

Tar Heels Are Confident Of Tech Game Tomorrow

FINAL DRILLS HAD ON EVE OF CLASH

Carolina Determined To Play Their Best In Homecoming Contest

Chapel Hill, Oct. 21.—The Carolina football squad was determined and confident as it approached this afternoon's last practice for Saturday's homecoming game with Georgia Tech which will get under way in Kenan Stadium at 2:30 o'clock.

The Tar Heels have been working afternoons at offense and nights at defense, and this afternoon Coach Collins expects to apply the final polish to Carolina's reigned backfields and to give out the last pointers and set the defense lines for the heavy attack Tech's Tornado is expected to lay down.

Henry Burnett at quarter Bill Croom at fullback and Norman McCaskey at halfback have been looking mighty good at their new posts this week. The old first string backfield of Woolen, Phipps, Daniel and Chandler has been running harder and clicking better.

The several slightly injured men had rounded into shape today, and Carolina is set and fully expected to show Georgia Tech a high-powered offense on a dry field like the great defense they showed Georgia on a wet field last week.

The Carolina line is also expected to boast even more strength. Harry Hodges and Bill Collins, a pair of 200-pound tackles were both injured last week, but will be ready for Tech. The Tar Heels are ready and set. They gave Tech's national champs a great fight in 1928, they upset the Tornado in 1929, and they have tied the Georgians these last two years. And now they are confident they're going to beat the 1932 Tornado.

The game will match many stars and produce many brilliant plays. It is being regarded as a real "natural" and is expected to draw one of the year's largest crowds in the State. Georgia "Bo" Shepard of the Graduate Manager's office today predicted a crowd of between 18,000 and 20,000 on the basis of the heavy advance sale.

Meanwhile student and alumni interest is fast reaching a new peak. A great pep meeting is to be held in Memorial Hall tonight. The coaches and players will be out. President Graham, Judge W. J. Brodgen of Durham and Judge E. E. Rives and Norman Boren of Greensboro will speak. The band will play, and Head Cheerleader Ernest Hunt will lead the yell.

GAMECOCKS DEFEAT CLEMSON'S TIGERS

South Carolina Wins Annual Fair Game With Clemson, 14 to 0

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 21 (AP)—A sensational "break" gave South Carolina's Gamecocks one touchdown and they made another in a sparkling aerial attack to defeat their ancient foe the Clemson Tigers, 14 to 0 yesterday in the thirtieth playing of the annual State Fair classic.

Nearly 15,000 fans saw the colorful fray, starting traditionally at high noon under a bright autumn sun. The victory was South Carolina's tenth since the gridiron feud between the two schools began. Clemson has won 19 times and the 1915 game ended in a deadlock.

The Gamecocks marked up their counters in the third and fourth periods of the game was a stubborn duel in the first half. South Carolina twice threatening to score but lacking the drive to put the ball over.

CAROLINA, STATE GAME IS LOOMING

Leads Field In Interest In Contests In Home Field Next Week

Raleigh, Oct. 21.—(AP)—With the annual battle between the Tar Heels of the University and the Wolfpack of State College headlining the football menu for next week, North Carolina collegiate, freshman, junior college and prep teams will take part in 18 contests.

The State-Carolina game will be staged at Chapel Hill Saturday, October 29, and will be the only big game in that section of the State that day, with Davidson playing host at Charlotte to Clemson. Duke will invade Knoxville to meet Tennessee's Vols and Wake Forest goes to Newark, Del., to meet the University of Delaware.

In smaller school circles the program for next week is ushered in Thursday, when Campbell College meets the Parris Island Marines at the post in South Carolina. On Friday the freshman teams of State and Carolina will battle at Chapel Hill in their annual contest and Wake Forest's frosh will invade the lair of the Blue Imps of Duke. Carlele school from South Carolina will meet Mount Pleasant collegiate Institute at Mount Pleasant and Belmont Abbey will go to Augusta, Ga., to face Richmond Academy.

