OFFICER SLAYS AUGUSTANA STUDENT

REVEREND RUFF SLAIN BY MISTAKE

Frederick Sextro of Chicago Slays Preacher Landlord.

Chicago, Oct. 23. — (United Press.)—Frederick Sextro, wealthy manager of a coal company here, admitted today, police said, he shot and killed Rev. Frederick Ruff, pastor of the Memorial Methodist church in the exclusive north shore district, and owner of several large apartment buildings early this morning.

Sextro, when taken to the Rogers Park police station, declared he mistook the pastor for a burglar when he met him in the hallway.

Sextro occupied an apartment above the one in which the pastor and his family lived. According to information given the police Sextro was among the many tenants of buildings owned by the pastor who had quarreled with Rev. Ruff recently because of large increases in rent.

The pastor, his wife and three children were preparing to go to Melvin, Ill., early today, where they had planned to visit John Ehl, a brother of Mrs. Ruff and the children went out to the automobile in front of the apartment house where they adjusted the baggage and made other arrangements for the trip, while Rev. Ruff was supposed to be shutting the windows, locking the doors and getting the apartment in shape to leave.

Helen, 14-year-old daughter of the pastor, said her father had been out to the automobile once, bringing out some packages, and had returned to the apartment to be sure everything was all right before leaving.

Covered With Blood.

"We heard a slight noise and a sound like a shot but thought nothing of it," she said. "A minute later a man came running around the corner of the building and said there has been a shooting. My mother rushed into the hallway and I stayed in the automobile to take care of the other two children. Finally, after the ambulance came, I went in, too, and saw papa lying on the floor with a lot of blood around him."

The pastor was taken to St. Vincent's hospital in Evanston but was dead when the ambulance reached the institution.

Helen Ruff is in her first year high school and is the eldest of the three. The other two children are 7 and 2 years of age.

During the investigation a few months ago by a committee of aldermen into the high rent conditions in Chicago, Rev. Ruff was among the landlords called to give an explanation of why his rents were increased by large amounts.

Shot Once in Chest.

Ruff was shot once, in the chest. According to the story told Lieutenant Martin O'Malloy by Sextro, Rev. Ruff apparently had passed by his own apartment and went up to the second floor where Sextro lives. "I heard someone fumbling around at our door with keys," Sextro said. "The apartment of Hiram White, who lives on the third floor, had been robbed a few nights ago and we were all anxious about burglars.

"When my wife and I had listened to the noise at the door for a few seconds I went and got my revolver and threw the door open. I saw a dark form in the hallway.

"Who are you?" I demanded. There was no answer. I shot once and the body fell to the floor and rolled down the stairs to the first landing. As the body was rolling I caught a glimpse of the man's face and it was then that I realized whom I had shot."

Police Puzzled.

Police were unable to find a logical explanation of why Rev. Ruff had gone to the second floor instead of stopping at his own apartment. The theory was advanced he might have absent-mindedly walked past his own door.

Sextro denied he had quarreled with the pastor over rents.

Following his preliminary examination, police held Sextro for further questioning.

Mrs. Hiram White, interviewed by the United Press, gave added weight to the story told by Sextro.

Confirms Sextro.

Mrs. White, who occupies the apartment just above the Sextros, said she was in bed. She had been awake some time and her mind was perfectly clear so that she remembered distinctly what she heard.

"I heard Mr. Sextro yell 'Who is there?' several times," Mrs. White said. "I could hear no answer. Suddenly there was a shot."

Mrs. White said the hallway was dark and the face of anyone standing there could not be recognized at that time of the day. This was confirmed by investigators.

Mrs. White also confirmed the statement made by Sextro that her apartment had been robbed re-

MYSTERY HANGS OVER DEATH BED OF MACSWINEY

Relatives Fear Mayor is Dead Because of Strict Censorship.

London, Oct. 23.—Grave reports were in circulation at noon today regarding the condition of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, on the 72nd day of his hunger strike in Brixton prison. A statement issued by the Exchange Telegraph company at that hour declared the lord mayor's last moments were at hand.

The bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination league on the lord mayor's condition, however, stated the league has been informed that he was in about the same state as recently. He was unconscious, its information said.

"However," added the statement, "the home office has placed an embargo on the use of the telephone for communicating news to the outside and has forbidden the lord mayor's sisters to visit him."

The home office explained the denial of admission to the lord mayor's sisters as being due only to the belief that their visits interfered with the careful nursing which the prisoner's extremely delicate condition required.

May Prolong Life.

