

Girl Scout Camp Opens For Season

About 65 Young People and Attendants At Balance Rock for Two Weeks

Some 65 girls and their instructors and supervisors entered Camp Balance Rock this afternoon for a stay of two weeks. Most of the girls are from Henderson, but a few are from nearby towns and counties.

Elaborate preparations have been made for the girls during their stay, and they will be given intensive courses in Girl Scout activities, as well as provided with abundant recreational opportunities.

The group was sufficient to occupy all the available space for sleeping quarters at the camp site. It is understood the applications for admission were so numerous that some had to be turned down because of a lack of accommodations.

Every girl admitted to the camp had to furnish a certificate as to her health before being accepted, and all of them are in the best of health, so far as is known at this time.

A number of ladies are in charge of the girls, and life guards have been provided to supervise swimming lessons and bathing periods that will be part of the daily routine.

The girls entered camp with the greatest enthusiasm, in anticipation of a delightful stay of two weeks. The camp is located just over the Vance county line in Franklin county, and is about 12 miles distant from Henderson.

More Rain Falls As Aid To Crops After A Hot Day

Another heavy thunderstorm broke into this section shortly before midnight Sunday and brought additional rain to that which fell in the rain, wind and hail storm of last Friday evening. There was no hail in last night's storm, so far as has been learned. Both furnished abundant moisture to crops that were burning in the drought of more than a week's duration, and are believed to have saved tobacco and corn crops. Cotton was not suffering so much as either of the other two.

Reports today indicated that last night's storm covered a wide area and was greatly beneficial to crops. Skies were overcast much of the day today, indicating more rain, and also preventing a burning sun from doing damage to crops after the heavy rainfall of the night.

And THE WORLD WAR 20 YEARS AGO TODAY is just one element in TODAY IS THE DAY, which daily casts a brilliant searchlight on the most interesting scenes in the great historical parade of the past. Tobacco Opening Dates Confirmed

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration announced today that while some opening dates in practically all tobacco belts have been advanced, this does not necessarily mean a change in the closing dates in any belt. During the last few days several inquiries have come to the tobacco section concerning the opening dates of the markets, it was stated. As previously announced, the opening dates will be as follows:

Georgia and Florida, August 1; South Carolina and the Border Belt,

August 9; Eastern North Carolina, August 23; the Middle Belt, September 11; the Old Belt, September 25; the Virginia Dark Belt, November 7.

It has been agreed that some buyers will remain on the markets in each section until the crop can be sold in an orderly manner. This will mean that during the first one or two weeks sales will be on a restricted basis in some belts.

"In view of this, there is no occasion for the growers in any section to harvest green tobacco," J. B. Hutson, chief of the tobacco section said.

Tubercular Clinic Here Is Started

Nearly 100 in All Register for Examinations at Parker's Sanatorium

A tuberculosis clinic to last two weeks started today at the Scott Parker Sanatorium with Dr. W. P. Thornton, of the State Sanatorium in charge. The first week is for white people and the second for colored, but there are so few colored applicants and so many whites that the white people will be taken far along into the second week. It was said by Dr. Z. F. Mitchell, the health officer, who has been in charge of arrangements.

Dr. Mitchell said today that nearly 100 had been assigned appointments in all, including the only about one dozen colored applicants. He said applications were still being received, and that appointments would be given as long as there was room for them to be examined.

PLAN EXAMINATION ON POSTMASTERSHIP

Congressman Cooley's Idea Is To Handle Appointment That Way

A Civil Service examination to determine eligibles for appointment as postmaster in Henderson will probably be called for by Congressman Harold D. Cooley, it was learned today. There are half a dozen to a dozen men and women who have been mentioned in connection with the appointment. Postmaster C. P. Wright's four-year term as postmaster expires next December.

In a letter a few days ago to a Henderson man, Mr. Cooley said:

"I am sure that you know that all applicants for the postmastership will be required to take a competitive examination, which will be given sometime in the future."

The letter did not indicate the time, nor even the probable time, for the examination, but the custom in such procedure is for the three highest in the examination to be certified by the civil service commission as a list from which the appointment will be made. One man has estimated that as many as 20 may take the examination when it is ordered.

HENDERSON NEGRO YOUTH JOINS NAVY

Eight young Negro men were enlisted in the United States Navy at the navy recruiting station at Raleigh, for duty with the messman branch of the naval service during July, according to advices received from that office. These eight men comprise the quota of mess attendants allowed the Raleigh recruiting district for the month.

Those enlisted included Theodore S. Jackson, of Henderson. The August quota has again been set at eight men, to be selected from qualified applicants who apply at any navy recruiting station in the states of North and South Carolina. Only men of the Negro race are eligible for enlistment as mess attendants.

He is a graduate of Davidson College in the class of 1930, and has taught at Troy high school in Montgomery county. He is a Presbyterian.

Miss Beulah Thomas has been selected to fill the seventh grade vacancy at Central school created by the failure of Miss Virde Noble to return for another year. She is from Cameron, in Moore county, and is a graduate of the East Carolina Teachers College at Greenville, and of George Peabody College for teachers at Nashville. She has taught the past four years at Broadway and before that at Castle Hayne, near Wilmington.
