When A Girl Marries

By ANN LISLE,

(Continued)

Chapter CCCXIL There was one moment of bravado as Daisy Condon stood facing me across the bright spaces of my room. Then she crumpled and stood with bowed head, abject and pitiful. And in the paim of the hand she held toward me my mearl ring.

ward me my pearl ring.

So she was a thief after all, Kate's little sister was a thief. I'd been right all along. There was my ring.

My beautiful ring—— How I hated

Standing in the thick, damp silence I couldn't break, that was the one outstanding thought in the turmoil outstanding thought in the turmon of my mind.

"I hate my ring. I hate my ring. See what it's done. See what it's made of Kate's little sister."

I found myself staring at the lustrous pearl, unable to speak, unable to do anything at the moment or to decide what I must presently do The tecide what I must presently do, The decide what I must presently do. The little enamel clock on my dressing table ticked loudly. The sound of Hedwig's footsteps as she shuffled up the hall rasped on my ears like the scrape of a giant emery board. Then I heard some one clearing her throat gratingly and Daisy's voice creaked out:

"Won't you ever say anything? Please—please gend for the police and get it over with. I can stand that. What I can't stand is this—facing you and knowing what I am and what you think of me. I, don't deserve any mercy, but show me some anyway. Send for the police and get it over."

"I'm not going to send for the po-'I'm not going to send for the po-

My voice was low. It seemed to come from far away. I wondered for a second if I'd actually said this or if I'd only thought it. Then I heard Daisy repeating in an incredheard Daisy repeating in an incredulous shrick:

"You're not going to send for the police? You're not going— But you must! Don't you see you must? I'm a thief. I have to be sent to prison."

"Don't say that." I gasped, sinking down in the nearest chair and covering my face with a shaking hand "Don't say that. Kate's sister—"

"Leave Kate out of this," Daisy broke in passionately. "She doesn't belong in it. I'm glad she's—gone and doesn't have to bear the shame of being my sister. This is between you and me and—the police. Won't you send for them now and end

send for them now and end

this?"

As she spoke, Daisy came and laid the ring on the orchid negligee I had flung over the arm of my chair. Then she backed away with a quick jerk and fluttened herseelf against the wall and her voice jumped out in little staccato bits.

"It didn't dram I would ever he a Hitle starcato bits.

"I didn't dream I would ever be a thief. But I am. I hated you. And I wanted the ring. So I took it—the way you were taking Carl. I guess that's how I reasoned. Well, it's over now. I don't blame you for not wainting to touch me and take the ring out of my hand. Or for not spenking to me. I'll be glad to go to person, so you needn't mind putting speaking to me. I'll be gad to go to prison, so you needn't mind putting me there. It won't be as bad as lying awake nights and thinking about it and waking up and going through the days. I put a package there on the couch when I first came in. It's the dress you gave me. Please oh, please—send for the police and tell them you have the thief—"
"I'll do nothing of the kind!" My voice sounded amazingly brusque as I broke in vigorously.

"You won't do that and get it over? I can't bear any more!" Daisy crumpled back against the wall and covered her face with shaking hands. Sobs shook her. She cowered away when I lad my hands on her shoulders.

when I lad my hands on her shoulders.

"You're not a thief, Daisy," I said, feeling my way slowly. "You stopped being a thief the minute you walked in here and returned the ring. A thief wouldn't do that. No one had discovered you. The real You simply couldn't do the thing the other You had tried to do. You and I are the only ones who know about that other You. And we can keep our secret."

Daisy's arms dropped to her side. She stood staring at me incredulously for a moment, and then she haid her fingers timely on a fold of my sleeve.

mum of sunspots.

Gem cutting has been done for mearly 500 years.

With a lork. (Unlike the pie crust, which is pricked to allow the escape of steam, here it is done for appearance only).

ELITE

TONIGHT LAST TIMES

WINSTON CHURCHILL'S Powerful Romance

THE INSIDE OF THE CUP

romance that grips of whole life and turns it inside out.

