The newspaper man's best friend is the man or woman who gives him items of news. There are people we know, however, who have such a prejudice against telling a newspaper man anything that if they died they wouldn't say anything about it, says an exchange. If a baby is born to you, give it in for publication—that is, the item, not the baby. If you have visitors send us their names and residence. If you have made a successful financial speculation and have money in your pocket, give it to us—that is, the item, not the money. Newspapers run without money.

The closing entertainment in the Rock Island Lecture association course will be a lecture on "The Reign of the Demagogue," by John Temple Graves, instead of Thomas Dixon, of Atlanta, Ga., next Tuesday evening at Harper's theatre. Reserved seats can be had on Monday at the usual place—50 cents. All persons intending to subscribe for tickets for next year are requested to do so on Tuesday evening on cards that will be given them at the door. It will save the association much time and trouble if every one who intends to subscribe will do so that evening. Your subscription may be withdrawn before September if you find you cannot attend the course.
