

CASTILLO'S FUNERAL.

All Madrid Turns Out to Do Honor to the Murdered Spanish Statesman.

CHRISTIAN ACT OF THE SENORA

In the Name of Her Husband and for Herself she Forgives His Fatal Assassin—Thousands of Floral Tributes—What Bismarck Thought of the Dead Statesman—His Blooded Duel Near Paris Today—India Tribal Troubles.

Madrid, Aug. 14.—The funeral of Senor Canovas del Castillo yesterday was a most touching and solemn ceremony. All the troops of the garrison lined the route along which the cortege moved; the flags were lowered and the public buildings, embassies, consulates and club houses were heavily draped with

GENERAL DE CAMPOS.
More than a thousand wreaths were deposited in the death chamber. A salvo of artillery announced the starting of the funeral procession, which moved slowly through an enormous crowd in which all heads were bare and many eyes were weeping. A peculiarly poignant scene ensued as the Duke of Sotomayor, Marshal de Campos; Marquis Pazo de la Merced and the other pall-bearers lifted the coffin. Senor Canovas in a clear, firm tone said: "I desire that all should know I forgive the assassin. It is the greatest sacrifice I can make; but I make it for the sake of what I know of my husband's great heart."

Road strewn with flowers.
Through the entire distance between the death chamber and the church the road was strewn with flowers and laurels. Senor Sagasta headed the cortege, which was formed of militia, deputies, senators, generals, admirals and delegations representing all the principal bodies. The wreath of the queen regent rested upon the coffin and other floral tributes were carried in special carriages. All the shops in the city were closed, and a very large proportion of the populace that thronged the streets appeared in mourning garb. The entire garrison marched past the coffin and the service lasted from 4 until 7:30 p. m. The remains of Senor Canovas were interred in the family vault in the St. Isidore cemetery, amid salvos of artillery and the tolling of all the bells of the city.

Honored with a Royal Escort.
The military honors were those due a commander of a fortress dying in his command. The procession occupied two and one-half hours in passing a given point. Among the most notable features were deputations of the provincial councils, with mace bearers in curious mediaeval costumes, and a royal escort of palace halberds, which, according to strict ceremony, is only wont to be present at royal funerals, and was therefore a unique honor. Eight horses drew the hearse. The chief mourners were the Duke of Sotomayor, mayor dome of the royal household; General Ascarerra, temporary president of the council; with the other members of the cabinet; Senor Sagasta, the Liberal leader; the Archbishop of Madrid, and the deceased statesman's nephews. All in the procession who were not entitled to wear uniform wore deep mourning. Bismarck's Tribute to Canovas. Prince Bismarck, in his telegram of condolence to Senor Canovas, says: "I have never bowed my head before any one, but I bow it every time I hear the name of Canovas."

BLOOD IS TO FLOW TODAY.

Prince Henri of Orleans and the Count of Turin to Fight a Duel.

Paris, Aug. 14.—It is said that the duel between Prince Henri of Orleans and the Count of Turin will take place today in the vicinity of Paris, probably at Chantilly or Fontainebleau. The conditions are severe. The Count of Turin, it appears, left Italy without the authority of his superiors or the permission of the minister of war. The duel is the result of the charges made by Prince Henri against the Italian army and its officers in the campaign in Abyssinia. As soon as the officers got home after their captivity in Abyssinia they drew lots for a challenger of the prince. He refused to fight the one upon whom the lot fell because he was not his equal in rank.

Finally a challenge was accepted from General Albertone, of the Italian army, and just as arrangements were ready for the duel the Count of Turin arrived in Paris and insisted that he should be the Italian representative. Prince Henri of Orleans then accepted the challenge. The Count of Turin on his arrival at his father's house in the Rue Jean Goujon and immediately telegraphed his acceptance. General Count di Quinto and Marquis Carlo Ginori will act as seconds for the Count of Turin.

London, Aug. 14.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "On its becoming known that the Count of Turin had left Italy to meet Prince Henri of Orleans, there was a lively interchange of telegrams between King Humbert, the Marquis di Rudini, the Italian premier, and the Italian embassy in Paris. It is feared that international complications may arise."

Rome, Aug. 14.—It is said that King Humbert has sent a dispatch to the Count of Turin and another to Prince Henri of Orleans severely censuring the "boyish hot-headedness."

INDIA SITUATION THREATENS.

Reported Complicity of the Afghan Ruler with the Recent Rising.

London, Aug. 14.—The news of suspected Afghan intrigues in India is very seriously regarded here. The British newspapers published in India had already discussed the possibility of the Amer's complicity in the risings of tribesmen recently. It was reported some time ago that he had sent thousands of copies of his book on the "Jehad" or religious war, to the native Indian regiments, while anonymous letters appeared in the Indian native press glorifying the Turkish victories as "Islam's rising star," and declaring that the Amer was ready to come, like the glorious Mahmud Sabuktigin of yore, to rid India of the thralldom of the Christian yoke; bidding all the faithful to be prepared, and asserting that the riots at Chitpur were really a preliminary trial of Mohammedan strength, carefully organized by the highly educated real leaders of the community.

