WILSON WILL WAIT FOR VICTORY

...shake hands with them as ... the fight back to sup... himself on his cane while his ... has not recovered its full ... That was the purpose of his ...

Head Was Bowed.

... the president spoke, his head ... bowed. He did not stand with ... some erectness which has so ... characterized his meetings ... people in the White house. His ... were turned downward. His ... was not strong but it was ... His callers heard and under... every word spoken. The oc... called for formality and Mr. ... spoke in a quiet tone saying ... would communicate a message ... congress the next day. He used ... word "communicate" and did ... say whether he would send his ... to be read by a clerk or ... read it himself.

All day Monday the president felt ... to go to congress in per... His physicians and advisers ... against it. And the truth is ... not until one hour and a half ... congress met on Tuesday ... the president yield. He hoped ... the end he might ... strength to speak his farewell to ... congress.

Expression to Faith.

Why ... message? It was ... to give ... that keeps burning for ... the faith in and loyalty ... of the ultimate partnership with other ... nations for the preservation of ... world peace. It was because we ... wanted to express face to face with ... his opponents this personal para... graph, and conclusion of his fare... wage:

"I have not so much laid before you a series of recommendations, gentlemen, as sought to utter a confession of faith, of the faith in which I was bred and which it is my solemn purpose to stand by until my last fighting day. I believe this to be the faith of America, the faith of the future, and of all the victories which await national action in the days to come, whether in America or elsewhere."

His Valedictory.

The foregoing is Woodrow Wilson's valedictory to congress. He may send other messages, he may issue other statements but it was meant to be his answer to the election returns of last November. He clings still to the conviction that his cause will be vindicated. He repeats again and again to his friends an epigram which he first used eight years ago in the political campaign: "I would rather fail in a cause that I know some day will triumph than to triumph in a cause that I know some day will fail."

Amid all the excitement of the ... the joy of the Republicans ... and the earnest hopefulness which ... Warren Harding displayed in his ... opening speech to the senators, ... there was a shadow of tragedy ... over at the capitol which fast ... friends alike realized that the spirit ... of Woodrow Wilson had not suffered ... severe ... through the great figure ... in the doorway stood downward in ... physical defeat.

ERIE

(Special Correspondence.)

The regular meeting of the Erie Woman's club held Tuesday afternoon, was well attended, and was of great interest to all. Another pleasant surprise was given the ladies upon entering, when they found the room had been fitted up with new window shades and lace curtains, and a new rug on the floor, the work of the house committee, assisted by the president and R. L. Burchell. It was announced by the president that the furnishings had been loaned for the day by Mr. Burchell, with the privilege of buying them if the members were so disposed. Upon its being put to a vote, the ladies were unanimous in the decision to purchase them. With the new piano purchased previous to the last meeting, the room is now a homelike and pleasant place to meet. During the business meeting, three new members, Mesdames E. M. Seely, Violet Cross and Myrtle Joslin, were received. Another department committee was added to the club, in the appointment of a flower committee, composed of Mesdames Mary Mauer, Emma Potter and Ada Francis. It was "bible day," and a sacred program was given, opening with a vocal solo by Mrs. Vallie Pfundstein, accompanied by Miss Jennie Matthews as pianist. In response to roll call, scripture verses were given by the members, followed by another selection by Mrs. Pfundstein. Rev. Clara Babcock, who was the speaker for the afternoon, gave a splendid address on "The Bible," in a very impressive way, which was thoroughly appreciated by the ladies. At the close of the program, a vote of thanks was given Mr. Burchell in having the carriage ... and rug placed in time for the meeting.

Mrs. Ira Halcott returned to her home in Erie Monday evening, from Winslow, Ill., where she spent the past 10 days with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry ... ton.

Mrs. John Carstenson is reported to be seriously ill with a complication of diseases at her home in Erie.

GATELY'S

ESSENTIALLY NOT A CREDIT HOUSE IN THE GENERAL ACCEPTION OF THE WORD, GATELY'S DOES OFFER, WITHOUT THE SLIGHTEST INCONVENIENCE IN COST OR CONDITION TO ITS PATRONS, A CHARGE ACCOUNT SERVICE THAT PEOPLE OF REFINEMENT APPRECIATE.

December 10, 1920

To our Customers and the general Public:

The purpose of this letter is to advise you of our 25% DISCOUNT SALE which goes into effect Saturday Dec. 11th and continues throughout the month.

This sale is for a two-fold purpose, 1st, because of the downward tendency in prices of raw wool and woolen fabrics, and 2nd, to make a clean up of the merchandise we now have on hand so as to carry over into the new year little, if any, of our present stock.

A peculiar condition exists at this time, the general public look with suspicion on many of sales now running, but Gately customers who are familiar with our policy have confidence in any and every statement we make.

Every garment was purchased at the lowest price level, making our regular prices beyond question the lowest, then deduct therefrom the additional 25% DISCOUNT. You can feel assured this price represents a substantial saving and prices as low as these for equal qualities will not be quoted again this year. This sale means much at this time when everyone is planning to give a useful gift for the coming Christmas, what is more appropriate than wearing apparel as a Christmas gift?

It is a well known fact that Gately prices are based on a reasonable profit, our buying power, the ability to purchase in the largest possible quantities, even to taking over the entire outputs of well known factories enables the Gately organization to sell at the lowest possible prices.

Do not miss this sale, it means a savings that you are sure to appreciate.

Our charge account service is at your disposal, as usual.

Sincerely,

GATELY'S

307-309 Twentieth Street,

P. S. Special for Saturday--We have selected Forty Ladies Cloth coats, sizes 13 to 38, to sell while the supply last at $14.75.
