

LETTO NOT EYING COURT; JUST TELL WHY

Sam Landretto ordered to produce record of account held by Underworld Character.

Sam Landretto's troubles apparently only began when a jury in the circuit court granted his wife, Lizzie, a divorce.

Landretto settled the little matter of $250 attorney's fees, and traveling expenses and the $5 a week allowance directed by Judge Nels A. Larson, pending full settlement of the family accounts, has not been forthcoming. The court gave Sam 30 days to settle that bill and yesterday was the tenth day.

Mr. A. Weid, who appeared for Landretto, was before the court this morning to get an order against the First Trust and Savings bank, Chicago, to produce all records of the Landretto checking account, since September, 1915.

This record will go before the master-in-chancery for division of the property rights and settlement of the financial partnership. About to leave the court room, Mr. Weid recalled that Sam hadn't paid any attention to the order for payment of the attorney's fees nor the alimony, so he petitioned the court to have Landretto cited to show cause why he was not in contempt for failure to comply with the court's orders.

It seems probable that unless Sam effected a settlement or some sort of agreement today with Lizzie's attorney he faced a prospect of a few days in jail.

Meantime an order will be served on the Chicago bank to produce within 10 days full record of the deposits, withdrawals and transfers of funds held either in individual or separate accounts. It is charged that at one time the Landretto account ran as high as $7,000, placed in the Chicago bank lest any of Landretto's underworld overlord should learn of his financial prosperity and force him to share it. Lizzie believes that there is $4,000 available in cash and Liberty bonds now and she wants her share. Division of this money will rest with the master-in-chancery, to whom settlement of the finances has been referred.

A record of the Landretto bank transactions, it is said, will show that a joint account was held until a few days before the first of the current year. Then Sam, acting within his rights in the joint account, withdrew everything. A few days later he redeposited the fund, but in his own name.

This transpired at the time Sam and Lizzie had agreed that they had reached the parting of the ways and Lizzie was preparing to file her divorce petition.

AGENT GINDERS QUITS AS CHIEF LIQUOR SCOUTS

Man Who Resigned R. C. Gosse and Party After Gabel Murder Completes Work for State.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Eugene E. C. Andrews was designated today by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, to be acting prohibition director of Illinois, effective Saturday. He will succeed Charles A. Gregory, who announced some time ago he would retire.

An Associated Press dispatch from Chicago today announces the resignation of Guy W. Ginders, chief field agent for the Illinois prohibition director's office. Ginders headed the rescue squad of prohibition agents that hurried to Rock Island by automobile when Agent R. C. Gosse and his associates were manacled by the crowd that was attempting to rush on evidence that had been given to the government by William Gabel, whose murder had occurred a few nights previously.

Gosse and his associates had received intimations that they were to be waylaid. They had been furnished police protection, but feared this would not be sufficient in the event that the crowd that was after them decided to carry out their more drastic plans. Ginders and his party reached Rock Island at noon and Gosse and his associates were driven back to Chicago under armed guard.

With the report of Ginders' resignation also comes announcement that Illinois Prohibition Director Charles W. Gregory is to retire. Director Gregory's resignation was submitted to Washington some time ago. Mr. Ginders' resignation was presented to be effective immediately, but he will remain until Jan. 1 at the request of Washington officials. It was announced here today.

Mr. Gregory, whose home is in Lovington, Ill., will remain a few days in closing up the current accounts of the prohibition office, and expects to leave Dec. 5 with the Illinois waterways commission for Washington for a series of conferences.

HUNT TO ENTER RACE IN MOLINE FOR MAYORALTY

President of School Board Says He Will Not Sidelstep Duty If People Want Him.

(Special Moline Service.)
Wilson P. Hunt, back from his moose hunt in the wilds of Canada, announced this morning that he would not sidestep his duty if the majority of the people of Moline want him as mayor.

Mr. Hunt's name has been mentioned persistently in connection with speculative talk concerning the spring election. Mr. Hunt's election, many of his friends contend, would mean an ideal business administration. As many declare that Mr. Hunt is one of the few men in Moline who is strong enough to defeat Mayor Skinner, and Skinner they add, is a good mayor.

"I am not seeking the office," Mr. Hunt said. "If I become mayor of Moline it will mean a big sacrifice to me in a business way, but if the majority of the people want me as mayor I will not sidestep my duty."

"But if I am a candidate it will be as an independent. I will not be tied to no one. I will not be bound by any prelection promises to any party or any group."

Mr. Hunt is president of the Moline Tool Co., and president of the Moline board of education. He is essentially the "business man's candidate," capable of administering the affairs of the city on an economical basis.

Should Mr. Hunt decide to enter the race, the election contest will be between he and Skinner, many declare. C. W. Sandstrom, Louis C. First, John Swanson and other probable candidates would be eliminated at the primary, it is believed. Mayor Skinner is the only one who has made definite announcement of his intention to run for the office. All of the other men mentioned as probable candidates say it is up to the people.

THE WOMAN OF POISE

Once a rarity, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. Indeed, no other woman can flourish long in the midst of this modern, complicated life. In the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins, while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the nervous system of women.—(Advertisement.)

Team Work in the Tri-Cities
Tomorrow we have another demonstration of the fact that the Tri-Cities form a wonderful working unit. The football game at Browning Field in the afternoon between the Moline and Davenport High Schools is the demonstration.
Both teams are earnest and eager and "just rarin' to go." They have been "pepped up" by not only their respective schools, but also by their respective townspeople.
Yet there is no animus—no hatred—nor will there be whichever way the game goes.
Both schools have shown time and time again that they are "game losers." They have shown, each of them, many more times that they are "good winners." As the schools are, so is the community and so will it be. When our schools produce game losers as well as good winners, we are safe.
Our opinion is that tomorrow's game will be one of the cleanest, best played exhibitions of high school football we have ever had the opportunity to see. Let's go—with the crowd! The game starts at 2:30 p. m. at Browning Field. Take any street car and transfer, if necessary—fare 5c with an Identification Card. The street cars will also be waiting for you when "time is called."