G. GILLETTE OPTICIAN

20 P. O. ARCADE

IT IS BEST that your Fur Garments are thoroughly cleaned before stored away—Thereby removing any for-eign matter that may be harmful to them.

CLEANERS AND DYERS

Prizewinner!

FRANCIS CHAMBERLAIN FRANCIS CHAMBERIAIN
361 South Avenue wins the Scattered Letters prize of $1 this week. Francis had his names in ahead of all the others.
The hidden names were:
MAY ALLISON
PEARL WHITE
MAHLON HAMILTON
LOWELL SHERMAN
Francis' check will so to him to

Francis' check will go to him to night.
There'll be another Scattered Let-ters Game on this page next Satur-WATCH FOR IT!

?The Question Mark?

S. S. S .- I don't know why Harry Carey gave up the stage for the screen. He was extremely popular as an actor in the "legitimate." Of course, he is mighty popular on the screen. His best picture is "Marked Men."

EDWARD S. PHILIAPS—Ann Forest portrayed the wife in "The Furnace." Milton Sills was the husband. Thank you for your appreciation, HESTER—Marion Fairfex and Beatrice are not sisters. Marion Fair-fax is a well-known scenario writer and a producer. Beatrice is the lady who gives advice to the love-

F. B. K.—Your question, "What male star has the greatest number of good-looking girls play opposite him, and in what picture?" is a difficult one. Frank Mayo seems to have a pretty soft time of it in "The Fighting Lover" in which Gertrude Olmstead, Jacqueline Logan, Jean Calhoun and Ruth Ashby played opposite him. At that, Erich Von Stroheim runs him a close second in "Foolish Wives" with Miss du Pont, Maud George, Mae Busch and Malveen Polo.

I. G. T.—Priscilla Dean played "Silly Moll" in "Outside the Law," and in "Reputation" played three roles, Fay McMillan, Laura Figlan and Pauline Stevens. Her next picture will be "Conflict."

F. McG.—Eddie Polo does all the stunts himself in "Do or Die." He has never had anyone double for him in any of his pictures.

Film Folk Buy Farm For Orphan Children

Headed by Irene Rich, Goldwyn actress, a little clique of film persons, Including Will Rogers, star; Charles Kenyon, playwright; Rupert Hughes, famous novelist; Clarence Badger, director; and others, are negotiating for the purchase of a large tract of farm hand near Burbank, California, upon which it is proposed to rear orphan children of Los Angeles. According to present plans, 400 kiddles will be cared for, and it is hoped to enlarge the establishment as soon as its success is assured.

enlarge the establishment as soon as its success is assured.

The plan was conceived and partly worked out by Miss Rich before she interested her friends of the Goldwyn colony. She believes that the farm is the best place for children up to the age of 14 or 15, and in a small way she has already carried the proposed experiment successfully, having four young proteges on farms near Los Angeles. It is her belief that orphans, above all, need wholesome work in the open air and a chance to grow up into some branch of productive business.

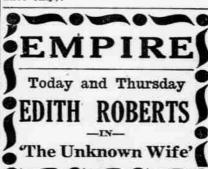

The farm will be managed by capable and khally men and women who will act as instructors, and the film able and kindly men and women who will act as instructors, and the film folk themselves will watch proceedings keenly to make sure that none of the evils of many such institutions obtain in their establishment. The children will be taught all branches of agriculture, theoretical and practical. Special provisions for their amusement, such as a swimming pool, gymnasium, baseball ground and tennis courts will be made on the farm. ais courts will be made on the farm.

Try This Over On Your Gas Stove

A Dozen Biscuits.

smoothness and browning and prick with a fork. (Unlike the pie crust,

MEATH HATTER

Genuine Panamas in the rough.
Direct from South America—made into your own style.
Ladies and Men's Old Panamas
Bleached Natural Process, No
Acids Used.

By A Hatter

Scattered Letters Did It Ever Happen To YOU?