While the authority of the Afghan Amer over the frontier tribes is very weak, it must be remembered that the Afghan general, Gholam Haidar, commanding at Ashmar, who was in constant communication with the mullah who led the attack on Fort Shabdadker Saturday, is the Amer's chief and most trusted commander, and taking into consideration the symptoms of unrest near Peshawar since the attack on Camp Malakand the Indian government will be well advised if it makes preparations to meet all eventualities. When the two reserve brigades have been concentrated at Rawalpindi the government forces in the Punjab will be strong enough to make operations possible in any direction throughout the whole extent of the northwest. General Blood has two full brigades in Swat. General Elles has a similar force in the vicinity of Peshawar. Another reserve brigade is between Mardan and Rawalpindi; and this is exclusive of the Tachi field forces.

PRESIDENT'S OUTING.

Spends Another Day with Friends in the Green Mountain State.

VACATION IS COMING TO AN END.

One More Week and the Chief Magistrate Will Be En Route to His Post—Arrangements for His Visit to the Grand Army Encampment—Military Review Yesterday at Chester, Vt., After Which the Party Returns to Hotel Champlain.

Chester, Vt., Aug. 14.—This town was in holiday attire yesterday in honor of the visit of President McKinley. The president and his party reached here at 1 p. m. from Proctor, where they spent the night as guests of Senator Proctor. The guests of the occasion, besides President and Mrs. McKinley, included Vice President and Mrs. Hobart, Secretary of War and Mrs. Alger, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey (son-in-law and daughter of General Alger), Miss Alger, Secretary to the President, J. Addison Porter and Mrs. Porter, Representative Groat and Powers, ex-Governor Woodbury, Senator Proctor, Mr. Fletcher Proctor (his son) and Master Hobart, son of the vice president. At the station one of the largest crowds ever seen in this vicinity had gathered. Throngs of persons had come from near-by towns. The Keene (N. H.) Light Infantry mounted on bicycles, the Brattleboro Wheel Club and the Guards, of Claremont, N. H., and other organizations were among the visitors.

Provided with a Military Escort.
The local committee met the presidential party at the station. Outside the military escort was drawn up in line. Loud cheers greeted the distinguished visitors and President McKinley bowed right and left. Stepping into the carriage the party was escorted by a detachment of United States cavalry under command of Captain Henry, and staff representatives of Governor Groat, to the residence of Judge Henry, where an informal reception was held. After an hour had been spent at Judge Henry's house, the president and his fellow visitors re-entered their carriages and were driven to the camp of the Vermont National Guards, where they were received with due ceremony.

President Reviews the Troops.

President McKinley was extended the courtesies of the occasion by Governor Groat and together they reviewed the troops. After this ceremony, which the National Guard under Brigadier General Estey acquitted itself in fine style, the guests proceeded to the governor's headquarters. Here a short rest was taken. Then President McKinley reentered his carriage and amid the cheers of thousands and the booming of artillery was driven to the station and shortly after he left for Hotel Champlain, accompanied by his party.

BACK AT THE HOTEL CHAMPLAIN.

Mrs. McKinley Shows Fatigue After Her Two Days of Outing.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The presidential party returned to Hotel Champlain from Chester last evening. The entire party was fatigued, Mrs. McKinley in particular showing the effects of her two days' trip through Vermont. Last evening Governor Black and a number of other gentlemen arrived at the hotel, and the president received his visitors and was closeted with them until nearly midnight.

President McKinley does not expect to make any more long trips during his vacation, which will end this week, when he will leave for Buffalo and Canton.

Troy, N. Y., Aug. 14.—A change has been made in the original arrangements whereby President McKinley, Vice-President Hobart, Secretary of War Alger and others comprising the presidential party will leave Bluff Point Thursday morning and arrive in Troy Thursday afternoon. They will remain until Friday evening, when the president will go to Saratoga to spend Sunday. From there he will go to the national encampment at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The reception and entertainment of President McKinley was the chief subject of discussion at G. A. R. headquarters yesterday. General Curtis has received a telegram from President McKinley's secretary stating that the presidential party now expects to leave Saratoga for Buffalo at 10 a. m. on Monday, the 28th inst.

OF COURSE THERE WAS A MOB.

Attempts to Throw a Bombardier into a Fire of His Own Making.

Ironwood, Mich., Aug. 14.—Fire yesterday morning burned four buildings and John Ramota and family narrowly escaped with their lives. Henry Lenzol, who recently opened a small candy store in one of the burned buildings, was suspected of starting the fire, and a mob gathered and attempted to lynch him. The police got hold of him, however, and were attempting to conduct him to jail, when the crowd made a rush, seized Lenzol and tried to throw him into the burning buildings.

The firemen turned the hose on them and they desisted and the prisoner was finally taken to jail. It is said that he has made a full confession that he was hired by Charles Ross, who owned the buildings, to set fire to them in order to secure the insurance money. Ross has also been arrested.

Michigan Insurance Companies Warned.
Lansing, Mich., Aug. 14.—As the result of an examination made this week, Insurance Commissioner Campbell has notified the Wolverine Mutual, Tri-County and the Commercial Fire Insurance companies, all of Saginaw, that unless they collect sufficient assessments within the next sixty days to pay legitimate losses that have become liabilities, and also comply with other requirements of the law, their right to issue policies will be revoked.
