

WOMEN VISIT POLLS TODAY IN STRENGTH

Rock Island Argus Staff Report
Office of State Registrar
Vote Registrar.

For the first time in the history of the state, the women of Rock Island are voting in person at the polls today. The women of the city are expected to vote in great numbers, and the polls are expected to be crowded.

In one of the most heavily voted primary elections ever held in Illinois, voters of Rock Island are turning out in great numbers to register their party preferences in the election for the House of Representatives and Democratic members to appear on the state ticket to be voted Nov. 2.

That Rock Island women, at least appreciate the opportunity to exercise their right of suffrage is indicated by their numbers appearing at the polling places today. Hundreds of women voters are expected to arrive at an early hour to make it a point to cast their ballots while their husbands were nibbling away at breakfast, and in many instances, still in bed. During the later morning hours the number of women decreased to an appreciable extent, the exigencies of household duties being accountable for this. With the completion of the noon-day meal, however, it was noted that the various polling booths that the women were coming in greater numbers, and this was expected to continue throughout the afternoon.

SCIENTISTS FREE CASTOR OIL FROM NAUSEATING TASTE

Remarkable Process Improves Famous Old Family Remedy.

Nobody ever dreamed that castor oil could be made tasteless. But the chemists of Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., one of the largest manufacturers of castor oil, tackled this problem, and succeeded in perfecting a process by which all nauseating taste is removed. Nothing is put in to disguise the taste. Strength and purity remain the same—a 100 per cent pure castor oil. Curative and soothing qualities remain the same. It is the same good old-fashioned castor oil that your doctor always prescribes, with the disagreeable taste removed. Children take Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil without knowing it is castor oil. Sold by all good druggists. If you want a castor oil absolutely without nauseating taste, insist on genuine laboratory sealed bottles, plainly labeled Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil. ARBITERS TURN AWAY FROM THE OVERTIME WAGE Interboro Street Car Company and Union to Make Own Agreement—Claims No Responsibility.

The overtime wage argument between street car motormen and conductors and the Tri-City Railway company has been turned back on the members of the recent wage arbitration board for settlement.

As a result the representatives of the company and the men will hold a meeting Thursday morning in view of coming to an agreement. Charles Reagan, member of the arbitration board, said today that notification had been sent the company that the board could not settle the difficulty. Mr. Reagan, personally, holds that the board has no jurisdiction in the matter, and never did. He contends that the overtime wage is a "working condition" affair and one that should have been settled before the "straight wage" decision was left to the board, the "overtime" being a percentage of the regular rate in additional payment for time put in over the regulation hours.