CARLYLE BLACKWELL Who Steps From Screen to Stage

This is a story of what is NOT going to happen!

Did you ever see the picture of a oung and beautiful girl, or ditto man, and think he or she was simply ideal?
Did you ever MEET the original of that picture and have your hopes crashed to earth, disillusioned, disrupted and generally played the devil

Did you ever have it happen to YOU? Yes, you probably have—so have all of us. The photographer does I'm gettin wonderful things to plain faces that make 'em look million-dollar physogs. It ain't Nature that's wonderful, THIS time—it's the picture the stage, taker:

only—will grace the boards at Poll's theater beginning tomorrow.

Now, here's where the first line of the story comes in—he's even BETTER looking than his pictures! This is in confidence, girls, so don't breathe a word of it, but he is simply HAND-SOME near to!

You probably saw him in his last

SOME near to!
You probably saw him in his last movie, "The Restless Sex," in which he played the unfortunate husband opposite Marion Davies. Wasn't he soulful looking? My word, a man with HIS looks ought to get by ANY-WHERE! And you ought to hear his voice! Mellifluent and soft and resonent and—oh, finish it yourself, I'm getting maudlin!
But, all jokes aside, Mr. Blackwell is coming and everybody should see just how a regular movie actor acts on the stage.

However, cutting back to our story carlyle Blackwell—the one and 'em on the screen!

How To Write A Photoplay

"The length of your synopsis should be from two thousand five hundred to five thousand words. The first page should contain the cast of characters and a brief, complete synopsis of the play, about one hundred words long. State inder it the locale of your story. This page is your selling argument to the scenario itself, and the first page. The latter must start interestingly; the former show conclusively that a lot of action has occurred.

Jones, "can always remember anything he wants to take home by applied any thing he wants to take home by applied up a pint flash inside of it."

I sometimes wonder," says William Russell, "why, when a modern girl dresses for a ball, she does not get confused and go to bed."

"Every time I pay eighty cents for a dozen eggs," says William Farnum, "I wonder if the chickens are wearing diamond rings."

"Friend of mine drank a little home brew the other night," remarks clipted cook, and thought he saw a blue mouse. Later he admitted he occurred.

"Write it in parrative form, but in terms of action, or of thought directly dependent on action. That and characterization is all your synopsis should contain. Characterize only when it has vital bearing on the plot work of your story. Build upward—that is the task of the dramatist, to see that from an interesting begin-lously for a moment, and then she haid her fingers timily on a fold of my sleeve.

"No." she said. "No. It isn't possible. No one could be so kind. You must make me pay. You can't let a thier off."

"Daisy!" I cried. shaking her drooping shoulders vigorously. "Stop calling yourself a thief. You've met temptation and you've overcome it. And all the rest of you'r life, you'll fight down your temptations before they threaten to destroy you. You owe this to me—as a debt of honor, now. And I think that's all we have to say to each other."

The tears were running down Daisy's ashen cheeks. Her face was working piteously so that she had to struggle to steady her mouth to form words:

"You can't mean it! How can you let me stay on at Mr. Mason's? How can you touch me?"

(To Be Continued.)

A Dozen Biscuits.

A Dozen Biscuits.

A Dozen Biscuits.

A Bozen Biscuits.

As this is a soft dough the method of mixing differs from that for the start of mixing differs from that for the start in the task of the dramatist, to see that from an interesting begin nature and the task of the dramatist, to the start of mixing differs from that for the start in the task of the dramatist, to see that from an interesting begin nature to a start where measuring two of flour, one teaspoonsful of baking powder. With the knife or the fing climax. The sooner the story salt and four teaspoonsful of baking powder. With the knife or the fing climax. The sooner the story salt and four teaspoonsful of baking powder. With the knife or the fing climax. The sooner the story salt and four teaspoonsful of baking powder. With the knife or the fing climax. The sooner the story salt and four teaspoonsful of baking climax. The sooner the story condition of land or land two tablespoonsful of land to four ten fing climax. The sooner the st

Tel. Bar. 7773.

