-1919. Presented by Dr. Herzstein, 1922." Dr. Herzstein conceived the idea of the statue after he had heard from General Pershing himself the story of the American expeditionary forces and how with his own eyes the fields where that force had won imperishable glory. The doctor toured the battle fields with Representative Julius Kahn of San Francisco immediately after the armistice and spent some time as the guest of General Pershing.

Patigan has worked on the statue for more than two years, and, at the request of the doctor, has kept the plans a secret.

SULTAN MAY ABDICATE

After Being Shorn of Powers By the Grand National Assembly

ALSO MAY IGNORE THAT DECISION

Other Officials of Turkish Government Are Much Incensed

Constantinople, Nov. 4. (By the Associated Press).—The whole Near East was anxious to-day to learn what the sultan was going to do about the unanimous decree of the Grand National assembly sitting at Angora declaring the sultanate in Turkey at an end.

Shorn of his executive and legislative powers by the action of the nationalists assembly yesterday, the sultan is declared by some of the newspapers to be ready to abdicate. But the general opinion is that he will ignore the decision reached at Angora. The public received the announcement from Angora with mixed feelings.

The heir apparent, Abdul Medjid Effendi, cousin of the sultan, an other member of the imperial family conferred last night at the Dombagh palace. They gave particular attention to the decision of the national assembly that hereafter the choice of the caliph is to be that member of the imperial family who is the best educated, the wisest. All of the imperial conferees decided that none of them would accept the throne if stripped of temporal power.

Officials in high palace circles were particularly angry at the resolution in which the grand national assembly declared that the palace, the sublime porte had passed into history, because "through corrupt ignorance for several centuries it provoked numerous ills for the country."

TO HOLD WINTER CAMP.

Dartmouth Outing Club to Be Host for School Boys.

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 3.—Plans for a series of winter camps for boys from nearby New England cities were announced to-day by the Dartmouth college Christian association. The equipment of the Dartmouth Outing club would be utilized in giving the visitors a taste of winter sports in the New Hampshire hills.

The first group is expected early in the second semester. The campers will be selected by social workers, the announcement said, and will be the guests of the association for one week. Each group will number 15 boys.

LACKED STRENGTH AND AMBITION

Tonic Treatment Was Just What Mrs. Silva Needed and It Will Help Others.

Weak, run down, lacking strength, energy and ambition, nervous, sleepless, without appetite, digestion disturbed—these are the symptoms named by a great majority of the people who have been benefited by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These tonic pills correct the condition described and if you have these symptoms you should give them a trial. They are especially good for the debility following the grip and influenza as this statement shows.

"An attack of the grip left me very weak and run down," says Mrs. Emma Silva, of No. 180 Bennington street, East Boston, Mass., "and I did not get my strength back. I was tired, had no ambition, did not have any appetite and at times I was very nervous. I could not stand any noise and did not sleep well. I had headaches that affected my eyes and my complexion was bad. I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and as I had heard from friends that they were good I gave them a trial.

"While I was using the first box I noticed that my appetite was getting better and as I continued the treatment I could see that my strength was increasing. My nerves grew stronger and I began to feel like myself. I know that I owe my recovery to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for I have taken no other medicine."

Rich red blood carries strength and health to every part of the system when the vital fluid is built up by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The new blood brings brightness to the eyes, vigor to the step and color to the cheeks and lips. Buy a sixty-cent box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store and begin the treatment to-day.

Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the helpful booklet, "Building Up the Blood." It costs you nothing—adv.

TRY SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Back-achy or have Bladder trouble.

Too much meat may form uric acid, which excites and overworks the kidneys—to their efforts to filter it from the system. Big meat eaters can flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like they relieve the bowels, removing all the acids, waste and poison, else they may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad they have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delicious effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders—adv.

GERMANY'S ILLS CONSIDERED.

By Aggregation of Expert Financial Minds in Berlin.

Berlin, Nov. 3. (By the Associated Press).—Discussion of the reparations situation and means for remedying Germany's critical financial ills was continued to-day, participated in by the notable aggregation of expert financial minds now gathered in Berlin, coincident with the visit of the allied reparations commission here. Finance Minister Hermes was expected to present to-day setting forth Germany's financial and economic condition in all phases, in relation to the reparations problem.

It has been estimated by German experts, in connection with phases of the proposed remedies which embrace a loan proposition that the amount of the loan Germany would require for her financial and economic stabilization to $500,000,000.

Professor Jeremiah W. Jenks, who is here with the other international financial experts invited by Germany for the study of measures necessary to stabilize the mark, is credited with having worked out a scheme for an Anglo-American loan for which the Reichsbank's one billion gold marks would form the chief security.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Foster and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Young attended a play in Barre last week and also visited friends in Montpelier before returning home.

A large flock of wild geese were seen flying very low over town late one afternoon recently and going north, so it was thought they must have been bewildered.

There was a very pleasing entertainment at the Four Corners schoolhouse Wednesday night of this week, which was enjoyed by a goodly number of parents and friends of the scholars. Much credit is due both the teacher, Mrs. Anderson, and the scholars.

