LABOR DAY ENTERTAINMENT. THE TOWN HALL ON MONDAY EVEN-ING, SEPTEMBER 3.

What promises to eclipse all past efforts will be the Grand Black-Face Carnival of Fun to be given on the evening of Labor Day at the Town hall in Newtown for the benefit of St Rose's church, by some of the best amateur talent in Sheater of Winsted, Prof C. S. Phelps Newtown. The performance will be unand Prof C. L. Beach of the Connecticut

Agricultural college. There ought to be a large attendance.

Newtown. The performance will be under the same management which conducted the lady minstrel performance a year ago and which was pronounced by the large audience present to be the best thing of its kind ever presented in Newtown. There will be numerous local hits and jokes, up-to-date songs and special and jokes, up-to-d ties, grotesque dances, sketches and beautiful tableaux. There will also be a full erchestra of 12 pieces which will play some of the very latest up-to-date orches-tral selections which in itself will be well worth the price of admission. Following the performance there will be dancing to best of dance music and those present will be assured the most delightful even-ing's entertainment of the season. Next week's BEE will give the program in full. Just before going to press the management received the following telegram: "Sirs: The Four Willies will be present at your performance in Newtown on Monday, September 3; namely, William Jennings Bryan, William McKinley, Willism K. Vanderbilt and Will-O-The-Wisp. Signed,—[Will Youbethere." So be sure and all come. The Walnut Tree Hill Bridge builders turned out in full force on Saturday last and repaired the bridge below the Dutch shop. After the bridge was repaired the foreman, John Hetherman, entertained his fellow workmen with one of his latest stump speeches and a song entitled "How I caught the woodchuck."