"Something to Think About" With Gloria Swanson, Theadore Roberts, Elliott Dexter and Monte

The intimate life of a woman who thought she knew what love is. Until loving led to hate, and

New Departure During Torrid Weather ATLAS HOTEL TURKISH BATHS SWIMS

gumanamanamanamanan ya g

Needle bath and cold plunge to fresh heated brains and bodies.

The Stratfield

OPEN DAILY 6 A. M. TO MID-In This new and popular departure we have embodied all of the su-perior features of Stratfield service STRATFIELD HOTEL F. A. CANTWELL, Mgr.

LAUGH LINES.

Estelle Taylor says that in her opinion grand opera is freedom of the High C's.

Charles Kenyon, famous playwright of the stage, who is now on Goldwyn's author staff, writing stories and an is glad to point it out to him."

"When a man becomes famous," "When a man becomes famous," remarks Eileen Percy, "he poses for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose for a man."

"A man I is liable to make a mistake," says Tom Mix, "and any woman is glad to point it out to him."

"When a man becomes famous," remarks Eileen Percy, "he poses for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose for a man."

"A man I is liable to make a mistake," says Tom Mix, "and any woman is glad to point it out to him."

"When a man becomes famous," remarks Eileen Percy, "he poses for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose for a man."

"A man I is liable to make a mistake," says Tom Mix, "and any woman is glad to point it out to him."

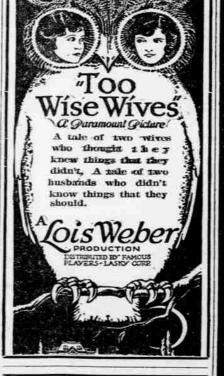

"When a man becomes famous," remarks Eileen Percy, "he poses for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue. When a woman becomes famous she pose, for a statue.

TOM MIX "A RIDIN' ROMEO"

Every Vandeville Act Is Excellent Al Williams & Co. in "Gee Whilliker"

OTHERS

COM. TOMORROW

Dancing Pleasure Daily

Ferries rom Stratford Bridge Dock 8 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Dancing Tomorrow Night Fairfield Beach Pavilion EVERY TUESDAY, THURSDAY AND SATURDAY D. C. Quilty, Manager.

What Your Star Is Doing

Norma Talmadge's August release will be "The Sign On the Door," Channing Pollock's popular mystery play. In "The Sign On The Door," Lew Cody and Charles Richman will be seen with Norma, for the first

Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, having completed work on his newest Paramount picture, "Should A Man Marry?", is making a brief visit to San Francisco and on his return is scheduled to begin work upon a new picture called "Via Fast Freight."

picture called "Via Fast Freight."

Constance Talmadge's next release will be "Wedding Bells," by Salisbury Field, directed by Chet Withey, which curiously enough, was made just about the time that her wedding bells chimed. Harrison Ford will be seen opposite Constance and others important in the cast, are: Emily Chichester, Ida Darling, James Harrison. ers important in the cast, are: Emily Chichester, Ida Darling, James Harrison, William Roselle, Polly Vann, Dallas Welford and Frank Honda. Constance has a wedding anniversary the 26th day of every month, and Husband John Pialoglou brings home a present each time. For her June gift, he presented her with a big Brewster touring car.

Gareth Hughes is preparing to make his bow as a star in special Metro productions in his forthcoming film, "The Hunch."

Norma Talmadge who is vacation-ing at Bayside, L. I., and on motor trips to the White Mountains, will return to the studio in July to begin work on "Smilin' Through," in the part in which Jane Cowl appeared in the stellar role on the speaking stage last year.

Hodge Podge

Had 'Em. Nora Reed, who recently completed work with Pearl White in "Beyond work with Pearl White in "Beyond Price," telephoned to a friend the other day and wailed, "Oh, dear, I think I've got the hives!" The friend—as friends will do—promptly laughed, then sobered and apologized profusely. "Of course, you have no such thing," she soothed. "You're grown up now." "Tm not so sure," was Nora's ambiguous rejoinder.

