MEMBERS OF HOUSE ARRESTED

Hauled Before the Bar to Make up a Quorum

Minority Leader Williams' Tactics Responsible for the Order by Speaker Cannon-Occurrences in the Past When Representatives Have Been Put Under Arrest.

Considerable irritation was exhibited by some of the Representatives who. through Minority Leader Williams' filibuster in the Statehood matter, pleaded the Representatives. were arrested by the assistant ser-! geants-at-arms and presented at the was imperative. The "arrested" membar of the House.

The resentful ones complained querulously of their arrest to the Speaker. House instantly. Uncle Joe's eyes, however, did not become bedewed with sympathy over their lamentations. He is old-fashioned enough to be willing to do some work for his pay, perquisites, and prerogatives. He didn't advise the comto the captain of the Capitol watch, but he brought his gavel down right you!" was the pleasantly derisive feel it incumbent upon her to dance clare that the attending maid who in the middle of the sad stories of These fellows haven't been here ong enough to remember Buck (11gore," was Mr. Cannon's private comment on the complaints of some of these brought before the bar of the House. "Buck not only didn't want his way in."

He referred to the occassion, ten or a dozeen years ago when Buck Kilgore the Texas Representative, kicked to finders the main door leading to the House floor. At that time Speaker Reed had in operation his simple but great scheme of just lockin' em in to maintain a quorum.

Whenever a sufficient number Representatives to constitute a quorum filtered in, Czar Tom, with a nod, directed the doorkeepers to close and lock the doors, and the entreaties and prayers of members who wanted to get off the floor for any purpose whatsoever were alike unavailing. Mr. Reed needed them there for voting purposes, and there they staved. The main door to the floor was thus locked and bolted one afternoon when the brawny Kilgore, who'd been delayed in arriv ing at the House, swung along.

Buck pushed at the door and found it unyielding. "Hey, wat's come off here?" Kilgore demanded of the doorkeeper on duty. "Why can't I get in? House said Buck to the doorkeeper. "Cai't open anydoor, sir-Speaker" ders," said the doorkeeper. "That so?" said Kilgore, and he promptly kicked the swinging leathercovered wooden doors to kindling wood, entering the House like a roaring, ramping lion. Most speakers would have sought the punishment of a Representative for pulling off a trick like that. That, however, was the last thing the bigminded Reed thought of. The audacity of Kilgore's act appealed to Reed's imagination, and it was all right for the Texan.

"Speaker's got a quorum," replied the doorkeeper. "Well, lemme in and I'll add to it,"

THE CASE OF CY SULLOWAY. The most picturesque of the recent arrests was that in which one of the House pages brought Cy Sulloway to the bar of the House.

When a call for a quorum was made the chief page delegated one of the tiniest of his youngsters to go forth and bring Mr. Sulloway. Cy Sulloway is the most remarkable piece of vertical workmanship in the House of Rephow high Cy is, but his elongatedness can't be much inferior to that of the late Chang, the Chinese Giant.

The mite of a page, a boy something over three feet in stature, prowled around the committee rooms for quite Cy, who, with an amiable breeze blow-Around each other two or three times and the feet resting on a table reading

"Mr. Sulloway," the three-foot page solemnly squeaked, "you're under atrest and I am to conduct you to the bar of the House.

The monolithic Sulloway unraveled his legs, grinned, stretched his arms, and rose to his vast height.

the main door of the House.

hold of the up and down giant's hand to emphasize the fact that he had captured his man. Thus the threefoot kid led the towering Cy down the main ailse, amid the laughter of the House. Arrived at the clerk's desk the high Cy suddenly reached down and victory and things. After reporting taking the boy in his arms, lifted him up and deposited him squarely on the Speaker's desk, saying to the amused Cannon, "I give you my captor," and up!" the rest was complete.