The league announced that Mrs. MacSwiney, while permitted to see her husband, was allowed to remain only short periods. A new angle of the case developed today in that the lord mayor now is retaining the food administered by the doctors, indicating that it is being assimilated. This, it is believed, may prolong MacSwiney's life for some time.

Veil of Mystery.

London, Oct. 23.—(United Press). —A veil of mystery today hung over Brixton prison where Lord Mayor MacSwiney was entering the 72nd day of his hunger strike.

Prison officials clamped down a strict censorship regarding his condition. This led to the belief at Sinn Fein headquarters here that MacSwiney was at least in an extremely critical condition.

Relatives of Lord Mayor MacSwiney fear he is dead and that the officials of Brixton prison are suppressing the fact, according to a statement by his brother, Peter MacSwiney of New York this afternoon.

Peter, leaving the prison, said the authorities had refused permission for any of his relatives to see the lord mayor since 6 o'clock. Mary and Annie MacSwiney, the lord mayor's sisters, and Father Dominick, his chaplain, emerged from the prison shortly before Peter and explained the officials had not allowed them to remain at MacSwiney's bedside, although his wife had been granted this privilege.

The home office later informed the United Press that the sisters were excluded from the prison because they might interfere with physicians feeding MacSwiney during his periods of delirium. It was stated other relatives had not been excluded but their visits would be restricted in the future.

London, Oct. 23.—(United Press). —Annie and Mary MacSwiney, sisters of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, whose death was expected momentarily, joined him in his hunger strike today.

Their action followed exclusion by officials of Brixton prison from his bedside because, it was explained, they might interfere with the forcible feeding of the lord mayor.

It is reported the village of Innishannon also was considerably damaged.

GOX GAINER AS A RESULT PACT TALKS

Democrat Drift Has Started in Ohio Because of Changed Sentiment.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Special to The Argus.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 23.—Illinois may be dismissed in a single sentence — overwhelmingly Republican; not much harm has been done the national ticket by the factional fights inside the state. As for Indiana, the situation is far more interesting. Three weeks ago the Democrats themselves would have conceded defeat. But a Democrat drift has started. Republicans admit it is a League of Nations sentiment become articulate. While the Democrats are uncertain as to the ultimate size of the drift, the Republicans confidently say they will carry the state by 60,000. Perhaps a more conservative estimate would be 40,000. This may seem a huge majority compared to the 9,000 which Indiana gave Hughes in 1916, but the country must be prepared for unusual figures both in Democratic and Republican states this year, as in many instances the woman vote amounts to 40 per cent of the male vote. Majorities of 40,000 this year really would be about 20,000 in other years.

Indiana, which is so close to Ohio that it ought to be able to tell offhand which one of its two next-door neighbors in Ohio is the better man, is voting on entirely abstract issues this year. The personality of Cox or Harding is not a factor. Here are some things that do count:

First, fully 80,000 negroes will vote the Republican ticket this year. Some well informed political reporters tell the writer that the Democrats would have a majority of the white vote in ordinary elections.

Germans Favor Harding.

Second, the Germans of the state and a large number of them are

LABOR ANSWERS RESOLUTION OF BANKERS' MEET

Secretary Morrison Says Workers are Producing Heavily.

Washington, Oct. 23.—(United Press).—Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor today replied to the American Bankers' association resolution calling on labor "to abandon the economic fallacy that it can attain greater prosperity through a reduction of output."

"The bankers," said Morrison, "repeat phonographic utterances about labor, capital and brains and the need for labor to produce more.

"These bankers are delightful humorists when they lecture labor about producing more. Let them tell their story to the automobile workers in the middle west who are laid off by thousands. Let them preach to textile workers in the east where mills are shut down by one of the nation's most powerful and richest trusts. Let them tell building craftsmen their story. Let them tell coal miners to work more when the records show that for the last 12 months these miners have produced more than 53,000,000 tons more coal than in the previous 12 months. Every bituminous mine field in the United States but Alabama and Mingo county, West Virginia, is in the full operation. In these two exceptions the miners are striking for a living wage.

Smashing All Records.

"The miners elsewhere are smashing all production records and yet we find the price of coal prohibitive and bankers lecturing on the need for greater production.

"The government's record of exports of manufactured goods does not sustain the bankers' position. Let the bankers insist that the law of supply and demand for which they profess such high regard be permitted to operate. Let them call on the trusts and combines to stop fixing prices and to stop closing mills and shops to maintain these present high prices."

BRAKEMAN FATALLY HURT.

Dixon, Ill., Oct. 23.—Willard Beach, Illinois Central brakeman, was fatally injured by an Illinois Central switch engine at Bloomington last night. A special train made up at Amboy to take his wife, baby and wife's relatives failed to reach Bloomington before he died. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Beach of Rockford.

