Mayor McConochie today directed the filling up of all gaps left by the Tri-City Railway company on its Fourth avenue tracks pending the arrival of the joint chairs to complete its improvement there, in order to prevent accidents, which the property holders there have been in constant fear of. Since the council took action with reference to the delayed work some weeks ago the company has had a squad of men engaged in replacing the joints, as far as there was material to do it with, and Manager Lardner stated today that the material came today to complete the work, which will be done Monday.

FIRST LECTURE IS HEARD.

Dr. Bartholomew Speaks to University Extension Center.

The first in the University Extension center's series of lectures was delivered last night at the High school by Dr. E. F. Bartholomew. It was not enjoyed by as large a turnout of the members as it would have been had the weather been more agreeable. The doctor's subject was "Psychological Foundations of Human Life." He held that every phase of our life is becoming practical. Underneath this are certain principles of human life. Psychology is a practical science. Every expression has its appropriate reaction in our soul life.

Runaways.

A burr fell from the wheel of John McDonald's island back this afternoon on Third avenue and Seventeenth. The rig piled up on the sidewalk. A team of horses hitched to Schmacht's ice wagon ran from Tenth street and Sixth avenue this afternoon up to Twentieth street and Third avenue where the front reach was broken and the horses captured.

AT MCCABE'S.

Pipe racks are going fast. Popular fancy has taken them up with a rush, and the variety in style and price is great.

The most unique we have seen are from Japan; carved wood, grotesque Tartar heads, ugly pictures, and foreign in every line, a striking change from the usual row of Indian heads in clay. Double and single match stands and toothpick holders, also same style.

The prices in this display of Japanese goods are surprising.
