

SAYS PRINCETON WAR BRIDE PROVED FAITHLESS TO HIM

EX-SOLDIER'S CHARGES OF INFAMACY WITH OTHER MEN IS DENIED BY FRENCH GIRL WHO "MARRIED HIM OUT OF PITY."

Chicago, Jan. 12.—"Is everybody in America willing to believe the worst of a girl from France who married an American doughboy 'Over There' or will someone hear her side of the story and believe?"

The question is put right up to the public today by Mrs. Ida Claude Smith, 3057 West Washington boulevard, Chicago, who earnestly wishes an answer because her good name and her future happiness depend upon it.

She, who was a French mademoiselle in Toul, France, before she married Myron D. Smith, 5118 Fulton street, Chicago, in June, 1919, has been made defendant in a suit for divorce in the circuit court and charged with undue friendliness with a man who lived in the same home with Mrs. Smith and other owners on North LaSalle street.

"And the charges are false, maliciously false," she says with tears just back of the big brown eyes—but read her story of the shattering of another war romance.

Got Him Out of Prison.

"I met him at Toul, France, where I lived with my parents in 1915. He was stationed there at a replacement depot and it was nothing more than a casual acquaintance. Then he got into trouble. He was court-martialed and sentenced to six months in a prison camp. I felt sorry for him. I went to the lieutenant, captain and major at the camp at Le Mans and begged for his release. Only if he were going to marry me would they consider my request. I didn't want to marry him, but he pleaded and it meant his liberty. And he said never would he go back to America without me and never could he do enough for me.

"Silly, foolish, I believed him and consented. He had shown me a picture of his mother and had cried over her. We were married in America the ceremony, as it is over here—in June, 1919, and in French—as the law requires there—on July 15. In September we came to America to the home of his mother, Mrs. George Morton, of Princeton, Ill.

"Then trouble began for the girl alone and so many miles away from home. He threatened me because I objected to his slighting me for his mother. His stepfather gave him $50 to get out of town. We came to Chicago. I got a position as governess on the south side. He went to live at the home of a sister in Oak Park.

"Then I was taken ill with the flu. He did nothing for me. I went to a hotel and pawned my watch and chain to pay doctor's bills and had my siege of illness alone. When I recovered we got a room near his sister's, but he spent his time with her.

"Then he began staying away from me days at a time. I had him arrested. He was ordered to pay $10 a week for my support. He didn't pay.

"He threatened—what is it in America—raise the devil? He did. And then he told this story of the boarder where I had gone to live."

INDIANS IN AMERICA NUMBER ONLY 336,000

Green Day, Wis.—The Indian population of the United States, according to the latest census, numbered only 336,000, a decrease of 10,000 from the 346,000 reported in 1910.

The United Indian reservation population has a population of 247,000. Commissioner Seligman's annual report states, although no figures for last year are available, he believes this year's total is a substantial increase over that of 1919.

Population of other Indian reservations in this vicinity shows Keshonah school, 5,025; including a large number of students from the United reservation school, which was closed last year; Loma agency, 4,574; Winthrop, 1,251; Menominee, 1,761.

Wisconsin has a total Indian population of 10,215. Commissioner Seligman reports.

Marriages last year between Indians and whites total nine in the state, while those between Indians totaled twenty-eight. Of the total number of Indians in Wisconsin, 3,401 are Protestants and 1,650 Catholics.

The total area of Indian lands in the state is shown as 54,111 acres.