PROPOSED RAIL STRIKE POSTPONED

Miners Accept Invitation From Premier for Further Discussion.

London, Oct. 23.—The railway men have postponed arelr proposed strike in sympathy with the miners temporarily at the request of the miners' executive committee, it was announced this evening.

The miners have accepted an invitation from Premier Lloyd George for further discussions.

London, Oct. 23.—Informal conversations between the government and individual leaders of the striking British coal miners were resumed this morning. These discussions followed a conference with Premier Lloyd George and several other members of the government in which the secretary of the miners' organization was one of the participants.

Representatives of the mine owners also conferred with the government.

The view expressed in government circles this afternoon was that the strike situation was by no means without hope of a favorable solution.

During the discussion between the government and the miners informal proposals were expected to be made which might contain a nucleus for an ultimate settlement.

J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, announced to the press that he was striving for the immediate convocation of a conference between the opposing forces.

The request was made at a joint conference of the miners and railway men's executive boards, it was understood.

The reaso nassigned by the miners for their request was that Premier Lloyd George had invited them to participate in a conference to attempt a settlement of the strike and they did not wish to be embarrassed in their negotiations by threat of a railway strike.

The official statement issued by the miners said that, acting on their advice, the railway workers had suspended their sympathetic strike "to give every opportunity for an honorable settlement." The suspension, it was said, would continue during the period of negotiations between the miners and the government.

The Evening Standard said it understood the premier would present a new formula at the conference which already had received the unofficial approval of several leaders of the miners.

May Avert Strike.

London, Oct. 23.—(United Press.) —Two events were scheduled today which were expected to afford an opportunity to avert the strike of raidroad workers, scheduled for midnight Sunday, and open the way for settlement of the miners' strike. They were:

Meeting of the executive council of the Miners' Federation, preliminary to a joint conference with the executive council of the railway union; conference of railway men's and miners' representatives to discuss the former's plans for settlement of the latter's differences with the government.

Although the railway workers, dominated by the radical element, voted to go out in a sympathetic strike, they were said to be facing serious dissension within their ranks because of the refusal of J. H. Thomas, the secretary, to lead such a demonstration.

This situation has led certain officials and the press to predict the railway men will find means today to induce the miners to reopen their case. Thomas' refusal to sign the strike notices sent out was understood to have been based on the belief calling a sympathetic strike would virtually wreck the union.

Transport Workers May Refuse.

The belief was expressed in official circles the transport workers—the third division of the triple alliance—would refuse officially to call a sympathetic strike, although 8,000 were out in Yorkshire as the result of local dispute.

The Chronicle declared the miners were careful during their preparation for the present strike to adopt resolutions so the knot they tied could easily be unraveled.

The Post believed railway men will find an excuse for pretending negotiations have been reopened, although Andrew Bonar Law, speaking in commons yesterday refused pointedly to discuss unofficial conversations as "negotiations" and avoided any ground for suggesting the railway men's threat had influenced the government.

ITALY'S WAR BILL.

Rome, Oct. 22.—Italy spent 110,700,000,000 lire in connection with the war from Aug. 1, 1914, to June 30, 1920, official figures show.

Stockholm, Oct. 22.—The delegates at the conference of the left wing of the Socialist party decided by a vote of 29 to 8, to adhere to the Moscow internationale.

"SCRATCHERS" HELP HAIR GROW ON BALD PATES

"Fourth Dimension" Injected Into Campaign Worries Leaders.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—(United Press). —The "scratch voter" is causing a bumper growth of gray hairs on pates of politicians, for the first time in a presidential campaign.

This "fourth dimension" injected in 1920 politics comprises 80 per cent of the voters, according to party leaders here, who say this is their sole fret as the campaign enters its final swing.

Newly enfranchised women comprise a part of the "unknown quantity," although many partisans believed the majority of these first voters would follow party lines.

The League of Nations issue has tangled the tickets until Democrats and Republicans have become rare specimens, according to Frank Doremus, regional chairman of the Democratic national committee here.

"There'll be a lot of Republicans vote for Governor Cox and the league and some Democrats will go the other way," Doremus said. "The campaign this year is one of principle and not party or person. Many voters may follow party lines in state and municipal balloting but on the national and senatorial questions they'll vote for the issue, realizing the president must have a favorable congress to secure the things for which he stands."

Increase of 40 Per Cent.

Congressman J. W. Good, Iowa, at Republican headquarters here, declared the addition of women voters, the great increase in naturalization, and the additional population of the United States would greatly swell the vote this year. He predicted an increase of 40 per cent over the last presidential vote, when 18,526,000 ballots were cast.

