The transformation that has taken place at the park in order that the show might be properly presented, and the seating accommodations provided that all might enjoy the spec-tacle with comfort have been dethat the management alike as regards Charles T. Kindt, and those of the citizens of Rock Island who have given their services, to the securing of the attraction, have succeeded admirably in their every undertaking. The entertainment far surpasses every anticipation. To apply the phrase par excellence of slang parlance-"it is great."

The Spectacle.

ength of the ground is a scenic reproduction of Charlestown in colonial days. This acts as the back ground for the series of events, historical, patriotic, unique, novel, and briliant that are presented during the evening's entertainment. "Ameri-cus" in its historical conception dates back to the revolutionary period of '76. when liberty burned in the hearts of our forefathers whose patriotism gave birth to the first conception of the republic. We see those days reproduced in a flash. We witness the return of the bride and bridegroom from the colonial marriage festival, then the grand pageant with lanterns. We get a glimpse of the marching Britishers in scarlet coats under Cornwallis. We hear the bisses of the multitude whom we see thronged along the street as the invaders march by with military precision. We see with patriotic enthusiasm the entry of the continental forces and French allies under the leadership of the immortal Washington. We participate in the ovation that spontaneous impulse accords them. Then a most beautiful picture is presented—a scene beyond compare. The full chorus, the military,Otto's finely uniformed band, drum corps. Indians, negroes, children, and all auxiliaries contributing to the magnificent spec-

Then the truce is declared over, and dazzling beauty and merriment are succeeded by the grim visage of war. The movement of the troops commences, the conflict is on, we hear the clash of arms. Charlestown is devastated, Washington triumphs, the glorious starry banner waves tri-umphantly from Bunker hill. A se-ries of pyrotechnical features unex-celled before in the west, or since the World's fair, is displayed, the band plays "Hail Columbia" and the fes-tivities of the occasion are over.

Labor Congress.
The Tri-City Labor congress held a fairly well attended meeting in Rock Island yesterday afternoon. The matter of starting a tri-city daily paper was taken up and a commu-nication was read from Messrs. Reddig, of Rock Island, Bronson, of Moline, and Dromgoole, of Davenport, agreeing to start the paper providing they would be guaranteed a certain number of subscribers. No action was taken. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the principles of the populist party, and condemning the expres-sions of ex-Gov. Boies, of Iowa, on the recent railroad strike.

Speeches were made by Messrs. Lindley and Duff, and the congress adjourned.

The K. T. Camp.

Tomorrow morning at the old Sears homestead west of the Tower, begins the Northern Illinois District K. T. encampment. The tents have been encampment. The tents have been pitched, the electric lights put in and all made ready for the enjoyment of the occasion. It is expected a large number of visiting commanderies will be present and a pleasant and profitable meeting held. The Moline Light Guard Regimental band will furnish music.
