FINISH UP TO PITCHERS

Jim Bagby of Indiana Only Hurler of Both Leagues With Chance of 30 Wins

BY DEAN SNYDER

A mediocre ball club can swish through the schedule for a pennant if it gets good pitching.

Another thing—as a rule a team that can boast of a pitcher who wins 30 or more games in a season can count its chickens in.

Christy Mathewson turned the trick of piling up 30 or more victories for the Giants four times.

Another veteran mound ace, Grover Cleveland Alexander, ranks next to Cy Young and Christy Mathewson in accumulating strings of 30 or more victories in a season.

Jack McComb won 31 games for the pennant-winning Athletics in 1916. "Smoky" Joe Wood pitched 34 wins for the Red Sox in 1913 and gave Boston the mullin.

BEARDSTOWN ALL "HET UP"

Beardstown, Sept. 16.—The biggest event in the way of an athletic exhibition ever presented to the public in this part of the country is scheduled for the Princess theatre, in Beardstown, Tuesday evening, Sept. 21, when world championship bout will take place between Pete Herman of New Orleans, world champion bantamweight and Jimmy Kelly of Chicago, who has fought all of the top-notchers, including Frankie Mason of Fort Wayne, Ind., whom he met three weeks ago in East Chicago.

The program. Pete Herman of New Orleans, world champion bantamweight vs. Jimmy Kelly, Chicago's sensational challenger, for the world championship in their class, will box 10 rounds to a decision.

Carl Erbstein is getting the boys lined up and after a look at his list, it appears as though the high team would have a hard time in giving the old boys the K. O.

Highs ready for grads. The grads are getting organized in fine shape and are expecting to head the high squad a wallop.

As usual, the "Old Man" was non-committal about his outlook. "Some of those whom I expected would be here are not, and there are no men here who were not counted on before the season started."

Although the lineup has not been figured out as yet, a tentative one was given out last night.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—There were more notable absentees than present on Stagg field when Amos Aleno Stagg lined up his forty candidates yesterday afternoon for the start of his twenty-ninth football season.

It is expected that all of them will come in pretty soon, if they are to come at all, for the season coach has a frozen greeting for the aspirants who fail to come early and work late.

The men who reported for work yesterday were Capt. Jackson, McGuire, Crisler, Hink, Reber, Herms, Hutchinson, Hansch, Cole, Lewis, Redmen, Timme, Barker, Newhall, Taigo, McQuigg, Miller, Schwab, McMaster, Sotter, Clark, Math, Bell, Hirsch, Hedden, Norgren, Trout, Davis, Leggett, Gues, Lambert, Krosh, Harris and Proudfoot.

For a first day workout it was a hard one that the candidates were given yesterday. The hot day and the work told on the outfit, and when they finished with the new trick dummy arranged for interference practice, the passing and kicking and wind sprits, the athletes were hardly equal to the task of getting off the field.

As usual, the "Old Man" was non-committal about his outlook. "Some of those whom I expected would be here are not, and there are no men here who were not counted on before the season started."

SHADOW OF GAME SHORTAGE IS MENACE TO PENNANT PLANS OF YANKS AND ROBINS IN FINALS

(United Press.) New York, Sept. 16.—The possibility of taking a terrible beating while their backs are to the wall behind their backs haunted the two leaders of the major leagues today.

Both Brooklyn and the New York Giants have fewer games to play than their nearest rivals. That means that unless they finish their schedules with the pennant sewed up they may be subject to the humiliation of seeing their rivals split head-to-head to the tape to grab a victory.

HOW ROBINS STAND. Despite that danger, Brooklyn looked after them heroically. The Robins squeaked through the last game yesterday with the Cubs, winning 1 to 0. An even break for the Robins in the remaining 15 games would compel the Cincinnati Reds to take 15 of 16 games to win. The Giants would have to grab 15 of 17.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The slumping White Sox were out for blood today, raced by Babe Ruth and his fellow slugging Yanks, the Hoos have their backs to the wall making a last stand for their pennant aspirations.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 16.—The Indians swamped the Athletics 14 to 6, cracking the offerings of Keefe and Moore for 23 hits for a total of 34 bases. Jim Bagby was in rare form and allowed but three hits, one of them a scratch. Every man on the Cleveland team, and there were 13 of them in the game, grabbed a hit for himself.

THE SCOREBOARD. YESTERDAY'S HERO: Tommy Griffith, Brooklyn. One of the most spectacular catches in the history of Ebbets field robbed O'Farrell of the Cubs of a possible homer and a threatened Cub rally collapsed.
