CLARK-LILLISTON

Now in the Hands of the Jury and no Verdict Reached

Features of the Report Made by the Grand Jury-Several Charters by the State-Murderer Respited by Governor Glenn-Case Against Hospital Attendants Charged With the Death of Patient Nall Postponed Until Next Court.

Messenger Bureau,

Raleigh, N. C., January 17.

In the Wake county Superior court, the case of Lilliston and Clark, for the alleged murder of George Smith during fair week went to the jury at 5 o'clock. The arguments were warm and lucidly presented by counsel, and closed by the solicitor. Judge George W. Ward, for one hour charged the jury and offered one of the clearest and most cogent statements in the history of Wake county court annals. Each phase passed under his analysis and the public verdict places Judge Ward far beyond a normal reckoning. which was at first prejudicial. The jury in the Lilliston-Clark case retired jury for award. to the hotel at 11 o'clock and this makes it impossible to forecast their verdict.

Governor Glenn at the earnest request of attorneys for Nathaniel Mitchell of Bertie county, having been sentenced to be hanged on the 22nd for the murder of his wife and afterwards burning her body, has granted an additional respite to February 13th. This is in order to give opportunity for the condemned man's counsel to lay further testimony before the governor. Defendant's counsel pleads with the governor that he will appoint a committee of three experts to look into the case, and to report as to Mitchell's sanity. Governor Glenn said that while he feels sure the negro pas possessed of sufficient intelli- ed and fought to the death. It is said conciliation about their attitude. The gence to know right from wrong, he Charters were issued today to the Scotland Neck Iron Works, incorporated at Scotland Neck, L. Albertzette, Sr., and Junior and S. J. Stern, are incorporators, capital stock is $5,000 paid in. Fontaine and others, M. S. Jones at Bethel Hill.

There has been paid from the Raleigh postoffice $183,764.80 within the last three months for the rural free delivery branch of the service. The indications are, when considered with the number of applications for such service and over such routes that it is safe to say that by the end of the present year such payments will have reached the $250,000 mark.

Judge Charles Cook of Warren county, but more recently a resident of Muskogee, Indian teritory and a most successful practitioner of law in that section is spending a few days with old Raleigh friends.

Governor Glenn will leave tomorrow, accompanied by Miss Rebekah Glenn for Petersburg, Va., where he will deliver one of his characteristic addresses on temperance before the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of that city. Miss Glenn will go to Washington where she will be joined by her father, after he has paid a visit to the Governor of Virginia in Richmond. Governor Glenn expects to be back in his office by next Wednesday.

The three closing speeches in the cases of Lilliston and Clark, charged with the murder of Charles G. Smith of Petersburg, Va., were made this morning. The evidence so far abduced seems to place the burden on the defendant Lilliston, and nearly all onlookers are of the opinion that Clark was not directly a party to the alleged murder.

By reason of the absence of counsel, occasioned by sickness, the cases against J. C. King, L. R. High, Jack Peele and W. F. Durham, for the alleged killing of Thomas N. Nall, an inmate of the Hospital for the insane, Rae furniture store, and has just last September, has been continued and has been placed for trial the first | Maine street. week of the March term of Wake county superior court. It will be reinstitution and was arrested later by these four men, attendants at the place, who were afterwards charged with his murder.

When the grand jury made a report there was some consternation occasioned by the purport of the matter therein contained. This report embraces the irregularities of certain magistrates in the county who have been more or less irregular in the work of their offices. The jury states that while the majority have done their duty, there are at the same time some who have been guilty of violations which will be heard at the next term of court. The sensational feature of the report was in connection with the county home. In regard to this matter the grand jury caustically

When the scale committee took up the resolutions submitted to the committee it was found that with hardly an exception, the resolutions included demands for increase in wages. Most of the resolutions which were presented by district, sub-district and local unions, favor demanding 10 to 15 per cent increase. Indications are that the demand to be formulated by the scale committee will be placed at a figure between the two. There is little doubt that the committee also will demand that the operators incorporate in any contract signed a clause prohibiting the employment of boys in and around the mines.