C. A. Badger is having his buildings wired this week to install the Delco lighting system.

W. J. Coates of Barre City was a business visitor in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Foster and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Young attended a play in Barre last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willard closed their home for the winter last Saturday and left to spend the winter with their sons, Richard in Binghamton, N. Y., and Earl in Syracuse, N. Y., and plan to visit friends in other parts of the same state.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vincent and daughter, Hazel, visited relatives in Plainfield Sunday.

C. A. Badger was in Montpelier on Tuesday to help organize the Jersey Breeders' Cattle club for Washington county.

Raymond Gallison and family spent Sunday in Montpelier with the parents of Mr. Gallison, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McKnight.

Almost Convincing.

"Did you consider my performance of 'Hamlet' adequate?" asked the doubtful tragedian.

"Quite," replied one of the seven people in the house. "Do you know, there wasn't the slightest doubt in my mind all the time you were on the stage, that you were supposed to be playing Hamlet?"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

E. HARDWICK CREAMERY WON

Scored Highest in October
Butter Scoring Test,
With 95.73

W. A. VANCOUR
BUTTER-MAKER

There Was a Marked Improvement in Samples Presented

The seventh educational butter scoring of this season was held in the laboratory of the dairy department of the University of Vermont on Friday, Oct. 27. The usual number of samples were entered and barring three or four boxes, evidently made from very poor cream, the quality was very good. There has been a great improvement in workmanship since these scorings were started and almost every creamery sample was well made. None were mottled and nearly all scored perfect on body and salt. However, several were high in moisture or low in fat. Makers should take notice and use more care to properly control the composition.

W. A. Vancour of the Lamoille Valley creamery of East Hardwick received the highest score. The average score in quality was 91.36, on composition 96.40, and the final score averaged 93.04. The analysis showed 82.26 per cent fat, 14.32 per cent water, 2.42 per cent salt and 1 per cent curd.

A partial list of those entries which scored 90 or over follows:

Lamoille creamery, W. A. Vancour, buttermaker, 95.73.

White River Valley creamery, L. S. Flint, buttermaker, 94.53.

Gold Brook creamery, J. D. Santamore, buttermaker, 94.40.

Milton creamery, G. L. Holden, buttermaker, 93.33.

Mad River Valley creamery, William A. O'Brien, buttermaker, 93.00.

Grand Isle creamery, L. J. Garrand, buttermaker, 92.13.

Orwell creamery, C. S. Munger, buttermaker, 91.67.

Marshfield creamery, C. M. Lilley, buttermaker, 91.47.

Darling creamery, B. F. Warner, buttermaker, 91.20.

Announcement of November Butter Scoring.

The November educational butter scoring will be held at Morrill hall, Burlington, on Tuesday, Nov. 21, in connection with the scoring to be conducted by the Vermont Dairy Plant Operators and Managers' association as a part of the program of their annual meeting, the dates of which are Nov. 21 and 22. The short course conference of dairy plant workers and managers offered by the dairy department of the university is also to be held at this time, namely Nov. 21-23. Complete programs of these two meetings will be mailed to you soon. Plan to come, you can't afford to stay away.

Butter for this scoring should be churned on Nov. 16, 17 or 18 and must be delivered to Morrill hall not later than Monday, Nov. 20. Address all entries in care of Prof. H. B. Ellenberger.

EAST MONTPELIER

The whist party at the hall last Saturday night brought out players for nine tables.

Mrs. J. R. Young attended the meeting of the Daughters of the Revolution in Barre last week and also visited friends in Montpelier before returning home.

A large flock of wild geese were seen flying very low over town late one afternoon recently and going north, so it was thought they must have been bewildered.

There was a very pleasing entertainment at the Four Corners schoolhouse Wednesday night of this week, which was enjoyed by a goodly number of parents and friends of the scholars. Much credit is due both the teacher, Mrs. Anderson, and the scholars.

C. A. Badger is having his buildings wired this week to install the Delco lighting system.

W. J. Coates of Barre City was a business visitor in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Foster and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Young attended a play in Barre last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willard closed their home for the winter last Saturday and left to spend the winter with their sons, Richard in Binghamton, N. Y., and Earl in Syracuse, N. Y., and plan to visit friends in other parts of the same state.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vincent and daughter, Hazel, visited relatives in Plainfield Sunday.

C. A. Badger was in Montpelier on Tuesday to help organize the Jersey Breeders' Cattle club for Washington county.

Raymond Gallison and family spent Sunday in Montpelier with the parents of Mr. Gallison, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McKnight.

Almost Convincing.

"Did you consider my performance of 'Hamlet' adequate?" asked the doubtful tragedian.

"Quite," replied one of the seven people in the house. "Do you know, there wasn't the slightest doubt in my mind all the time you were on the stage, that you were supposed to be playing Hamlet?"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.

Father—But, my dear Dorothy, your husband already owes me a lot of money. I don't think he should expect me to lend him more.

Daughter—Well, father, he has to get it somehow, and he has a certain sentiment about keeping his creditors in the family.—Boston Transcript.

Family Sentiment.