RESOLUTE LOSES TO SHAMROCK BY UNTIMELY FLUKE

Halcyon's Day After Landing Lipton Yacht Halfway—Sir Thomas "Proctor" Victory.

Boston, July 15.—News that the Shamrock IV had won the first race against the Resolute in the series for the America's cup was received amid joyous scenes at Ronger Derr's night, because in the event of the ultimate victory of Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht, future races will occur there.

BY HENRY L. FARRELL, (United Press Staff Correspondent) New York, July 16.—Resolute, America's cup defender, will sail the second race of the series tomorrow against Shamrock IV, the New York Yacht club announced today.

The broken throat halcyons, which caused Resolute to withdraw from the first race yesterday with an almost sure victory in her grasp, will be repaired today.

Displaying sportsmanship characteristic of him, Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the winning sloop, was reluctant to take credit for a victory won on what he termed a fluke.

The New York Yacht club refused to consider such a protest, however, pointing out that the first Shamrock was forced to withdraw by an accident in the race against Columbia in 1899.

How Race Was Lost. Charles Francis Adams, skipper of Resolute, explained the accident, which caused him to lose at the turning point of the 20-mile race, by nearly five minutes. "The three halcyons poked at the wind," he said. "The gift of speed and the mainmast fell. We examined the break and when it was found that repairs were impossible we withdrew and commenced a tender to tow us in."

The first battle for the cup yesterday was discouraging in many ways. The weather was a maelstrom of squalls, rain, thunder showers, sunshine, calms and blows. Resolute Holds Lead. Adams outgeneraled Barton and got away more than a minute ahead of the Lipton yacht. The defender increased the distance and held it through varying weather conditions until near the halfway mark when the race had developed into a drifting match with the defender about six minutes ahead on actual time and six minutes and forty seconds ahead on the time allowance.

Just as Resolute started the turn around Corsair, J. P. Morgan's yacht, which was acting as a marker, her mainmast fell. The challenger was thus given a lead and sure of victory if she could finish the second half of the race within three hours.

Sacrifice for Speed. Resolute sacrificed stability for speed. She gambled, so to speak, and lost. She will gamble in each of the following races.

If she cracked yesterday with hardly more than a breath of wind filling her sails, her chances in a twenty or thirty knot blow which kicks up often around Sandy Hook, don't make Americans optimistic of keeping the cup in Uncle Sam's locker.

Experts today were inclined to criticize the New York Yacht club for its judgment in choosing Resolute over Vanitie to defend the cup. The accident was the fourth major mishap that has befallen Resolute since she started her trial races with Vanitie.

Others claim that it was mishandling that ran the defender into her accident.