The next morning Nora delefully.

The next morning Nora dolefully called up again. "I've got 'em—the measles," abjectly. "I'll be all right toon. Come and see me then." The friend, conscious stricken at the memory of her laugh the evening be-fore, vowed she would be the first called when the danger signal was lowered.

Two small boys were fishing when one who had no luck whatsoever said, "Aw, gee, I'm goin' home."
"Wait a while; yer luck might change," said the other kid.
"Aw, what's the use; my worm ain't even tryin'."—New York Daily News.

WEST END.

A vivid story with a theme standing out in striking contrast to "Why Change Your Wife," "Male and Female," "Don't Change Your Husband" and any of his previous successes marks "Something To Think About," Cecil B. De Mille's big Paramount picture which will be shown at the West End theatre tonight.

The idea of right thinking furnishes the basic idea for the story. A series of swift climaxes develop in rapid succession until will power brings with it the restoration of the heroine's happiness through the instrumentality of her little boy.

mits Miss Roberts to give in Scope to her dramatic powers.

FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING W. H. Perry, Fairfield, held on a charge of reckless driving was fined that perfect the story of the Criminal Common Pleas court yesterday.

Following disposition of this case the jury was given the first trial of the term, the case of the State versus Andrew Veres, Fairfield, charged with an assault upon Gaba Trazy. It is alloged that he used a hatchet last September, after an argument over the barking of a dog. A vivid story with a theme stand-

AMUSEMENT CALENDAR A DAILY FEATURE

POLI'S—Vaudeville headliner, Jimmy Duffy and Co., in "Horrors of 1920," a comic singing and dancing act that's a scream; feature picture, Gareth Hughes and May McAvoy in "Sentimental Tommy," based on the famous story by Sir James M. Barrie, the Scotch dramatist. The story is sweetly simple, pathetic and humorous at the same time. Feature on at 3:30.

7:30, 10. Orchestra directed by Samuel Davey. PLAZA—Vaudeville headliner. Al Williams and Co., in "Gee Whilliker!" a character act, crammed full of fun; feature picture, Tom Mix in "A Ridin' Romeo," a story written by himself and full of thrills and surprises. A thread of love interest runs pleasingly through. Feature on at 3:30, 7:30, 9:30. Orchestra directed by Carl Larson.

WEST END—State street and Clinton avenue. Feature, all-star cast in "Something to Think About" a splendid story that gives you what the tilte says. Feature on at 7, 2. Organ music.

ELITE—Main and Charles streets. Feature, all-star cast in "The Inside of of the Cup," a story of religion on week-days and Sundays. Feature on at 7, 9. Organ music.

AMERICAN—East Main and Jane streets. Feature, all-star cast in "Heliotrope," a strong story of the love of a father for his child. Feature on at 7, 9. Organ music.

EMPIRE—Feature, Edith Roberts in "The Unknown Wife," which is the tale of a girl who loves a crook and wins him by love to the straight and narrow path. Feature on at 2:30, 3:45, 5:15, 6:45, 8, 9:15. Orchestra directed by Charles S. Ferrett. CAPITOL-Milford, Feature, all-star cast in "So Long, Letty," a Christie comedy-drama, adapted from the famous musical comedy stage success. Feature on at 2:30, 7:15, 9:15. Organ music, Albert F. Brown, organist. LORDSHIP-Dancing tonight.

Art Or Industry—Which?

Art or industry, which?

Upon the classification of motion pictures depends to a large extent the attitude that is taken toward all pictures, wherever produced.

important to the greatest of paintings, it is also important that pictorial art be expressed. The two should work together.

"It should be the duty of the art tures, wherever produced.

Art is universal, and should be uni-

Art is universal, and should be universally enjoyed, whatever the source of that art, is the contention of persons who welcome the film contributions from European producers.