"But this will be a mighty light vote, considering the number that should turn out," Good said. "The suffrage amendment enfranchises 8,000,000 women. This, with the other factors, should give a total vote nearly double that of four years ago. But many voters are going to stay away from the polls, particularly in southern states, because they can't conscientiously support Governor Cox and the league and yet they want to retain their Democratic affiliations.

Evidence of "Criss-Crossing."

Heads of speakers bureaus cited the number of prominent persons who have announced stands for or against the league in contradiction of their known party feelings, as evidence of the criss-crossing of political lines.

Declaring many voters intended remaining away from the polls Nov. 2 because their League of Nations view does not coincide with their partisan sentiment, Victor Heintz, regional chairman of the Republican national committee, today said a light vote would favor the Democrats.

Political headquarters here today turned attention to the ballot counting. Telegrams and instructions for reporting the vote were sent state leaders with entreaties that everything be done to avoid a complication similar to four years ago when the outcome was not definite for days.

Tabulations of ballots will be more difficult this election than in the Wilson-Hughes voting because of the addition of women voters, due to the suffrage amendment and scratch voting.

PARTIES FILE EXPENSE LISTS

G. O. P. Receipts $2,466,910.54—Disbursements $2,741,503.34 for Campaign.

Washington, Oct. 23.—(United Press).—A flood of expense accounts of national parties was expected today by officials of the house of representatives charged with receiving the statements and filing them under the election law regulations.

Statements must be filed by all parties showing receipts and disbursements on or before Monday.

Treasurer Upham filed for the Republican national committee late yesterday showing total receipts of $2,466,019.54 and disbursements of $2,741,503.34 for the national campaign.

Separate contributions to the Republican fund for the national campaign were 34,868, of which just 16 were amounts of more than $1,000 each, according to the statement.

"Deemies'" Disbursements.

The Democratic national committee had expended $699,071.69 in the national campaign up to Oct. 21, according to a report filed with the clerk of the house of representatives today by Wilbur Marsh, the committee treasurer.

Total receipts were placed at $677,934.87. This compared with total receipts of $3,466,019.54 and expenditures of $2,741,053.34 by the Republican national committee, as sworn to in a statement filed late yesterday by Treasurer Fred W. Upham.

LUTHER KRON, MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR, SHOT DOWN ON A GALESBURG STREET

GALVA LAD VICTIM OF POLICE BULLET

Luther P. Kron.

Luther P. Kron, aged 22 years, son of Rev. and Mrs. N. E. Kron of Galva, Ill., and a senior of Augustana college, was shot to death by police at Galesburg at 2:30 this morning when mistaken as a burglar.

Kron had been detailed by the Moline Dispatch, for whom he served as college correspondent, to report the Augustana-Millikin football game at Decatur this afternoon.

The Argus learned this afternoon that Luther had planned to stop off at Galesburg to visit Miss Verda Johnson, 1416 N. Kellogg street, and to catch an early morning train for Decatur. This information confirms the theory of Galesburg police that he had been visiting friends in the vicinity of the fatal shooting.

The faculty and students alike of Augustana college were shocked beyond expression at 9 o'clock this morning when word came from the Rock Island police to Einar Kron, sophomore, that his brother, Luther P. Kron, college senior, was shot dead by city detectives in Galesburg early this morning in a mistaken identity case. Luther was shot in the back, the bullet piercing his heart. He was 22 years old.

He was the son of Rev. and Mrs. N. E. Kron of Galva, Ill. The father is pastor of the First Lutheran church of Galva and a brother, Reuben P. Kron, is professor of Northwestern college, Fergus Falls, Minn.

The father left for Galesburg this afternoon and will be joined by Dr. G. A. Andreen, president of Augustana college, and David Beckstrom, treasurer of the institution.

The shooting was done by detectives who had been sent out to the northern part of the city to keep watch for further activities of burglars who had perpetrated seven or eight different jobs in the district during the week.

There were no witnesses to the shooting with the exception of the two police officers, who claim that they fired upon Kron when he started to run away on being accosted by them.

Officers Fred Field and Albert L. Goff told Police Chief Fred Hinman that they had taken up a position on the porch of a house under construction on the northwest corner of the intersection of Lefoy and Kellogg streets.

At 2:30 o'clock Kron came walking by the officers south on Kellogg street. Officer Field stepped out and accosted him and, according to the officer, Kron asked him by what

NURSE BATTLES FOR HUSBAND'S LIFE AT ATHENS

Little Hope for Recovery of King Alexander—Monarch Popular.