YANKED AWAY FROM BALL GAME The most irritating incident of the arresting business was when some twenty-two members of the Lower House were incontineatly yanked away from the Washington baseball grounds right at the critical point in the ilt was a very beautful day, and the me was a fine one. The Representatives, all of them most resolute fans, were scandalously interested in the contest, and several of them were rooting right out loud. They hadn't attended the game in a body, but were scattered all over the grand stand in the boxes.

were up above in the President's baseball box-they attended most of the and sheer, shriveling originality, they games while the Washington club was never expect to hear the observations playing at home, Mrs Longworth was, of Belford of Colorado as made upon keeping score, and keeping it in gen- that occasion duplicated,-Washington uine baseball reporter's style-a couple Post.

of her baseball score cards were sold for a tidy figure at a recent festival

The Washington club hal the St. Louis outfit as opponents. The score was 3 to 0 in favor of the Nationals at the end of the sixth inning. When the seventh inning befilled the sacks and Stone, the slugge:, was next man up for St. Louis team. It was a fine looking situation and, with all the rest, the Representatives leaned forward eagerly to see how the there was a sudden chugging of automobiles pulling up in the space are forefold. back of the grand stand, and the appeared in the stand and picked cut their men with unerring accuracy.

"Well, let us see this inning out," "Nope, that couldn't be done." said plet: the assistant sergeant-at-arms. Call bers must get into the throbbing au-luck!" broke out all over the stand where the captured Representatives doubting apology thereby prove this much to say. The fairles of ill omen were, but it didn't help a bit. They all-but-immortal folk-lore of marriage, announce that no funeral must be met were corralled, and that's all there was even though, as daughters of the new- on the way, and they fortell dire reto it. They got up and filed out. The est of the centuries, they decline whol- sults if the steeple clock should perplaining ones to tell their troubles grand stand crowd had got on to the ly to be bound by it? To be sure, an chance strike while the ceremony is situation, and "Back to school for elder and unmarried sister no longer going on. The fairies of promise de-DISLIKD BEING DRAGGD 2 arrest and required instantly at the threat of spinsterhood, nor has come Mrs., will be first married, and bar of the House this disturbed Rep- that venerable prophecy its one- that she who gets the ring, deep-bured resentative fumed and stormed around. time weight - about "Thrice a v)cda.ietiuvlvytfidffisl;htsogk wwawi,. But he knew that the summons was bridesmaid, never a bride"-but, for in the great cake, will join for life the not to be denied and he started to the rest, hymeneal superstitions are man of her heart's own choice before dress, while the assistant sergeant-at- practically as abundant and as revered the year is out. to stay off the floor, but he kicked arms waited for him in the hall out- as ever they were.

> that the Representative was greatly and blissful planning, the well-observ- upon a time" regarded as no more preoccupied with his wrath while he ed dictates of Dan Cupid are all but and no less than pretty scapegoats, was dressing in his cool, darkened endless. First must be considered whose very presence should attract room, for when he finally yanked the month. To begin with, Lent, you'll the evil eye, and so divert from the York and nearly all of the southern open the door and announced to the barred; for "Married in Lentt, you'li bridal pair the ill omens in the air states are expected to fall in line in assistant sergeant-at-arms that he live to repent," and the average girl around. The original best man, too, was ready his captor's face expressed will decide such a question without was far from the purely ornamental was far from the purely ornamental around. The original best man, too, around the Bryan procession." This, perhaps, by the revolt of democrats throughout the may be regarded as a true portrayal larges M. Company of the state against the dictatorship, the most acute astonishment. strating astride down the hotel hall unlucky. Perhaps this belief goes his debut when weddings were strenand not noticing his captor's express- back to Ovid's time, for the Latin uous affairs; when the groom, more ion of countenance. "Got a wagon poet laid a ban upon the month as likely than not, carried off his chosen tative, turning around.

you'd make a better appearance on the the fact that a May wedding slighted Magazine. floor of the House if-er-you had 'em Venus and Juno, whise months were, himself in the streaming light of the for no other reason than that in it hall, and then he made two bounds Mary Queen of Scots began her own of it to regain his room.

room the Representative had neglected to don so important an item of his apparel as his trousers.

tell an incident of what befell an ': rrested" member of the House who was one of that body's most famous characters many years ago. RED- HEADED ROOSTER OF ROCK

This famous character was Belford, of Colorado, the "red-headed rooster of the Rockies." Belford, a big heart-rough decidely illiterate man, was perhaps the most openly and persistently convivial individual who ever occupied a seat in the Hous of Representatives. Almost unbelievable stories of his progress around the board are still current among the fogies down here, and when the redheaded rooster of the Rockies felt in a convivial mood he regarded the Capitol as just as good a place to in- moon; dulge his mood as any other.

