Seldom has there been more real baseball seen in one game on the local grounds than there was yesterday when Rockford won a 10-inning contest with a score of 5 to 4. There was not an inning that both sides were not in the game and the big crowd was intensely interested from start to finish. During the greater part of the play the score was tied.

The day was fair for ball, the diamond was in perfect condition and the prospect of a lively contest interested many Moliners and brought over a big crowd of rooters from Davenport to see for once a good game of ball. The latter were not disappointed and the way they whooped it up for Rockford kept both the grandstand and the bleachers in an uproar all the time.

The fielding was perfect up till the eighth inning, when Case made a bad pass to catch Pattison at second and allowed him to make third. It obtained nothing for the visitors, however. Then in the ninth Shelton made a bad throw over to first that allowed Lippert to live and gave things a bad aspect for a time. But this, too, came to nothing. It was in the tenth, when Rock Island had one to the good and a shut-out would have saved us the game that Donnelly dropped a fly in center that gave the run that tied the score and enabled Pattison who batted, to reach third, from which he scored on a fly out to left by Kruger.

Fielding Brilliant.
There were many brilliant plays on both sides, as is evidenced by the manner in which the ball was pounded and the smallness of the score. There was no less than 10 outs made on flies to the outfield. Williams came the nearest of anyone so far this season of making a home run by hitting the ball over the left fence in the eighth when, with one man on base, it would have won the game. The sphere, bad luck to it, curved about five feet to the left and went over outside the foul line.

Rockford scored twice in the first inning through hitting the ball at proper times. Lippert hit, was advanced on Hines' sacrifice, and scored on Conklin's 3-bagger. The latter came in on Beulow's grounder to Miller and Pattison ended the session by striking out.

Locals Get Even.
In the second and third Rock Island evened it up. Miller fanned in the former inning but Williams made good. Conwell flew to Beulow but Case hammered out a nice drive to right. O'Rourke was accorded a pass and Donnelly's hit brought the run. Shelton was out on a dusty one. In the second Graham, who has a new bat, led off with a 2-bagger. Hill advanced him with a sacrifice, and he beat the ball when Miller flew out. Williams went out on the ground. In the sixth Rock Island plucked another. Miller took four broad ones, was sacrificed on by Williams and scored on Conwell's fly out to right. Case lost his life with a bouncer into Owens' mitt.

Rockford evened things once more in the seventh. Shannon was out in the air to Shelton and Owens placed a foul in the same pair of paws. Then Lippert, a bad man to have on base any time in the inning, got a hit and scored on Hines' 2-bagger. Conklin flew out to Donnelly.

Where We Dropped It.
Nobody touched the rubber till the tenth, when Donnelly made the circuit after the following fashion: He hit for two, took third on Shelton's sacrifice and beat the ball to the plate on Graham's grounder to Hines. Graham was caught between bases and Hill floated.

It was hard luck for the locals when the visitors came to bat. Conklin dropped a warm one into Graham's tenacious and Beulow drove one over to right. Conwell ran after it and would undoubtedly have gotten it had his foot not slipped. As it was he was barely able to touch the leather and Beulow took two. Donnelly's error enabled him to score and the rest has been told. The score:

Saturday's Game.

Saturday's game was as interesting as one could wish to see. After the visitors had batted out four runs in the first inning it began to look like a slaughter of jokers, but the latter recovered and began to egg their opponents. Then along toward the latter part of the game they got their hitting clothes on and began to touch the leather in tender spots. Five hits in the seventh brought four runs and tied the score with five each. In the ninth Williams won the game with his fourth hit.

The grounds were so wet that the players felt right and left and a number of hits on both sides would have been "out," or errors for the fielders if the condition had been normal. The crowd was large and appeared to have a good appetite for ball. When the locals began to pound the horse hide the enthusiasm was something tremendous. Both sides did some superb fielding, conditions considered. Williams' assist throwing a man out at first as he sat on the ground after a fall, Conklin's catch in right and Mahoney's steady work at short were features.

Safe Hits.

Catcher Shannon, formerly with Davenport, was behind the bat for Rockford yesterday. Thiery having got his hand hurt.

faithful and conscientious manager and player, and when he makes a blunder it is only after he has done the best he knows how to perform his part.

Some have wondered that there have not been the home runs pounded over the fence this year that there were last. It will be remembered that it was common pastime for Zink to lay them over the right field fence and for Hoy and Tate to take turns in seeing which could make them bounce the highest on the pavement of Twelfth street south of the foul line. This year, however, there has not been a fair ball knocked over the fence. The difference would appear to lie in the balls, for no one doubts for an instant that all the teams that have played here are swinging the stick as hard this season as last. Some have thought it is because last year the Three-I league used the Reach ball, while this season the Spalding ball is used. It appears, however, that both balls are made by Reach and they are in all respects the same as last year. Manager Donnelly is of the opinion that a better class of pitchers this season than last has something to do with it.

That was a fine running catch of Owens' line drive in the ninth. Peachy.

Hill made a strange assist in the fourth. With Kruger on first, Mahoney batted a warm grounder to short and Hill ran against it. The ball rolled toward Miller, who stood on second, and the latter was able to pick it up in time to retire his man.

Case did nice work yesterday, striking out seven men.

Yesterday's crowd was the most musical so far this season. That chorus in the high bleachers reminded one of the time the stars sang to their.

Kohly Miller, who made his debut here in a Rock Island uniform Saturday, reports himself like a ball player. He has nothing but 0's in his error column so far.

Middleton has shifted again, this time from Evansville to Decatur.

The Centrals and West Ends played a 16-inning game yesterday in the field across the street car track from the ball park, the former winning by a score of 15 to 14. The batteries were Crowley and Ed. Colligan and Senger and Weaver.

Red Wright was released from St. Anthony's hospital Saturday. It is expected he will be able to leave with the team Friday.

The Rock Island Independents played the Rock Island East Ends at the Twelfth street park yesterday morning, defeating them by a score of 2 to 1. Atkinson, pitcher for the Independents, struck out 17 men.

The wives of Hunter Hill and Charley Case arrived in the city Saturday evening, the former coming from Utopia, Ohio.

SPEND DAY IN MILWAUKEE

Between 800 and 900 people availed themselves of the Comus club excursion to visit Milwaukee yesterday. The excursion left this city over the Milwaukee road Saturday night in two sections, about 11 o'clock. The day was an ideal one for the trip and all who went appear to feel well repaid for having done so. The entire day was spent in seeing the sights of the city and the two trains reached this city on the return after daylight this morning.

Popular Ball Player Wins Miss Emma Schafer for Bride.

CEREMONY BY REV. WILLIAMS

Couple to Live in New Home on Seventeenth Street.

A romance having its beginning when Lee D. Hopkins won his way into the hearts of Rock Island fans by his star performances in the outfield culminated Saturday evening in the marriage of the popular ball player and Miss Emma E. Schafer at the parsonage of the First Methodist church, Rev. R. B. Williams, the pastor, performing the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Schafer, 846 Seventeenth street, while Mr. Hopkins has been a resident of Rock Island since signing with the local team a year ago. Last season, it will be recalled, he was unable to play for a number of weeks owing to the fracturing of his ankle in a collision at first base with Bill Kreig, of Terre Haute.

May Finish With Sioux City. Mr. Hopkins, probably, will play out the season with Sioux City. A new home has been built for himself and bride on Seventeenth street. They will have the best wishes of all who know them in their wedded life.