Industry is national, and American manufacturers should be protected against unfair competition by cheap foreign labor, declare those who are opposed to films from outside the United States.

Fourth Largest. Americans point with pride to the fact that only three industries in America represent an investment greater than motion pictures—rail-roads, meat packing and garment making.

And yet, isn't all this activity for the development of an art? Isn't the motion picture a new art form?

Paul Iribe, artist, designer, architect, designates motion pictures as art. Designer for Poirst and Paquin in Paris, and creator of the short vamp shoe, he has abandoned his work in more restricted mediums to combine his artistry into this newest art—the motion picture.

art—the motion picture.
"It is a great mistake," says this French artist whom Cecil B. DeMille French artist whom Ceell B. DeaMile 'I find this country so delightful," has chosen as art director for his Paramount productions, "not to consider motion pictures as art. To attempt to judge the cinema either as drama or as a picture is inadequate. "It is, in short, actually a sort of alliance of the two, and while drama ought to be found in the story and its action, just as a dramatic moment is have persuaded her so far to stay here and let me enjoy America."

A brilliant cast headed by the vivaciously appealing Edith Roberts captivated spectators last night at the Empire theatre with the first local screening of the Universal star's latest picture, "The Unknown Wife."

The story is quite thrilling and often borders on melodrama. It permits Miss Roberts to give full scope to her dramatic powers.

"It should be the duty of the art director and scenic designers to work into the picture," continued Mr. Iribe, "and to make their part of the production blend with that of the acting and directing, as carefully as possible No one should strive for individual aggrandizement, but all should unite for the good of the picture." ture. Broad Experience.

Broad Experience.

Mr. Iribe brings to his film activities experience which is broad. For fifteen years he was a reporter, cartoonist and critic on the Paris Journal, a paper of which his father is the editor, and which has a circulation of two million a day.

Besides his duties in this capacity, however, he worked much about the theatre, and developed his art of interior decorating and architecture in the intimate atmosphere of the more artistic theatres of Paris.

Of America, the artist speaks in most enthusiastic terms. He enforces the note of sincerity by voluntarily remaining in this country, despite countless resquests to return to the artistic atmosphere of Paris, where his cartoons had made him famous. 'I find this country so delightful,' he said recently, 'that I cannot leave. I came to America for a three most he was tray warre.

During the torrid heat of the summer months what is more refreshing than a cold dip? This is the consideration that the Atlas Turkish Baths management has in mind when they offer the tired business man an opportunity to run in and have a de-lightful needle bath and a cold swim in the $20,000 plunge.
One goes away delightfully refreshed and with greater business ambition.

TOMORROW-

READ ABOUT HOW A MOVIE FILM IS DEVELOPED

ON THIS PAGE !

MOTION PICTURE STAR AND MATINEE IDOL— The Hero Of A Hundred Thrilling Photodramas— One Of The Handsomest Men On The Silver Screen-An Artist, An Actor, A Suave And Cultivated Gentleman— POSITIVE PERSONAL APPEARANCE IN MARK SWAIN'S CLEVER

A BIG BROADWAY CAST. POLIS' SUPREME VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTIONS-THURS. FRI. & SAT.

PLAYLET, "EIGHT, SIX AND FOUR," SUPPORTED BY

AND

FRI.

er in "Lightning Steps and Laughs'

LERNER The Melba and

MAE

Presenting Characters in Song

Pathe TRIO News COMEDY OFFERING

THURS.

PATHE

FRI

CAMILE

THURS. The Eminent Italian Character Actor GEORGE BEBAN in

SAT. SAT.

"In him the elements were so mixed that all the world might stand up and say, 'HERE IS A MAN!'

Now Play-Jimmy Duffy & Co. | ROMAS TROUPE PIETRO MUSICAL ing Today A Laughing Novelty Sir James M. Barrie's "SENTIMENTAL TOMMY" Last Day

Charles and the second

AMATEUR NIGHT FRIDAY NIGHT