One day while the horses were racing at the old and long-gone Ivy City big business in the House, opposition demanding the presence of a quorum. smooth and serene your life will flow; Belford was known to be out at the Ivy City track, for he had been full toil and hardship for you begin; of a "good thing" upon his arrival resentatives. Nobody knows just at the House that forenoon. Speaker fortune your wedding ring has kissed. Carlisle sent an assistant sergeant atcarriage to nail Belford.

The scout found Belford swaying happily in a box in the stand. It was this that the seers at Cupid's shrine just before the fifth race, and Belford have tried hard to say nice things of aspersion on the bathing suit in com- for the material interests of the state. a bit before he came upon the languid was hilariously confident, that his pretty nearly all the units that go to good thing was going to come home build up the year ("playing safe," ing upon him from the open windows alone. He had $50 on the cinch at would be the term used of their craft more discreet than woman's street public buildings and grounds, eleclooking on the terrace, was cocked $50 to 1, and was prepared to make by the betting fraternity.) back in a chair, with his legs wrapped the root of his life when the horses struck the stretch.

But the scout told Belford that he'd have to get into the carriage right for the happy little woman in the away. Belford, however, was stub- case. If she is wise, she will add to born. He was going to see that good her inward rejoicings, as well as sat- cut out embroidery waist and mark erway scheme and the other river and thing of his win. House or no House, isfy the Fates, by doing herself a The assistant sergeant-at-arms finally good part of the work upon her trouscajoled the red-headed rooster out of seau. And by all means should she his box in the stand, telling him that help mix the bridal-cake; she may he could watch the finish of the race not spoil it, and she certainly will "Lead the way, mister," said he to from the lawn below, and then hus- advance her chances for that joy of the boy, and the page led him to the waiting carriarge. Bel- life, which (of course!) she deserves. in eyelet embroidery, or a piece of position on these committees, postal Carbon county delegates was formed ford agreed to that, and, as the horses | Everyone knows it is bad luck to Entering the door, the boy, with a! were already lining up, the scout was put on the entire wedding-outfit before fine sense of the dramatic, grabbed willing to permit the Colorado mem- the final dressing for the ceremony itber to wait and see the finish of his self, and almost every bride knows > yee-ow! and wow-ee! every minute matter not to be settled merely by or so during the carriage's rapid progress into the city, and when he reach- in the hymeneal law and prophets? ed the Capitol he was flaming with at the bar of the House, he leaped into the House restaurant and yelled: "Wine! Baskets of it! everybody line

Those days were different from these. Everybody lined up, Representaxives, employes, and all, Belford kept them lined up for hours, celebrating the triumph of his good thing. All of the wine was cleaned out and more had to be hurriedly sent for. Belford's expenditure for the wine item on the strength of his win had just totalled up a matter of $850, when an employof the House, who had been out at the races, remaining till the finish of the card, strolled in and informed the red-headed rooster of the Rockies that his good thing had been disqualified for interfering on the backstratch and had been placed last.

