Underwear

These coolish days make one think of the cold winter ahead and proper Underclothing for the changing season. Did you ever stop to think that it is wiser to don heavier wear earlier and ward off a cold? Better suffer a little occasional extra warmth than harbor that general affliction—a bad cold. There are many good numbers, so many we hardly know where to begin. Three specials for men's wear deserve emphatic mention. Men's Wear—Heavy gray, wool mixed Shirts and Drawers everywhere 50c, here 39c. Men's Natural Wool Shirts and Drawers, the usual 98c value here 68c. Heavy gray, all wool Under Garments, very soft, fine pearl buttons, worth $1.38, price only 98c. Kid Gloves.

Early importation orders placed long before the tremendous advance in skins enables us to throw out a lot of Royal Kid Glove Bargains which cannot be duplicated later. September was Kid Glove month, everyone knows that. We'll throw out enough price inducements to make October selling do double duty. There's a host of extra good things for this week. Three items will emphasize what the department is doing: Lot 1—25 dozen Kid Gloves, very fine, soft skins, 4 handsome pearl buttons, 3-row embroidered backs in late styles, you would think $1.38 cheap for them; sale price is 98c. Colors, navy, myrtle, brown, slate and black. Lot 2—Elegant 8-button Mosquitario Suede Gloves, carefully selected skins, more durable than you generally get in this kind of a glove, $1.97 is the usually wanted price, here, for this week, $1.41. Lot 3—Ladies' plique shawl Gloves, wear forever a most, four pearl buttons, Paris points, $1.75 the price elsewhere, here $1.25. Better buy Holiday Gloves at these prices. A glove battenor given away with each pair of gloves purchased this week. Our Cloak Department. The phenomenal selling of our Cloak Department has exceeded all expectations. Early purchases sufficient we thought for a large part of the season's business have melted away as by magic and we find ourselves in urgent need of more garments. These three shipments, expected early in the week, will again prepare us for all comers. The newest consists in 4-button, 24-inch jackets made of elegant fancy cloth, Persian Lamb, Bouclés, etc. Fur and Cloth Capes have also moved rapidly and the choicest garments are going fast. Pieces of all Furs have advanced so heavily that wise people will buy now at the present low prices.
