Enjoy Annual Program by Madam Standish

The annual program of the Davenport branch of the Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Sweeney, president of the club, on Monday evening, Dec. 17. The program was a most interesting one, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of guests present. Madam Marie Standish, Davenport, assisted by Mrs. Emma Menka, composer, presented the artists appearing following the harp numbers by Mrs. Loreta Murphy, who responded after her first two numbers with "Holy Night." Madam Standish was delighted with her interpretation of medieval legends and story songs which dated as far back as the 11th century. She appeared in various costumes in each of her songs, and was a beautiful picture in the quaint lessons of the past. The remarkable historic and dramatic interest of these legends was greatly enhanced by the excellent musical backgrounds as sung by Mrs. Loreta Murphy.

Following the prelude by Miss Murphy, Madam Standish appeared in a handsome carmen velvet gown of 18th century style, with the quaint headdress and flowing veil of the time, and gave the legend of the great St. Nicolas as it is told in every child in France. Her second number in this group was the Romance of Princess Anne, a historical legend in romance form of the period of 1680. So vividly did she portray her character that one could almost see the beautiful success in her suffering and ending the clever trick on her royal lover, gaining for husband the one she loved. Miss Menka gave splendid interpretations of Debussy's "L'Isle Joyeuse" in G and Borikie's "Blonde," following which Madam Standish gave two pretty French stories. The first was one of her favorites, "The Town Crier's Story," which tells of the duke of Guise, who was assassinated by order of Henry III for being "almost greater than the king." She appeared in this number in a handsome garb such as to be used before the advent of the newspapers. It was of purple and gold. "Le Mari Debarasse de sa Femme" (A Story of Married Life) was a clever number as interpreted by the entertainer. Following a group of four MacDowell numbers, each beautifully given by the pianist, Madam Standish appeared for her last group in the quaint garb of our grandmothers' day, with brocade skirt, lace mill and shawl and tiny parasol. Madam Standish wore earrings, cameo, shawl, and carried an umbrella which belonged to her great-grandmother and were heirlooms in her family. "Do Honor to Your Birth," a song of the time of Marie Antoinette (1790), "The Keys of Canterbury" (Old English, 13th) and "The Bayreuth" (Old Irish, 1850), followed by an encore, "Two Mics," concluded the program.

Six recommendations were made by the board at the business session which preceded the program. First was the enforcing of the rule which calls for the presentation of membership cards at each meeting. The second was the plan to investigate possible meeting places for the club and secure bills for rental. Endorsing of the Sheppard-Towner bill, appointment of Mrs. H. W. Ward as chairman of the thrift committee, decision to hold an adjourned meeting of the board to act on applications for membership, and the suggestion that the guest fee not apply to membership fees were the other matters presented.

Mrs. H. S. Bollman, chairman of the city welfare department gave a report of the work being done and the plans for the Jan. 14 meeting. Mrs. Fred DeLong reported for the study department, which holds its next meeting on Dec. 27, when modern French drama will be studied, with Mrs. W. H. McConochie as leader and Mrs. W. J. Sweeney in charge of the parliamentary law drill. She asked for cooperation from the members in giving magazines for the Watertown hospital. Any club member having some can leave them at the McKinley Hardware company, the Fraser coal office, or at the Battles residence on Second avenue. Mrs. S. J. Nyquist, chairman of the music department, gave a brief report, and Mrs. I. S. White, chairman of the legislative committee, read an explanation of the Sheppard-Towner bill which is to be presented to congress, and the club approved the action of the

Many Parties Will Make Merry Season in the Tri-Cities

The Tri-cities will be busier with parties, teas and dances this week than they have been for many years during the Christmas season. Both the younger and older social sets will be tossed, dined and enjoy dancing parties. Many large private affairs have been planned, some being given in honor of young people who are home for Christmas while others are for older folks.

Starting the festivities is a tea which Mrs. B. E. Jones and Miss Paany are giving this afternoon at their home, 937 Twenty-third street, for the Tri-city younger girls and matrons to be followed by a dinner party this evening. Dr. and Mrs. William F. Sperser of 2433 Brady street, Davenport, are host and hostess this evening at a dinner at the Davenport Outing club.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watson Griggs of No. 14 McClellan Boulevard, Davenport, give a dancing party tomorrow evening at the Outing club and Wednesday evening Miss Grace Murphy and Lawrence Murphy give a dance at Rock Island arsenal golf club.

The Tri-city Art League costume ball Thursday evening at the studio and Music Center will be an affair in which probably all Tri-city people will be interested while the Terrace Gardens in Davenport open on the same evening and many smaller parties will be held there. Mrs. W. G. Smith of Davenport, entertains at a tea on Thursday afternoon at the Outing club for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. E. Gardner Smith of St. Louis.

Saturday evening there will be a Christmas party at the Rock Island club and on the same evening at the Outing club there will be a dinner and children's party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Richardson of 1802 East River Drive, Davenport, entertain at a dance Monday evening, Dec. 27 for their son David N. Richardson. The Tri-city Hellenic association, The Damsel is dated for Tuesday, Dec. 28 at the Terrace Gardens. Mesdames L. S. McCabe, C. J. Searle and J. L. Vernon give a dance at the Rock Island club Wednesday evening, Dec. 29 for their sons and daughters who have been away at school and will be here for the holidays. The Rock Island club dinner dance is scheduled for the same evening and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dorgan of Davenport, entertain at a dancing party for their daughter, Miss Irma on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Hosford of Moline give a dinner preceding the dance to be given by Mr. and Mrs. John Deere Cady of Moline at the golf club for Miss Alice Skinner, a debutant of this season.

Thursday afternoon, Dec. 30, the Misses Dorothy and Frances Rhoads, of 1032 Twenty-first street, are entertaining some 100 Tri-city young women at a tea. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McCullough of Davenport, give a dance at the Outing club for their son, Harry, on Thursday evening and New Year's will be ushered in with a climax of parties. Besides many private affairs, there will be many larger dances. Among those to be held in Rock Island are the dance at the Rock Island club, the Grotto dancing party and the one sponsored by the Elks.
