"It seems a pity," said old man Winter to the Fally Queen, "that we can't all get together and have a frome You know once in a while we do. But It seems a pity we can't have one oftener and yet I don't know but what It is best this way."

"Well," said the Entry Queen, "whar do you mean? The contributes is best the way it is or she took think it would be better another ways. I'm sure you're not very clear, old man Winter."

"Well, sometimes I think it would be better another way, though in reatity I don't think so. I think the way It is can truthfully be considered a very fine way.

"You see," old man Winter contiued, "there is the Spring. The Spring is a lovely creature and 1st like to really know her better.

"But I never can know her better. I have to harry away when the cones, Now and again I have a talk with betbut then everyone granbles and says. Oh dear, oh dear, it's like a winter't they again, and it has been so nice and springs intely."

"And the early flowers all complain, too, if I talk too much with Spring They don't care to linve us friendly "Then there is the Autumn, Autumn is levely. So brilliant and beautiful.