In Little Six circles on Saturday Guilford will play at Catawba, High Point will go to Due West, S. C., to meet Erskine. Lenior-Rhine will be at Elon and Appalachian goes to

BLUE DEVILS MEET TENNESSEE ELEVEN

Will Go To Knoxville To Play Conference Favorite For 1932

Durham, Oct. 21.—The Blue Devils of Duke, meeting Wake Forest this afternoon, will hit the road next week for perhaps the toughest game of the season, the clash in Knoxville with Tennessee's highflying Vols, at present favored to win the 1932 southern conference championship.

Not the least interested spectator at the Blue Devil's game with the Deacons today was Major Robert R. Neyland, coach of the Tennessee team. His presence to personally scout the Blue Devils shows the respect in which he has always regarded teams coached by his old enemy, Wallace Wade.

Duke will be rated as very much the underdog next week, but the Blue Devils don't think that way themselves. Put out of the southern conference race by a powerful Auburn team that got the breaks, the Duke boys are planning to do something like that themselves.

Today's game started a series of tough ones for the Blue Devils. Before the contest the Blue Devils were faced with four straight foes who at present are undefeated, the Deacons, Tennessee, Kentucky and N. C. State, Kentucky will come to Durham on November 5, and State will meet in Raleigh the following week.

Most Valuable

Jimmy Foxx, top Philadelphia first baseman, and Chuck Klein, below, Philadelphia "Nationals" outfielder, have been named the most valuable players to their teams in the American and National leagues, respectively.

Two Stars of Carolina Game

Here are two of the big boys in the Carolina line which is expected to repulse the Georgia Tech invasion in Kenan Stadium Saturday, when the Yellow Jackets and Tar Heels clash in a game that, according to predictions, will break the deadlock of the last two years. They are George Barclay (left) guard, a former Kiski star, and Frank Smith, tackle, who starred at Lexington high. Both boys played a great game at Athens last Saturday when the Tar Heels held the Georgia Bulldogs to a 6-6 tie.

AUBURN HOPES FOR WIN OVER TULANE

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 21 (AP)—Hopes of Auburn football supporters for a victory over Tulane Saturday are growing rapidly as the time for the big test approaches.

A month ago the most ardent Auburn enthusiast would have laughed at such a suggestion. Even a fortnight ago Alabama Poly fans gave little thought to a triumph. But today, with the contest less than 24 hours away, Plainsmen boosters believe their team has an excellent chance.

SING SING STAR IS IN PRO RANKS

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—"Jimbo" (Powerhouse) Marino went into the world from dear old Sing Sing today, and the name of its great football hero rang high through the cloistered halls of the ancient institution on the banks of the placid Hudson.

There may be a depression, work may be scarce, but not for "Jimbo" Marino. The swarthy fullback of the Green, and White plunged today into the game of life.

BULLDOGS PLAYING IN OXFORD CONTEST

Annual Clash of Two Ancient Rivals Run Off In Oxford Today

A light signal drill yesterday afternoon topped off the week's work for Bulldogs and this afternoon the contest is in Oxford meeting its annual test for the 12th year of their rivalry. During that time they have played 18 games with Henderson winning seven and Oxford five and one was a scoreless tie in 1923.

In the matter of years the winners have been the same. Oxford has won for five years and Henderson for five the teams not meeting in 1925. The winner in this afternoon's contest will have a margin in years won although if Henderson loses she will still have one game margin in the number of games won.

Injured players of the Bulldog squad have improved enough to take part this afternoon with the exception of Coward, who has a bad ankle, may be able to see action in a game resort today.

"Ripper" Rogers, star halfback of the team, was suffering from a severe cold yesterday that kept him out for a part of the day but he was able to get out for a while. He was in his usual position this afternoon.

Bill Scoggins is still in bad shape from a leg injury that he sustained in the first game of the season and yesterday's signal drill he attended with Watkins in the signal corps.

Many Students Go
A good number of the local high school students have gone to Oxford this afternoon for the game and a number of the citizen save are expected to attend for a Oxford-Henderson game never lacks a keen interest in the rivalry between the schools.
