Songs—Group of girls from Zion Lutheran church. Address (in English)—Mrs. J. Ev. Eld.

Vocal solo—Miss Celeste Olson. Remarks—Rev. G. A. Brandell, Grace Lutheran church.

It is expected that 100 delegates and members from 12 churches in the district will attend the session.

RAID DANGER FARM; STEAL 10 CHICKENS. Thieves stole 100 Buff Orpington chickens from Charles Denger's orchard, six miles northwest of Davenport, yesterday morning.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS. Sealed proposals will be received until 11 o'clock a. m. on the 11th day of October, A. D. 1922, by the Board of Local Improvements of the City of Aledo, Illinois, for improving and extending a sewerage disposal plant, in said city in conformity with an ordinance passed and with plans and specification adopted, and now on file with said board, estimate of improvement being the sum of $11,520.

All proposals shall be sealed and addressed to the president of the board and must be accompanied by cash or certified check for an amount not less than 10% of the amount of the enclosed proposal, which amount shall be forfeited to the board in case of the failure of the bidder to enter into contract with the board, with an approved bond as required.

Payments will be made by the board in special assessment bonds or vouchers issued against an assessment levied and confirmed, by the county court, which bonds or vouchers shall bear interest at the rate of 6% as provided by law.

The board reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award a portion of the work as conditions may require. Aledo, Illinois, Sept. 28, 1922. W. K. WELLS, President. RALPH THEISE, Secretary. WILLIAM HAYMAN.

Board of Local Improvements of Aledo, Illinois. WISE WOMEN. A famous medical man of ancient times states regarding his writings that they are but a collection of knowledge obtained from the "Wise Women."

Plays and Players

Fort Armstrong—May Carr in "Silver Wings". Spencer Square—Harold Lloyd in "Grandpa's Boy" and Shubert Vandeville.

Majestic—"Living Lion". Capital—Katherine McDonald in "White Shoulders". Grand—William Cooper in "King of the Coast".

Columbia—Thursday through Sunday, six acts of Orpheum vaudeville; Oct. 10 and 11, "Shipboard's Eighth Wife". Grand—Grand Players in "Three Wise Fools".

Coliseum—Oct. 19, Sousa's band. Mabel as an Acrobat. Mabel Normand is coming to the Fort Armstrong tomorrow in her latest Goldwyn comedy, "Head Over Heels".

In this comedy, Miss Normand arrives in the American theatrical office of Sterling & Lawson, as a "fad", whom one of the partners had discovered abroad. However, she is far from being a star and is nothing more than a fat acrobat.

But she has a temperament that explodes all over the office. At the suggestion of a press agent, and as a last resort, the "impossible" star is taken to a beauty parlor, from which she emerges with all the trappings of superlative beauty.

Now, however, the theatrical director sees other possibilities in Tina, but these center about a matrimonial future. And here is where Mabel Normand gives another exhibition of temperament. It would be unfair to those who will enjoy "Head Over Heels" to disclose the solution of the plot.

However, it reveals Mabel Normand in the performance of humorous acrobatic feats of which she is mistress. The cast includes Raymond Hatton, Hugh Thompson, Russ Powell and Lionel Belmore. The picture was directed by Victor Schertzinger and Paul Bern.

O'Brien Minstrels Score. Fun, of the clean, clever variety, and the haunting melodies of old-time songs kept the audience at the Columbia well entertained last night when Neil O'Brien's Minstrels played to a well-filled house. Scarcely a number was given that did not call for hearty applause and many of the vocalists responded with several encores.

The comedians proved to be clever on their feet. Their offering of popular songs and jokes was excellent and the house echoed with laughter during their offerings. The serious selections given by the vocalists was splendid and many an old-time popular song was received with enthusiasm by the listeners.

At the end of the first act, an elaborate scenic display of battle scenes in the late war was shown. The soldiers' bonus song, "Let's We Forge," was sung during this scene. Any reference to remember the service men usually proves popular, and last night was no exception.

A comedy farce, "Rufus in the Lion's Den," written by Neil O'Brien himself, made up the second part of the program. The humorous attempts of a colored brother to tame a lion, even though it was hypnotized, was the theme of the offering. Perhaps the most popular part of the program was the offering of old-time songs and dance hits familiar to early day minstrel patrons.

Members of the chorus took the part of darktown belles and beaux. Gene Pearson, the small soprano, claimed his share of attention. His voice was very clear and when he took the high notes it was almost impossible to believe that a man was singing. Such songs as "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and "That Wonderful Girl," were presented by this group.

A clever comedy sketch, "Put and Take, Bankers," featuring the comedians of the cast was given next. Jay Clay, known as the walking literary digest, entertained with talks on topics of the day and vocal selections. A playlet in three scenes, showing the mysterious development of a deep weird plot, called "A Certain Party," concluded the program.

Here the comedians had a chance to score another hit, which they did with little effort. The company carries its own orchestra. The settings were unusually attractive and the lighting effects used during the different scenic display good.

"Old Homestead" Coming. Perhaps you are old enough to recall Denny Thompson in "The Old Homestead". If you are you will agree that it was one of the greatest heart interest plays of its day. Well, the story has been filmed, and all of the sweet romance and the thrills, with plenty of new ones, have been retained, and it's coming next week to the Spencer Square. Dan Roche, whose business it is to let the movie fans in advance information about Paramount pictures, has come to Rock Island, and he has left his card at the newspaper offices, with stories about "The Old Homestead". If we can believe all that Dan says about this picture, and Dan has spent far in his life in Washington's recording for veracity, Rock Island movie lovers need week are going to be afforded the treat of their lives. Dan declares that one story some future day boasting another photograph, and if he has got us all excited over "The Old Homestead", and the picture does not live up to his promises—well, we'll personally agree to head a party organized for the purpose of telling Dan that he has sprung his last picture story on the credulous customer in Rock Island. So we're all excited up over "The Old Homestead". We believe it's a great picture simply because Dan Roche says so.