Most of those who were present on that occassion are now old men, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth but they say that for utter picturesqueness, force, clutch, inventiveness,

THE MONTH OF MARRIAGES

is ready of proof. Which being the "Happy the birde the sun shines on." fact, it becomes an of-course that so And when she begins to don those of the ceremonial tenets of an older too. day. There is that old warning cou-

The irritated phrase, "dog gone the she is to be Mrs. Wells; but do not out! both of them in that very laughing. Of the march to the church there is shout that greeted the Representatives barefoot at the younger maiden's catches the bride's boquet throw. bridal, so to ward off the hideous among the guests when Miss has be-

CUPID FIXES THE MONTH. respectively, April and June Per- JUST HOW HOLE-Y The Representative took a look at haps the fifth month is really unlucky; much-married and none-too-fortunate In his haste and in the dimness of his career. The truth, though its origin is to consider the peek-aboo waist. obscurd, comes down to this, that those four weeks of lavishly beautiful widowed you'll be before your prime. One-time employes of the Capitol stage settings are yet looked upon as-

Not one of the months but it has its own prediction. Thus runs the best known of the formulae:

Married in January's hoar and time, wodowed you'll be before pourt prime; Married in Febr'ys sleety weather. life you'll tread in tune together.

Married when March winds shrill and roar, your home will lie on a foreign shore; Married 'neath April's changeful skies, a checkered path before you lies:

Married when bees o'er May-blooms flit, strangers around your board will Married in queen-rose month of June, life will be one long honey-

Married as July's flower-banks blaze bitter-sweet memories in after days; Married in August's heat and drowse race track near Washington there was lover and friend in your chosen spouse Married in gold September's glow, Married when leaves in October thin,

Married in veils of November, mist Married in days of December cheer, arms out to the Ivy City track in a Love's star shines brighter from year

It may be amusingly evident from

WORK FOR THE BRIDE-TO-BE. Every single day of the preparation that the color of her gown for that Belford let out a huge, trumphant most momentous of all moments is a what is becoming. What is written

Married in gray, you will go far away; Married in black, you will wish yourself back. Married in brown, you will live out

Married in red, you will wish yourself dead; Married in pearl, you will live in a whirl; Married in green, ashamed to be Married in vellow, ashamed of your fellow:

Married in blue, he will always be true; Married in pink, your spirits will sink: Married in white, you have chosen aright. Then, arises the question of the day of the week, where the jingle is perhaps widest known of all:

Monday for health, Tuesday for wealth, Wednesday the best day of all: Thursday for lossees. Friday for crosses, Saturday no luck at all.

Half of the acts of life are guided is is safe predicting that at least the and guarded by folk-lore. Present- she of the "high-contracting parties" day proclaimed skepticism to the con- will, first thing of all, fly to the wingan the St. Louis bunch immediately trary notwithstanding, this statement dow for a look at the weather; for vastly important a matter as love pretty things that represent the busy should be of all things richest in its labors of happy hours, what then? literature of prediction and omens. Well, she will put on her right shoe thing was going to work out. Then The "Who?" and the "When?" and the before her left; that points to success "How?" of courtship and marriage all in life. She will use no pins; they chairman, is watching with keen interbetoken spite. She will take good care Such changes, however, are to the that the Only-man-in-all-the-world assistant sergeant-at-arms suddenly outward seeming only. Love alters doesn't see her till she comes at last not with the passing centuries, nor to be joined to him for life; for there's has its lenghty creed lost materially a saying about the ill luck of that,

Mr. Bridegroom (of whom scant notice is taken by the originators of all Change the name and not the letter, this mass of sage advice) here comes Change for worse and not for better. in for a single warning: He is not Miss Brown may ignore it to become to stand at the junction of a crosstomobiles and be conveyed to the Mrs. Bevers and Miss White may laugh roads or besides a parred gate on at it while telling her intimates that this wedding-morn. If he does, look

THE BEST MAN OF OLD-TIME Those same bridesmaids, it is re There is every reason to suppose | For the days of engaged impatience levant to remark, were in the "once hestitation, even at the cost of waiting creature into which he has degener- of the situation, only Ohio has not 'Come on," said the Representative, forty days longer. May, too, is held ated today. He seems to have made that in which fell the celebrations one by force or craft, and made his "What's that?" said the Represen- in honor of the great dead. Perhaps peace with the "old folks" afterward Plutarch laid his wiser finger on the if he could. In those days the best "Er-don't you think, sir that root of the evil, in calling attention to man had to be just that.-Sundap

