Maj. H. C. Connelly has purchased the property of Miss Mary T. Keller immediately adjoining his Second avenue homestead, at a cost of $1,500, and will remove the buildings now occupying it, and convert the grounds into a lawn, giving him one of the most delightful pieces of residence property in the city.

Another little batch of brick was delivered on Twenty-third street by the National Clay company the other day, and it was soon put in by the Edwards & Walsh Construction company, who have now managed to get across Seventh avenue. Meanwhile, the work on Seventeenth street remains in an unsettled and impassible condition. The National Clay company is arousing much indignation on the part of property holders by its manifest inability to cope with the situation, and at the present rate it is supplying material the improvement on Twenty-third alone will be stretched out all summer, while the people living on the other streets are suffering inconvenience and delay that is simply outrageous.

Police Points.

Jacob Grove was arrested for living in a boat at the foot of Fourth street, it being contrary to the city ordinance. Officer Ryan brought him to the station, and he was released on the payment of costs and his promise to leave town. He will move to the Davenport side today.

GEORGE F. DOWNES DEAD.

A Well Known Citizen Breathes His Last—Biographical.

George F. Downes died at 7:50 this morning at his home, 706 Elm street. For some months Mr. Downes had been at Riverton, Ala., engaged with contract work for the firm of E. P. Reynolds & Co., and while there he was taken with pulmonary and bowel troubles, which finally culminated in an ailment of the stomach. Three weeks ago he was brought home from the south, and he has been very ill since.

Mr. Downes was born at Cambridge, Mass., March 2, 1829, and at Farmington, Mass., Oct. 1, 1851, he and Miss E. Rice were united in marriage. For many years he was master carpenter at Watertown arsenal under Gen. Rodman, and he came under orders from that officer to Rock Island arsenal in April, 1866. Rock Island has been his home since. He served as boss carpenter under W. M. Channon at the arsenal until Dec. 20, 1873, when he became identified with the firm of E. P. Reynolds & Co., with whom he has been associated since, with the exception of the short interval when he served as superintendent of streets of the city under Mayor Blanding. While he was employed at the arsenal he built the wing dam at the head of the island, and while in the city's service he put in the dyke at the lower end of town, thus saving the city from inundation during high water. He was an expert in his undertaking in the line of construction, industrious and painstaking, always genial and happy hearted—indeed, one whom everyone knew was to like thoroughly. He was a staunch democrat, and a worker in the party ranks.

With the widow the following children survive: Mrs. G. N. Brandon, Jefferson, Iowa; Nathaniel Downes, Fairbury, Neb.; an engineer on the C. & N. P. railway; Mrs. E. P. Chaney, of Moline; Mrs. T. E. Caverly, of Davenport; Mrs. Bertha Reaugh and Miss Hattie Downes, of Rock Island.

The funeral is to be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from the house on Elm street.

John Doyle.

John Doyle, Sr., died at 11 o'clock Sunday evening at his home, 501 Fifteenth street, of softening of the brain. Mr. Doyle was 86 years of age, and leaves, beside his wife, the following children: Eugene, and Mrs. John Quinlan, of Fountain City, Wis.; William, Daniel, John, Jr., Mrs. William Boehme and Mrs. William Bartley, of Rock Island. The funeral occurs Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church.

WELCOME HOME.

The Rodman Rifles Return From Springfield Valley.

At Springfield Valley quiet once more reigns, and Company A has broken camp and is home. Capt. E. M. Cook received orders yesterday from Governor Altgeld to return home, but when some of the people of Springfield Valley were made acquainted with this fact, telegrams began to fly to Springfield, asking that the company be left at least three or four days longer, but the governor thought all danger of lawless acts over and ordered the militia home. Train No. 1, on the Rock Island, due in Rock Island at 5:10 p. m., pulled into the Rock Island depot at 5:30 last evening. On the train were two special coaches, containing the Rifles and their baggage. At the depot the two coaches were detached and brought to the R. I. & P. depot, where Bluer's band met them and escorted the soldiers to the armory.

Here someone proposed three cheers for the boys, and they were lustily given. Then Captain Cook proposed three cheers for their Rock Island friends, and these were given no less heartily.

Their Appearance.

The boys presented a most warlike appearance as they marched down Second avenue. They were dusty and hard looking. It was impossible for them to get shaved in the Valley, because they were blue coats, and some of the faces were adorned with an 8 days' hirsute growth. Of course, some of the society boys were shaved for the dance which was given Saturday evening, and they necessarily put up a pretty appearance. But for the most part, the boys looked pretty hard after the Springfield Valley campaign. Nearly every one of them had in his knapsack some souvenir of the lawless band, and one of the Rifles brought home a poster calling the attention of the miners to the fact that they were all expected to attend the funeral of one of the miners killed by the regulars, and signed "By order of many miners."

The Banquet.

Tonight at the Rock Island house occurs the banquet in honor of the company. It promises to be a very pleasant affair.

Insulted.

An American traveler relates that, alighting at a hotel in Granada, a man at the door put out his hand toward him. The traveler supposed that the man was the porter of the hotel and offered him his valise. The man stepped back, tossed his head and frowned scornfully. "Carumtá!" he exclaimed. "Do you take me for a porter? I would have you understand that I am no porter."

"Indeed? Then may I ask you, sir, what you are?" "I am a beggar, sir, and asked you for alms."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Ready to Accommodate.

An exchange tells a story connected with a strike on the North British railway, during which much difficulty was experienced in finding engineers to keep the necessary trains running.

One of the substitutes, a young fellow, ran some distance past a station, and then, putting back, ran as much too far the other way.

He was preparing to make a third attempt when the station agent shouted, to the great amusement of the passengers: "Never mind, Tammas. Stay where you are. We'll shift the station."
