

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Pleasure comes through toil and not by self-indulgence and indolence. When one gets to love work, his life is a happy one.—Ruskin.

THIS IS PICKLING TIME.

Do not want to miss putting up various pickles, pickles and preserves which will give variety to our menus this winter.

Pickles.—Put a peck of green tomatoes, three green peppers, two small cabbages, four onions and six large cucumbers through a meat chopper and sprinkle with one cup of salt, let stand overnight, drain and cover with three quarts of vinegar and four pounds of sugar. Cook thirty minutes.

West Bend Marmalade.—Take equal parts of crab apple and ripe tomatoes, cook together as marmalade, adding the desired amount of sugar. The stewed apple and tomato are put through a sieve, before the sugar is added. The combination of flavor is particularly good and unusual.

Sweet Cucumber Pickles.—Slice finger-sized cucumbers a half-inch thick, cover three quarts with a brine of one cup of salt and three quarts of water. Pour the brine boiling hot over the cucumbers. Let stand three days, pour off, reheat and cover. Repeat the fifth and seventh days. Then take half vinegar and water and along the size of walnut, pour boiling hot over the pickles and let stand three days. Then put into a jar a layer of the pickles, sprinkle with a layer of chopped onion and green peppers, a few raisins. Cover with boiling hot vinegar and brown sugar in equal quantities. Place a bag of mixed spices, cinnamon and cloves in the jar.

Green Tomato Pickles.—Slice one peck of green tomatoes and six quarts of onions, cover with one cupful of salt and let stand twenty-four hours. Drain and cook in two quarts of vinegar, two pounds of brown sugar, one ounce of cloves (whole), two ounces of stick cinnamon. When cooked until tender but not broken set aside to cool. When cool add one cup of fresh horseradish, either grated or in small pieces and two tablespoonsful of mustard. Place in a large jar covered with a plate and weight.

PUBLIC ROADS

DRAG PREPARES GOOD ROADS

Length and Position of Hitch, and Position of Driver Are of Much Importance.

(By H. L. THOMPSON, Oklahoma Experiment Station, Stillwater.)

The successful handling of the drag on the road depends on two principles. These are the length and position of the hitch, and the position of the driver on the drag.

For ordinary work the clevis should be fastened far enough on the chain toward the ditch end of the blade to force the unloaded drag to follow the team at about an angle of 45 degrees. This will cause the earth to move smoothly along the face of the drag and will make the draft light on the team, provided the driver rides in the line of draft. If small weeds are to be cut, or if the furrow of earth in the ditch is to be moved, the hitch should be attached rather close on the chain to the ditch end of the drag. This will cause the drag to move nearly ditch-end foremost. The driver should put his weight on the extreme forward end of the front blade, which will make the drag swing back to the proper angle and make the blade plow.

For such work the team should be driven slowly and carefully to keep the drag from dipping forward. If a wet spot is met, the driver should shift his weight backward so as not to dig too deeply. If the blade becomes clogged with straw or weeds it can be made to clean itself usually if the driver shifts his weight as far as possible from the ditch end of the blade. If there is a low place or a mudhole to be filled the drag can be made to drop its load of earth if the driver shifts his weight quickly from the ditch end.

The distance from the drag at which the team is hitched affects the depth of cutting. A long hitch causes the blade to cut deeper and is used often when a rough road is to be smoothed up. Shortening the chain seems to lift the furrow blade from the ground and makes lighter cutting when doing light smoothing work.

For a new road with bumps and holes, the three-blade steel drag is excellent, as it carries considerable earth and will not drop into the ruts or holes as badly as a two-blade drag. However, it usually requires four horses. The team should ride the whole distance, going up one wheel track and back the other. It is a mistake to try to improve too wide a strip at one time. The best work can be done by the drag when the soil is moist, but not sticky, so the earth will move freely along the face of the blades. If the roadway is very badly rutted it may be well to drag it when the earth is wet. This is particularly true just before a spell of cold weather in winter when it is possible to have a road way to freeze smooth.

Clay hills after considerable dragging frequently become too high in the center. This can be corrected by dragging the earth away from the center once and toward the center twice. The road drag is only good in clay or similar soils, as its effectiveness depends on the smearing action which it has and by means of which it can make a water-tight coat. The sand road will be injured by crowning it toward the center and dragging because the sand road needs all the moisture it can hold and a crown will drain this moisture away.

Follow Test Directions.

One reason why people do not get better results from testing is that they do not follow directions. They try to make a short cut to save time, but sacrifice thereby accuracy in the test.

Call for Dairy Cattle.

The call for dairy cattle is more money making than the demand for beef cattle.

INDIAN PRINCESS GOES OVERSEAS AS Y. M. C. A. WORKER

Princess Galilohi, Descended From Cherokee Chieftain, Joins Canteen Forces in France.

A real, sure-enough Indian princess, is going to France to help entertain the American soldiers and sailors until the last one of them has been returned to the United States.

She is Princess Galilohi, great granddaughter of the famous King Cooweeskowie, chief of the Cherokees, and her mission in France will be in connection with the canteen work of the Y. M. C. A. Her Americanized name is Miss Anne Ross and for two years or more she has appeared as a lecturer, singer, dancer and exponent of the tribal life of her chosen people. She was chosen to pose for the Zolnay statue of Sequoia, an ancestor of the Cherokee nation and inventor of the tribal alphabet. This statue stands in the Hall of Fame at Washington, D. C.

The princess will have a rather diversified program. She will sing Indian songs and dance Indian dances for the American soldiers and sailors and between times will dispense the dozens of different articles that are part of the stock of every Y. M. C. A. canteen. She is highly educated and has several times acted as a mediator between her people and the white residents of Oklahoma, her native state.

FRENCH HONOR Y. M. C. A. EXECUTIVE

Dr. John P. Mott Is Made Chevalier of Legion of Honor—Extensive Work of "Y" Among Poilus.

DR. JOHN R. MOTT

General Secretary of National War Work Council, Y. M. C. A., Who Has Been Accorded High Honors by French Government.

As a mark of recognition and appreciation of the work done for the French soldiers by the American Y. M. C. A. forces abroad, the French government has conferred the signal honor of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor upon General Secretary John R. Mott, of the National War Work Council of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A.

Telegraphic advices from Washington conveyed the news of the distinction granted Dr. Mott, whose home is in New York City. The telegram, signed by Edouard deBilly, Deputy High Commissioner, was as follows: "I take pleasure in notifying you that the French government has conferred upon you the title of Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur. Please accept my heartiest congratulations."

The National War Work Council under Dr. Mott's supervision, in addition to its labors among the American Expeditionary Forces, has maintained more than 1,500 fevers du soldats, as the Red Triangle huts are known by the French poilus. Up to the month of October, 1918, close to eight million dollars had been expended in "Y" work among the French and other allied soldiers served by the butts.

CORN DROPS IN JANUARY

The price of corn during January dropped on the Chicago market fifteen cents a bushel, in spite of the fact that hog prices were stabilized for February at the same level as for the three previous months, and that the price of beef also remained at the previous high level. With meat prices remaining high it seems corn should recover. The spring months should show the usual condition of higher prices for corn in North Carolina than in the West. The price of corn on the Chicago market for No. 3 White Corn was $1.48 for the week ending January 6th, and $1.32 to $1.35 for the week ending January 25th. The corresponding prices for North Carolina towns were $1.92 for the first week and $1.79 per bushel for the last week in January. Six North Carolina counties report corn selling for $1.50 and the same number of counties at $2.00 per bushel, the average for twenty counties being $1.74 1-4.