MAY PEEK-A-BOOBE

When Congress has disposed of the beef scandals it may be called upon

The Rev. Father George M. A. Schoerner, of Rochester, Pa., who in- monopoly, to run the excesses of either | the ticket of the Lincoln party. Guifey terrupted the sermon at St. Cecelia's socialism or benevolent despotism. now says the convention may do as Roman Catholic Church last Sunda; They have implicit confidence in the it pleases, but that he is still opto order two women in peek-a-boo self-poise, the courage, the sincerity, waists from the building, has created the honesty and the ability of Mr. a precedent. He told his parishoners Bryan. No man in our political histo go home and take off those "bathing suits," adding: "This is a church, icism and come out of it with such innot a bathing house."

The attention of purity organi- | ination as already practically assured | zations is thus pointedly directed to and upon his election as little less a threatening evil, and legislation may certain. Much will depend upon the Guffey and Emery is personal and of presently be demanded to prescribe result of congressional elections this the "lingerie" waists, which shall ad- party a majority in the house, a task ford tantalizing views of the shoulders the legislative leaders of that party. and he has repeately said so to dele-

of the wearer. work hosiery, which began with the stances where false steps would be merest pin-pricks and has now come both easy and costly, should the reto a finish no thicker than a face veil publicans carry the house by a narrow pect the storm of protest that would the matter of our national modesty margin, their task would be only less arouse in his party because of his oppohas had some fearful shocks in wo- troublesome." man's wear. Mere man might have PLEASED WITH COMMITTEE ASworn open-work socks and peek-aboo shirts till the crack of doom, and no one would have credited him with much pleased with his assignment to more than an ingenious desire to keep membership on the committee on com- convention and force the nomination cool. But the vision of pink plump- merce, as it is the committee that of a democrat for governor, they feel ness through these ride-and-seek ar- deals with the rivers and harbor ap- that it would be disasterous to the rangements which meet you on all propriations. He had, he said, voluntypes of the female form divine is "a tarily given up the position he held horse of a different color." versant with present-day fashions he was to be succeeded by Senator Overwould have realized that, as a matter | man. He said the present arrangeof fact, he was casting an undeserved ment he regarded as most fortunate paring it with the peek-a-boo. The The state is now represented by Senabathing dress of today is infinitely tor Overman on the committees of garb. Of silk or mohair, it exposes tions, military claims and forest resonly the throat. It reaches below the ervations, and by himself on postofknee, the black stockings are without fices, agriculture, inter-oceanic canals has its own time-honored instructions; an aperture, and the arms are cov- and commerce. Senator Overman is in ered half way quite to the elbow. a position to give attention to the for-the difference. LARGE CHUNKS CUT OUT. to accommodate the design and the ef- himself as a member of the commerce fect is luminous. A large leaf of warm- committee. "We can look after," said satin skin looms up as the center of a matters, claims, pensions, the great inrose. If it is a conventional pattern, terests of agriculture, and the south's you have flesh formed in squares and interest in the canal." angles. More often-and by far the most piquant-it is just holes; holes elations. At first the excursions into the peek. a-boo were as mild as the first openwork stockings. In the summer of 1909 it was confined to a modest little yoke gave such fleeting glimpses of the in- soldier. terior decoration that it was hailed as a positive inspiration. Our descent has said: been rapid: By 1902 we had adopted which left in a question no flight. The ed to unaccustomed depths and apologized for themselves with large blue we had arrived at "panels," with is- old man, thin-limbed, stoop-shoulderpresent year of grace we have "all- his wife sadly: overs"-an occasional dot on the opento the shoulder.

NOW THE OPENWORK CORSET. But this is not all! Some genius doubtless to keep pace with the times has introduced the open-work corset. We now only await shredded lingerie before the fashions of the Fiji Islands belle are accurately followed. Law or the brown-tailed moth alone can save the day-and us!-New York World.

