The judge declined to take the case from the jury. Then Quay's counsel announced that they would allow the mitting any evidence in behalf of the defense, and also waived the right to make the opening speech, and the district attorney began the argument in behalf of the commonwealth.

The argument was concluded, and at 3 the case was given to the jury.

Philadelphia, April 20.-Unexpectedly to almost every person interested the prosecution in the trial of Senator Quay for conspiracy closed its case yesterday. The general expression of opinion had been that the trial would drag through many more days, and when District Attorney Rothermel announced that he had concluded there were expressions of surprise from all parts of the court room. The principal witness yesterday was Expert Goldsmith, but the testimony was devoid of sensational features. The dry routine of figures and involved explanations of accounts took up most of the time. The state put or a few other witnesses whose testimony vas not interesting to an outsider. It is apparently evident that the com-nonwealth depends largely for conviction upon the testimony of its expert Meyer Goldsmith, as to his interpretations of the accounts in the "red book" and other books of the People's bank and upon the jury's opinion of the books, papers, letters, telegrams and checks offered in evidence. Colonel Bryan was accompanied by Representative William Sulzer when ne entered the hall. One of the first persons to meet them was Dr. McGlynn, who had never before been introduced to Colonel Bryan. Sulzer made the inroduction and it was most cordial. Next introduced and very cordial in their greeting were John C. Sheehan and Bolton Hall. A levee followed, during which hundreds shook Bryan's hand. Many ladies were presented. John Brisban Walker called the assemblage

o order, McGlynn saying grace. Judge William J. Gaynor, of Brook-ien, and Bolton Hall took their seats at the guests of honor table when the dinner was half over. Colonel Bryan rose and bowed to both, they returning his greeting in the same way. There was much cheering at this point. Another incident was when Mayor Jones discovered Charlotte Perkins Stetson n one of the boxes and escorted her to the guests' table. Colonel Bryan changed seats to the other side of Chairman Walker, who gave his seat to Mrg. Stetson. Other seats on the floor were also occupied as the last courses were served, there being 1,750 guests present then.

In the course of the dinner, Chairman Walker arose and asked all to drink to the memory of 'Those heroes who, on April 19, 124 years ago [battle of Lexington] gave up their lives for that liberty the danger to which is the occasion for your gathering here tonight." All rose and drank, while the band played 'The Star Spangled Banner." An oil painting of Jefferson was placed before the table of the guests of honor and Chairman Walker began the speaking Chairman Walker introduced Mayor Samuel M. Jones, of Tolede, O., and the mayor was cheered as he rose, during his speech and when he closed. All the speakers were warmly greeted, but Bryan's reception was very enthusiastic.

Bryan's speech was a culogy of Jefferson and his principles and a denunciation of the expans on policy. He read from a speech of Abraham Lincoln on the Declaration of Independence to prove that expansion was wrong. When he closed there was a mighty demon-stration. Men and women made frantic efforts to shake him by the hand, and it required the services of several policemen to rescue the speaker and escort him to one of the reception rooms. He remained until the crowd had largely dispersed, and then was driven to the Hotel Bartholdi.

Canton, O., April 20 .- The defense in the trial of Mrs. George yesterday attempted to introduce other women into the case and to show Saxton's relations to them by proving their presence in his block and at his office. Would Walt Until the Island Is Pacified and a Stable Government Established Before Going It Alone-His Plan for the Distribution of the $3,000,000-Newspapers for Annexation Outright-Del gado Hunting a Gang of Bannits.

Havana, April 20.-General Maximo omez has determined to announce to e people of Cuba his support of an American protectorate until such time as a stable independent government may be founded. This announcement would have been made today had he been able to work upon the manifesto yesterday, but that was impractiable because he passed the entire time with his two sons and his daughter, who will sail for Santo Domingo today. To the correspondent of the Associated Press General Gomez made it known that he intends to take this step after consulting the views of the leading men In his following. He is content to cooperate with the Americans until the island is pacified, the rural police orcanized, the Cuban soldiery at work and insular reconstruction far advanced. No definite period for the occupation by the Americans will be mentioned. but the manifesto will favor a cessation of the agitation for the immediate withdrawal of the United States troops.

Division of the Three Millions. The declaration will be so worded as o retain the support of those who desire independence, yet will illustrate the rnor General Brooke is aware of the purposes of Gomez, and has talked with im about them. The announcement will nclude a recital of the personal views of the Cuban commander-in-chief recarding the $3,000,000. On this point he will say that he favors buying plantations and factories in which soldiers could hold stock, drawing wages and dividends; but as the soldiers need lothes and shoes and something to tide over immediate necessities the moncy should be paid out now. He thinks he rural police should be one body, so that detachments living in one part of into districts where they would not be affected by local influences.

Editors Advocate Annexation. The paper asks 'What next?" General Alejandro Rodriguez, the new chief of police, will

DELGADO FINDS SOME BANDITS. He Is in Hot Pursuit of Them-Another

The Cuban general, Delgado, who, with four bands of Cubans, has been out in search of bandits since Sunday, has telegraphed General Gomez and General Lee that he has found a band and is in hot pursuit of them. General Lee sent a company of the Seventh cavalry under Captain Sickle to join Delgado.

At Cienfuegos the police arrested an American soldier. His companions attempted to rescue him, which brought more police and soldiers to the scene and provoked a general fight. Several shots were fired, but only one person was hurt. This was a Chinaman, who was crossing the street at the time and received a Krag-Jorgensen bullet in his leg. The soldier who had been arrested and another who had fired escaped and ran into the barracks. The police endeavored to follow, but the sentinel refused them admittance thus provoking bitter feeling. It is probable that there will be further difficulty. The sanitary department records show that the number of deaths in Havana in 1895 was 7,125, in the following year 11,-627, in 1897 no fewer than 17,910, and las year, 20,198. For the month of January of the present year the death rate reached 1,139; in February the total was 750; last month it was 259, and for the first fifteen days of April the total number of deaths was 228. A strong educational movement has resulted in the appointment of Senor Alberto Masa by the mayor as secretary of the normal school, with entire charge of the institution. The city will finance it until it is on a solid basis. The loans and contributions of the citizens to feed General Gomez and his body guard yesterday included cases of necessity of American assistance.
