

Couldn't Stand Upright.

June 17th, 1894.
THE DR. J. H. McLEAN MEDICINE CO.,
St. Louis, Mo.

GENTLEMEN: For about ten years I suffered with a pain in my back which I thought was caused by a strain. Sometimes it got so bad I could not stand upright or ride in my buggy. I read in your almanac of symptoms that I recognized as my own, which led me to the conclusion that my trouble was disease in the kidneys. I immediately began using

Dr. J. H. McLEAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY BALM.

It proved to be the right medicine and reached the spot. I soon lost all pain and have better health than ever before. It is more than a year now since I quit using it and have not had a pain or sick day in all that time. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for the kidneys.

Yours truly,
JNO. H. ALBIN,
TOLAREVILLE (HOLMES CO.), MISS.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

MISS CLARA BARTON HAS GONE TO RELIEVE THE ARMENIANS.

Woman in Business—Two Deserving Women—For Organization—Education of Women—Mrs. Sarah Frances Dick—Miss Anthony's Unintended Joins.

Secretary Olney has received from Mr. Terrell, the United States minister at Constantinople, a telegram saying that while the porte refuses permission to the Red Cross or to members of the Red Cross as such to distribute relief in Armenia, and thereby declines officially to recognize that society, it will permit any persons whom Mr. Terrell names and approves to distribute relief in the interior of Turkey, provided the Turkish authorities are kept informed of what they are doing.

Miss Clara Barton sailed from New York on Jan. 22, determined to go on as if there had been no interdiction of the Red Cross society, and firm in the belief that a way would open when she reached Constantinople whereby to carry relief to the suffering.

Concerning the concessions made by the porte the New York Tribune says: "In one word, Miss Barton and her associates will be compelled to perform their praiseworthy mission as private individuals instead of as representatives of the society to which they belong. This is not, however, a stipulation that is in any way calculated to deter them, for so long as they are permitted to ex-

There is a great deal of woman suffrage sentiment lying about unorganized in all our states. In Massachusetts, for instance, the State Suffrage association has only 1,100 members, yet 109,204 persons in Massachusetts have just voted for woman suffrage in that state. With a view to getting this unorganized sentiment organized, the following generous offer was made in the national suffrage convention at Washington:

Carrie C. and George W. Catt propose to pay the sum of $250 to the state, whose territory lies west of the longitude of the west line of the state of Minnesota, which shall first secure a suffrage organization based on club membership auxiliary to the State and National American Woman Suffrage association, equal to 500 to each 100,000 of the white population. The money is to be used for campaign purposes, and the offer will remain open until Jan. 1, 1900, and no longer.

Mr. and Mrs. Catt will pay $100 to the state east of said degree of longitude which shall first secure a suffrage organization based on a club membership auxiliary to the State and National American Woman Suffrage association, equal to 250 for each 100,000 of the white population, the same to be used to continue the organization in such states, and the offer to remain open until Jan. 1, 1900, and no longer.—Woman's Journal.

Education of Women. The Massachusetts Society for the University Education of Women has a beneficiary committee. In the report of its chairman, at the recent annual meeting, the fact was referred to that foreign countries support institutions in which orphan children of gentle blood may be reared in accordance with the former position of their parents. By this means the results of generations of civilization are preserved to the nation. Unfortunately, however, the idea prevails here that the boy who worked his way from the log cabin to the White House is a character of past history, and that the spirit that inspired Lucy Larcom in the mills of Lowell is no longer among our girls.

The report showed, however, that the girls who come to the attention of this committee glow with the same earnest enthusiasm that animated the noble women of the past, and in detail related that in the past year 14 girls in the departments of medicine and liberal arts have applied for loans ranging from $35 to $100. The growing appreciation that the girls feel for the society is most gratifying. The debt to them is one of honor. That no interest is charged is an expression of goodspend from women ahead of them in the race.—New York Times.

Mrs. Sarah Frances Dick, cashier of the first National bank in Huntington, Ind., is said to be the only woman holding that position in a national bank. Mrs. Dick was appointed assistant cashier in 1873, and in January, 1881, at the reorganization of the bank, she succeeded her father as cashier, and was also chosen a director, and has held these positions since that date. Mrs. Dick is a daughter of the present president of the bank. She received a common school education, and took a course of training in a business college, taking a position in the bank shortly after graduating. She was married to Julius Dick, a prominent merchant, in 1878, but the marriage did not interfere with her work.

Mrs. Dick is quick and accurate in transactions, and an expert in handling currency and coin. She has no assistant, but with accurate deftness she keeps the bank clear of a crowd during a rush of business. She writes the notes, drafts and deposit certificates, computes the interest on collections, cashes checks and discounts, etc. Mrs. Dick enjoys her beautiful home outside of business hours, and is held in high regard socially and financially.

Miss Anthony's Unintended Joins. A man took a leading part in the session of the woman suffrage convention recently, and in introducing him a slip of the tongue on the part of Susan B. Anthony caused a few people to entertain the idea that she had carried a joke to a point which made it somewhat embarrassing for the man suffragist. This was not the case, however, as the occurrence embarrassed Miss Anthony more than anybody else.

Mr. George W. Catt, whose wife is the national organizer of the association, was to present a paper on "Utah's Victory the Result of Organization; Its Lesson." In a brief speech introducing Mr. Catt, Miss Anthony said: "A man once met my father and asked him if he was the father of Susan B. Anthony, which caused my father to remark to

In like manner Mrs. Hastings was her husband's guardian angel through all the vicissitudes of his career, and during the long period of her widowhood, she had him always in mind.

Through the later years of the life of both of these interesting women they gave up a great part of their time to the labors of philanthropy, serving those who needed service, and helping from their ample means those who required help. The kindly nature, disposition and duties of both of them were known to thousands of living people, who will give them a niche in the chambers of memory worthy of their name.—New York Sun.