MR. SIMMONS A BRYAN MAN

Official Head of Old North State Democracy Authorizes Statement of Hiis Belief That Conditions Now Point to the Wisdom of Nominating the Former Candidate-Mr, Simmons Pleased With Committee Appointments.

Senator Simmons, the official head of the democracy in the Old North State by reason of his position as state est the rising tide that promises to make William Jennings Bryan the democratic nominee for president in 1908. In fact, Mr. Simmons today declared himself in favor of Bryan and like Col. Watterson, entertains the hope." The North Carolina senator! looked with favor upon the candidacy of Judge Parker when the campaign authorized a statement of his belief | zens of the commonwealth are rousthat conditions now point to the wisdem of nominating the Nebrasban. He says that Bryan and Aycock would be about the right thing, and he believes usually beaten. The outery over the that Mr. Bryan and North Carolina's former chief executive would make a combination that would appeal powerfully to the country

A political writer recently said: 'With the democratic national convention two years off, Mr. Bryan, wrapped in contemplation of Old World wonders, has stamped his party more effectively than he did in 1896 and 1900. Democracy now duds a truth in the old song 'Absence Makes the Heart Grow Fonder.' Democrats of half a dozen states, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio and South Dakota, have formally proclaimed him their choice for the presidency in 1908. Wisconsin, Minnesota and New formally declared for Mr. Bryan. The democrats of the Buckeye state may be depended upon to do so, however,

HAVE CONFIDENCE IN BRYAN. Representative Charles A. Towne, to follow the Bryan banner, receatly said: "The spontaneity and sincerity for publication. of the demand for Mr. Bryan's nomination in 1908 are only the natural se-United States want progress with safetory has ever run the gauntlet of critcreased prestige. I look upon his nom-They would have the responsibility

SIGNMENT. on the committee on postoffices and Set this demure figure of a girl in est reserve bill, while the inland wat harbor works, including the canal on the Cape Fear from Wilmington to The linen is cut out in large chunks | Fayetteville, can be looked after by MONUMENT WILL BE BUILT. Senator Overman brought up in the! that have increased in dimensions senate today and secured the passage through the seasons; holes that give of the bill appropriating $30,000 for you kaleidoscopic and embarrassing the erection of a monument on King's says visions. You gasp at impending rev- Mountain battlefield. - Washington Special to Charlotte Observer.

> A Wife's Reproach. Admiral Capps, in an address to a temperance society, told how drink had

In the course of the sad story he "Sometimes, after a debauch, the and in favor of a fusion ticket with graphic openwork border to the yoke man would be repentantly humble. He Lewis Emery Jr., at its head.

year 1904 found us with Vs that stray. But, alas, the years taught her the were G. W. McNeil, Attorney James barrenness of all such promises. "And one night, when he was getbows on the lingerie beneath. By 1905 ting to be an old man-a prematurely

"'You're a clever woman, Jenny; a work to save the situation. The sleeves courageous, active, good woman. You city and county, showing the spread have risen from elbow length half way should have married a better man than of the revolt. William J. Brennen. I am, dear.'

"She looked at him, and, thinking of what he once had been, she answered in a quiet voice: "'I did, James."

News from San Francisco is rather scarce, but it is understood the burnt city is struggling to get back on the claim Col. Guffey intended to deliver map.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

OUTLOOK BLUE FOR THE BOSSE

Slum Kings of Pennsylvania Ma be Dethroned

Citizens are Aroused and are Lining Up Against Leaders of the Gang. Indignation at Penrose-Guffy Not Able to Control the Democratic Party.

