Affairs About Town.

INTERESTING ADDRESSES BY DR. COBB.

Despite the rainy weather good audiences were present at the Congregational church on Sunday morning and evening, when Rev. Dr. L. H. Cobb of New York, secretary of the Church Building Society, presented his work.

In the morning he gave a survey of the work by illustrations showing the churches and parson-ages the society had built, by contrast with the humble places used as houses of worship in the beginnings of the work.

The society has erected 530 parsonages and assisted in the building of 2540 churches. Dr. Cobb, who has traveled extensively, is still of the belief that this is the most glorious country on the face of the earth.

At the Sunday school, Dr.
Cobb interested the children by a brief talk. The church was well filled at the evening session, when Dr. Cobb took his bearers on a tour through New Mexico and Arizona.

He spoke of the luxuriant growth of the cactus, one species of which grows to a height of 40 or 50 feet.
He described the formation and building of the adobe houses, and took his hearers on an imaginary visit to the old church at Santa Fe.

Dr. Cobb's visit was one of great enjoyment to the Congregational church people, who only regretted that the inclement weather should have denied many the pleasure of hearing him.

LANTERN FESTIVAL.

On Mr. Warner's lawn, Sandy Hook, Tuesday night, July 3, '95, "Grand exhibition and display of lanterns of all sorts, ancient and modern; plain and decorated; for light and for beauty. One dollar premium for the most unique light.

All are invited to come with a lantern to hang in lantern row. A lantern procession will permeate the grounds at 9 o'clock, and will be followed by the lantern drill. Fairy scenes, ghostly appearances, illuminated tableaux and fireworks will be given on a high platform where they can be seen by all. Ice cream and cake will be served from 8 to 9 o'clock, with cooling drinks. A $25 prize and fortune teller for the occasion.

Music in the summer house from 8 to 9.
Admission 10 cents. Care of horses with in the grounds, 10 cents. Detective police will be hired for the evening. Any boy or girl too poor to pay will be given a ticket at the gate. An auctioneer's auction will be taken to the platform and put into a tableau. If stormy, come the first fair evening.

THE SCHOOL MEETINGS.

THE NORTH CENTER MEETING.

At the North Center district the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Albert W. Peck clerk, George P. Sanford, committeeman, Dr. Monroe Judson collector and treasurer. Miss Mary Hourigan was elected teacher for the next school year.

THE MIDDLE DISTRICT ELECTION.

At the recent meeting in the Middle district, Patrick Gannon was chosen committeeman, Oscar Pitzschler clerk and W. H. Hubbell, treasurer and collector. Miss Maggie Houlihan was re-elected teacher for another year.

P. C. Conklin, a salesman for the Home Comfort range, has been seriously ill with rheumatic fever, but is convalescing.

Dr. Paul U. Sunderland has changed his office from the Sanford block to the Morgan house. His office hours will remain unchanged.

Rev. Dr. L. H. Cobb of New York was the guest over Sunday of Deputy Sheriff M. C. Rodgers. Dr. Cobb was a professor at Dartmouth college while Sheriff Rodgers was a student there. While at Hanover, N. H., last year, they had the register at the same hotel one after the other, and Sheriff Rodgers at once recognized his old teacher. He at that time secured the promise of a visit by Dr.
Cobb to the Newtown Congregational church, which was so much enjoyed on Sunday.

Blood-purifiers, though gradual, are radical in their effect. Ayer's cathartic pills is intended as a medicine only, and not a stimulant, laxative, or purgative.

Immediate results may not always follow its use; but after a reasonable time, permanent benefit is certain to be realized.

TRUMBULL.

MISS MERWIN—MR. CASE.

One of the prettiest weddings Poquon-nock has ever known took place in the Congregational church last evening, that of Emma M. Case and Miss Natalie Parsons Merwin. The wedding party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bride with her maid of honor, preceded by a little flower girl coming up the aisle, while the groom with his best man preceded by the ushers entered on the north, the party meeting at the altar. Rev. N.
T. Merwin, father of the bride, officiated, and used a beautiful wedding service, arranged by himself especially for the occasion.

As the newly wedded pair turned from the altar, the little six-year-old flower maid, strewn from her fairy basket, choice floral treasures, in their pathway, the organ in the meantime, under the direction of Miss E. Bertha Moshier, pealing forth Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride was gowned in an elegant costume of heavy pearl, white moire, en train, richly trimmed with Duchess lace and orange blossoms, the long floating veil of tulle being artistically caught with a spray of orange blossoms and a pearl and diamond brooch, the gift of the groom. Her ornaments were diamonds, and the carver's hand-bunch of white carnations and tulle bunch of white carnations. Miss Emma J. McLean of Rockville, the maid of honor and piece of the groom, looked harming in white swiss, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The little flower maid, Miss Minnie McLean, also a piece of the groom, was in pink and carried a large basket of cut flowers.
The groom was in the conventional fall dress suit. The best man was George Jared Merwin of Windsor, and the ushers were C. Robert Hatheway of Poquon-nock and Aaron Hollander of Hartford.

They were bridesmaids of carnations and daisy scarf pins of pearls and tur-quois, the gift of the bride. The church was most tastefully decorated by the hands of kind friends with ferns and daisies, corresponding with the handsome ornamentation of the same at the house, thus so perfectly carrying out the idea of a form and daisy wedding. A large number of guests were present, completely filling the church. At the reception held at the residence of the bride's parents, friends were present from New York, Brooklyn, Bridgeport, Milford, Bristol, Trumbull, Hartford, Rockville and other places. The ceremony was done in Besse's best style. The gift room was a bazaar of beauty, containing a very large number of exquisite gifts, the choicest tokens appropriate to such an occasion. The newly wedded pair will make a tour to Cleveland, O., and other points westward.—(Hartford

SHERMAN.

C. A. MALLORY MAKES EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

C. A. Mallory is about completing extensive improvements on his pleasant homestead, located below Sherman Center. He has built an addition in the rear and built over several rooms. He has added a bath room with running water, and has also carried the barn, which was street to another place. John Monroe of South Kent City has been superintending the job work. On the front of the house Mr. Mallory has erected a very pretentious veranda and covered porch to drive under. He has also added a veranda to the south side. When all the contemplated improvements are finished Mr.
Mallory will have one of the most attractive places in town. This year Mr. Mallory will set out about six acres of tobacco, notwithstanding the fact he has two crops on hand. The barn, whose the tobacco was stored was struck by lightning, last week, but the damage was slight.

Nathan Kingsley of Austin, Minn., was the guest, last week, of Representative Frank Hungerford, en route for Europe.
Mr. Hungerford took him for a day's excursion to Lake Wausau.

C. C. HAWES is practically building a new barn out of an old one. The dimensions are 50x30, with an addition 30x12. Newton Weaver of Gay-lordsville has charge of the work. Mr.
Hawes now devotes his time to the manufacture of several popular brands of cigars.

Miss Vernie Currie of Pawling, N. Y., and Miss Martha Brown of Dover Plains, N. Y., have been recent guests of Mrs.
Dimmick Brownell.

Charles L. Leach deserves high praise for the excellent care he gives the grounds about his house, which a stranger passing by would take for the country home of some city gentleman. In front of his home are three magnificent spreading maples, and the wide lawn is kept in excellent shape. His place is certainly an object lesson in town or village improvement. Mr. Leach has put in about three acres of tobacco, this year. At present he is shipping milk to New York, sending to Lanesville.
