The Jordan, like the Mississippi, has bluffs on the one side and flats on the other. Here and there a sycamore waist deep in December as I waded through it, but in the months of April and May the snows on Mount Lebanon thaw and flow down into the valley, and then the Jordan overflows its banks. Then it is wide, deep, raging and impetuous. At this season of the sand armed men coming down to cross it is because it is not safe to go around when the Lord tells us to go ahead.
