A LITTLE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM
O little town of Bethlehem, How still we see thee lie; Above thy deep and dreamless sleep The silent stars go by;
Yet in thy dark streets shineth The everlasting Light;
The hopes and fears of all the years Are met in thee tonight.

O morning stars, together Proclaim the holy birth, And praises sing to od the King, And peace to men on earth;
Where charity stands watching And faith holds wide the door, The dark night wakes, the glory breaks,
And Christmas comes once more.

How silently, how silently, The wondrous gift is given;
So God imparts to human hearts The blessings of His heaven.
No ear may hear his coming,
But in this world of sin, Where meekness will receive him, him
The dear Christ enters in.

Crowder To Give Christmas Party

R. B. Crowder is again to be host this Christmas at exercises at his country home, "Nine Oaks," at Williamsboro, and has set the date for the program as tomorrow night—Christmas Eve. Last year the exercises were held Christmas Eve night, which was Sunday, and were attended by a large number of people of the community and some invited guests.
He has invited a host of friends and neighbors in the Williamsboro section. Eight o'clock in the evening is the time for the even, which is coming to be an annual affair with Mr.
Crowder.

Christmas Is Provided For Poor Of City

Legion, Scouts, Salvation Army and Private Effort Do
Big Job

Christmas joys have been provided for many poor families in the city by various agencies that are active today, and numerous homes will find that Santa Claus has not forgotten them as the result of this interest on the part of generous-hearted people.

The American Legion Auxiliary has arranged baskets and toys for the home of a number of veterans of the World War, while the Salvation Army is also taking care of a large number of worthy families. Boy Scouts have cooperated in repairing many toys that were brought in for distribution among needy children, and these will make glad the hearts of little tots who may not have been remembered otherwise.

Some 45 or more families have been taken care of by individuals and groups as the result of Christmas Opportunities offered by the Salvation Army through the Daily Dispatch.

All told, indications are that the needy will be provided for at this Christmas in a manner wholly in keeping with other seasons, if not in greater measure.

Salvation Army's Christmas Events Tuesday at Hall

The annual Christmas tree for the poor children of the city and section will be held by the Salvation Army Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Army's hall at South Henderson, Adjutant Joseph Willett, in charge here, announced today.

A Christmas program will be given, after which bags of candy, nuts fruit and toys will be distributed to the children. It is expected several hundred children will participate and be the recipients of the gifts to be passed out.

CARD OF THANKS.
We wish by this method to express our thanks and appreciation to the many friends who helped to make it possible for our daughter, Barbara Ann, to win one of the beautiful dolls in the contest at Parker Drug Store.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC HAD BY CHURCHES

Programs and Services Appropriate to Season Given On Sunday

Church-goers thronged houses of worship in the city Sunday for the Christmas programs, all a Christmas nature and all attracting large congregations.

Christmas anthems and sermons featured the morning services. In the evening the services were given over to programs of music and pantomime and pageantry, and nearly all the churches had something of that nature, and all programs given were largely attended by members and visitors.

The usual services were held at Holy Innocents Episcopal church, while at the First Presbyterian a play was given, with appropriate music, in the evening. At the Methodist Protestant church a Christmas program was offered in the late afternoon, at 5 o'clock. Adult, Junior and children's choirs cooperated in the music service at the First Baptist church in the evening, and at the First Methodist a pageant was given by the children, augmented by the young people's choir and the high school orchestra.
Christmas services and sermons featured at the First Christian church in the evening.

ST. PAUL'S CATHOLIC.
Reverend Eugene P. Carroll, pastor, Mass daily at 8:15 a. m.
High Mass at 12 o'clock midnight Monday, Christmas Eve, will be celebrated by the Reverend Patrick N.
Gallagher of the Catholic Orphanage, Raleigh, N. C., and the music will be the Mass of St. Aloysius composed by John Bonner. The sermon will be preached by Father Carroll. All are invited to attend all services.

Mrs. Brinkley Ill.
Mrs. L. C. Brinkley is critically ill at her home on Harrell street.

On Christmas Morn

In the quiet gray dawn, just before the world awakens to the joys of the Christmas Season . . . just as the morning star sparkles its brightest in the Eastern skies our thoughts turn to our friends and customers whom it has been a pleasure to serve and it is our sincere wish that you have a Joyous Yuletide Season and a Bountiful New Year.

OUTDOOR LIGHTING IS ELABORATE HERE

Christmas Residential Deco- rations Seem on Biggest Scale Ever

Outdoor lighted Christmas trees and Christmas colors adorn more homes in the residential sections of Henderson this year in perhaps a greater profusion of brilliance than ever before.

The movement is again sponsored by the Henderson Garden Club, and prizes are offered for the best designs. The lighting arrangements will be inspected and judged by a committee representing that club and starting at 8 o'clock Christmas evening. All residents are asked to have their lights burning at that time.

A great many new and novel designs have made their appearance this Christmas. To undertake to name them would be to overlook worthy displays, but many have found great delight in driving about over the city in the evening to see the artistic designs and lightings.

To add to all this, the shopping district is brilliantly illuminated in many vari-colored arrangements in the most elaborate manner in the history of the city.

Stores Are Busy As Shoppers Get Purchases Behind

Stores and shops were busy here all day today as last-minute shoppers darted hither and thither in an effort to gather up odds and ends in readiness for the big Christmas holiday tomorrow. Nearly every place of business was thronged, and merchants were having a full day of it.

At the post office there was also an all-day rush as final mailings were carried through, and the force on duty worked at fever heat to handle the volume of business, which it did.

AUTO TAG SALE IS QUICKENING PACE

Sale of automobile tags was quickened today at the branch office of the Carolina Motor Club, in charge of Miss Nell Jordan. There was a speeding up last week, and all day today there was a throng on hand applying for their new 1935 State tags. The real rush is expected to get under way after the Christmas holiday tomorrow. The office will be closed tomorrow.

It's Christmas Again

Again we come to the gayest, happiest season of the year. The day when good will and friendliness reign supreme, when friends and neighbors everywhere forget the cares and toils of the workaday life and rejoice in the happiness and pleasures of others.

It is at this bright season of the year that we too catch the spirit of Christmas in our business, and wish for every man, woman and child in our community all of the joys and happiness which this day affords.

May everything good come your way throughout the year 1935, and health, happiness and prosperity abound aplenty with you and yours through every day of the New Year.
