OUR FORESTS.

We take the following from the Charleston World of the 20th, and reproduce it with pleasure, because it suggests a substitute for many uses of wood which will become indispensable in the course of time not very far distant.

As regards the substitute aluminum, it is pleasant to know that in Western North Carolina there exists in exhaustless supply the very richest source of the production of that metal.

Yesterday we took occasion to speak of an editorial which had appeared in the Asheville Citizen and which called attention to the wasteful manner in which the timber lands of North Carolina were already being destroyed.

It appears that just about the same time a writer in the Boston Evening Transcript touched upon the same subject. This writer remarks that if aluminum should ever replace wood in the uses of construction, the effect of the revolution upon our trees and woods would be startling.

Even if the aluminum does not ever replace wood, it might be well before we lose our woods, to have our attention directed to the condition of the sections which have so suffered through their negligence.

THE FLORIDA INQUIRY.

The discussion that took place in the senate on Thursday on the resolution offered by Mr. Chandler calling on the attorney general for information relating to the assassination of Deputy Marshal Saunders, will have the effect of drawing the attention of the whole country to all the incidents of the transaction, and will also awaken the Southern people, if it does not also arouse the North, to the real purposes of the inquiry, which seem to be nothing less than occasion to enact such a force bill as will place Florida as well as other States when occasion is found practically under the direct control of the general government.

Do you want a tender, sweet and juicy steak or roast, call at MARTIN'S MARKET, 50 S. Main St.

And for this purpose, all inquiry into incidental circumstances as might possibly prove that the personal conduct of the murdered deputy might not have led to his death without connection with his official position, or whether the conduct of government officials might not be responsible for an angry public sentiment which might palliate, if not justify acts of violence, open or secret, were persistently opposed by the republican senators.

Senator Pasco was right when he asked that inquiry should be extended into the conduct of the government officials. They had led the way in the breaking of laws. If not convicted of doing so, at least their example must plead extenuation in those who might follow it.

We republish again Marshal Mizell's letter of instruction. Its authenticity is admitted. Let the people see what sort of a marshal the President of the United States approves, and what sort of an officer the republican senate indorses and defends.

OFFICE OF J. R. MIZELL, UNITED STATES MARSHAL FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF FLORIDA. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 5, 1889.

Sir: You will at once confer with Mr. Kelly and make out a list of fifty or sixty names of true and tried republicans from your county registration list for jurors in the United States court, and forward same to Hon. P. Walter, clerk United States court, and it is necessary to have them at once, as you can see. Please acknowledge this. I am, yours truly, JOHN R. MIZELL, United States Marshal.

The new extradition treaty just concluded between Secretary Blaine, and Sir Julian Pauncefote, British minister at Washington disposes of many vexatious questions which have long been the occasion of irritation, and almost of enmity. The extraditable offences are as many as are consistent with the different construction of the criminal laws in the two countries, and are as liberally amplified as international comity could ask.

THE GREENSBORO PATRIOT SAYS: Mr. Green, who came from Canada some years ago, and bought West Green, near this city, but returned to Canada after a short residence, has again returned here and is engaged in buying and cutting immense quantities of hickory timber in the southern part of the county.

That's the way our timber goes; in this case, it is going too far. If it is to be cut, why not work it up at home? Why not make Greensboro the centre of manufacture, build up a great spoke and handle business there, give employment to home skill and industry, keep money at home and draw it in from abroad? Why be the "hever of wood" for Canada? Some years ago Greensboro had some reputation in that branch of business. If such business is profitable to Canadians with eight hundred miles of transportation added to the cost of the timber, surely it could be profitable if worked up near where it is procured, with only a nominal cost of transportation. The business at Greensboro cannot have ceased from failure of supplies; for the Patriot says Mr. Green "is buying and cutting immense quantities of hickory timber" in Guilford county.

Gratifying to All. The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are absolutely gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.