Paris, Oct. 23.—King Alexander of Greece, who is critically ill as a result of injuries inflicted upon him by a monkey, passed a very quiet night, according to advices received by the Greek legation in this city and made public at 10:55 o'clock this morning. It was said the king's temperature was 102.2 fahrenheit and that his condition was stationary.

Little hope for the recovery of King Alexander is entered by Dr. Georges Fernand Vidal, a noted French physician specialist, who has returned here from Athens.

The people of Athens are following the progress of King Alexander's illness with the deepest interest, says the Athens correspondent of the Journal, who says the king won great popularity in that country. The morganatic wife of the king, known as Mademoiselle Manos, who was a trained nurse, remains at the king's bedside, night and day, fighting for his life with all the skill and experience she gained during the war.

ASK BOND ISSUE.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The Baltimore & Ohio railroad today applied to the interstate commerce commission for authority to issue 6 per cent refunding and general mortgage bonds to the amount of $32,744,000.

MYSTERY HIDES DEATH OF GIRL

Unidentified Victim of Strangler in Staten Island Morgue.

New York, Oct. 23.—(United Press.)—The body of a young unidentified girl who was strangled to death by a noose of white cord tied in a hangman's knot under the right ear, lay in the Staten Island morgue today, while police attempted to solve the murder mystery.

The body was discovered by two hunters on Staten Island in a desolate stretch of ground overlooking New York bay, a spot long known to police as a rendezvous for "spooners." The body was hidden in a thicket with clothes scattered about.

The woman was lying on her back. Trampled brushes on all sides gave evidence of the girl's struggle against death.

The girl, about 25, according to police, weighed about 125 pounds. She had been dead approximately 48 hours. She was attired in a natty blue serge suit, yellow satin and white muslin underskirts trimmed with lace, pink bloomers, black silk stockings tied with pink ribbons, tan oxfords and a white corduroy bonnet.

Centre Ties Score.

Kreger replaced Ford at left guard for Centre. The first down was on Harvard's 34-yard line. McMillin slipped through Hubbard for nine yards. Roberts in a mass play at the same spot gained a scant two feet. Roberts made it first down on Harvard's 13-yard line. McMillin made a yard along the side line of the field. McMillin, receiving a long pass into the backfield, started around Kane's end and, seeing that his path was blocked, reversed himself and circled right end for a first down on Harvard's 3-yard line.

Armstrong was stopped in his tracks in a plunge against Harvard's ring wing. Captain McMillin rushed about frantically encouraging his players to make a tying score. Roberts slid through Tolbert and Faxson for a touchdown. Weaver kicked the goal, tying the score. Score end first period: Harvard, 7; Centre, 7.

Centre Shoots Ahead.

On the resumption of play Centre made two short gains and then was set back 15 yards for holding. Roberts plunged through center for a first down on the Crimson 40-yard line. Whitnell punted out of bounds on Harvard's 37-yard line. On the first lineup, Harvard gained seven yards when Owen broke through Montgomery into Centre's secondary defense.

Owens massed his way to Centre's 9-yard line. Owens' smash put the ball within three yards of Centre's goal line. Horween finally dove through Centre's defense for the second touchdown. Faxson kicked goal. The score: Harvard, 14; Centre, 14.

Up to this stage it had been one of the most remarkable games ever played before a big eastern throng of spectators. The brilliant plays coming with stunning frequency.

Great Run Back.

Harvard kicked off to McMillin on Centre's 15-yard line and the latter ran the ball back 19 yards before he was checked.

Buell, Harvard's best field goal kicker, replaced Fitzgerald at quarterback. With the ball on Centre's 34 yard line, Buell attempted to field goal, which fell 10 yards short and the first half ended with the ball in Centre's possession on her 13-yard mark. Score: Harvard, 14; Centre, 14.

Third Period.

In the second half Fitzgerald replaced Buell at quarterback for Harvard. Harvard kicked off to McMillan on Centre's 15-yard line, and the latter ran the ball back 12 yards.

Centre punted, the kick being high and going out of bounds after a seven-yard gain.

Harvard was given five yards for off-side play.

Horween, on a mass play on Centre, gained three yards. Churchill sprinted around Centre's left edn and was forced out of bounds tow yards from the southerners' goal line.

Horween made a scant yard in a line plunge, and on the next play smashed under the Centre line for Harvard's third touchdown. Faxson kicked the goal. Score: Harvard, 21; Centre, 14.

King replaced Chinn as left end for Centre and on the kick off Owen caught the ball on Harvard's 10-yard line and ran to his own 39-yard line before being downed.