The anti-boss tide is rising in Pennsylvania and promises to drown Penrose and Guffey. The outlook for while the very "liveliest and largest slum politicians and vote bucksters is blue and the gloom deepens as reports come from different sections came on two years ago, but today he of the keystone state. The real citiin themselves, and when this happens in the game of politics the trickster is bronze doors for the new state capitol is significant of the general public indignation against Pennace, Penny-A PORTRAYAL OF THE SITUATION | packer and others. When the doors were received from the foundry it was seen that in the border, composel of the heads of distinguished Pennsylvanians there bad been moulded the heads of Penrose, Quay and Pennypacker. The demand is now made that these faces shall be removed from the doors and in the information is given out that the offensive heads will be replaced with bronze rosettes. Guffey, so-called democratic leader and friend of the republican macnine,

American today says: "Angered in the superlative degree by the revolt of democrats through-James M. Guffey, democratic state boss admitted yesterday in Pittsburg that he was 'entirely out of the fight.' Those democrats, including a score of leaders and workers in his own Allegheny county, who have had the temerity to who left the republican party in 1896 oppose Guffey, were roundly abused by the millonaire oil producer, whose expressed the sentiments of numerous | words of condemnation, according to democrats in Washington, when he a dispatch from Pittsburg, were too hot is in the run. The Philadelphia North

"Boss" Guffey at first announced that the democratic convention should not quences of the political history of the indorse Emery, the Lincoln candidate. past ten years. The people of the but that it must nominate a straightout democratic ticket. That would ty and reform with justice. They do play into the hands of the Penrose not propose, in correcting the evils of | machine by withholding support from posed to Emery on personal grounds.

GUFFEY BACKS DOWN. The Philadelphia Ledger today says: "Col. Guffey, the democratic state leader, has taken a positive position that he will not accept ex-Senator Emery as the democratic candidate for governor. The feeling between many years standing. Guffey has no the number and size of the holes in fall. Should they give the democratic hestitation in declaring that his onposition to Emery's nomination by the mit the breezes and incidentally af- of the utmost difficulty will confront democratic convention's is personal, gations of Lincoln party men who ask-Since the hue and cry over open without the power, and, under circum- ed him to be for Emery for governor.

"When Col. Guffey declared for a democrat for governor he did not exsition to Emery. He and his friends now realize that the storm has grown to such dimensions as tr threaten his Senator Simmons says he is very leadership. While his followers are confident that he can control the state party. They are, therefore, seeking for a loophole by which the colonel may recede from his position without Had Father Schoerner been con- grounds, upon the condition that he yielding so far as to consent to Emery's nomonation."

The Philadelphia Inquirer today

LINING UP FOR THE ENEMY. "Most interesting in the developments over the state yesterday in the gubernatorial contest in the democratic party was the desertion of more democrats from Guffey's standard to that of Emery in Allegheny county, William T. Creasy was indorsed for governor by Columbia county: Mc-Kean, Emery's home county, instructed its democratic delegate for its fellow citizen; Crawford was for Emery; Lycoming passed a vote of confidence in the Lincolnite; Chester left its delegates free to act as would best help the party. A combination of Bucks, ly tinted flesh is charmingly outlined Senator Simmons, "by virtue of our Northampton, Lehigh, Schuylkill and or Emery. The convention is two weeks off. The fusion sentiment is growing stronger daffy, and the convention may be taken out of Guffey's

A dispatch from Pittsburg last night

"The revolt against the leadership of Col. James M. Guffey is becoming more marked daily. The insurgent democrats of Allegheny county declare that they have him defeated in the fight for delegates and they which outlined a pretty girl's neck and once caused the downfall of a brave | will announce their list tomorrow or next day. Today a dozen or more of noted democratic workers declared themselves aligned against the colonel would promise his wife to do better. Among those who declared for Emery E. O'Donnell, Joseph B. Howley, former democratic chairman: Frank B. Baloy, Alderman Festus M. King, Attorney Charles B. Payne, William Dillands of modesty between, and in the ed, with red-rimmed eyes-he said to lon, John B. Doyle, Frank Thompson, John D. Hughes and Thomas O'Brien. These men represent all sections of the the chief lightenant of the Guffey forces, declares the fight is not being made for Emery so much as it is against Col. Guffey. The insurgents admit this and say that it is purely a fight for independence and against a one-man-power state convention.

They object to being delivered as they them."-Washington Star.