The hard-hitting Rockfordites were let down with three hits by Milton yesterday and two of those were made by Beedles, who was rattled out of the box in the seventh inning Wednesday and was put in yesterday in the sixth to take the place of Owens after the latter had been given a dose of the same medicine. Owens' bad inning cost the visiting aggregation five runs and put them so far behind that they were not able to catch up.

It was a pitcher's game. Milton gave six bases on balls, but he scattered them out one in an inning and they would ordinarily have done no harm. Errors and a decision by Umpire Head gave the Nicolites all their runs. Owens bunched three free passes in the fifth and Rock Island supplemented the gifts with three hits, the last one a two-bagger by O'Leary that brought in two runs. Wright was not in the game and Williams played first in an acceptable manner.

All in One Inning.

The locals scored only in the fifth. Then Williams cracked a line hit out to Lippert and died, Wehrbach, who was given a pass, was cut off at second when Schuler hit out a grounder and two men being down no one looked for what followed. Milton scooped up the ball and dropped it back of the second baseman. This appeared to annoy Owens, who immediately gave passes to Miller and Donnelly and forced a run. Graham hit in front of Patterson, who, in fielding the ball, got in front of Miller, who was running to third. There was a minor collision and Miller raced home. O'Leary next jammed a beautiful two-bagger to left and two more runs were registered. Wilkinson got a fly and was out.

In the second Rockford got one. Patterson was passed to first and put out at second on the next play. Krueger, who got the life, stole second, went to third on Thury's grounder and scored on Graham's error.

The Umpire's Break.

An error by Graham and a ruck decision were the means of giving the visitors two in the seventh. Thury lived on the error, which was a wild throw into the bleachers. Williams extricated the ball and Schuler got it at third in time to tag the runner easily, but he was called safe. Then he was caught off the base when Bufka hit a grounder to Graham. The latter threw to O'Leary, who failed to get the ball, and the score was made. A hit by Beedles brought the second run and then the pitcher stole a base. The next three men were out. Bufka flew out and Beedles hit for two in the ninth. Lippert went out to Schuler, Beedles getting third. Morrissey lived on a high bounce to Milton, who turned it aside, and Graham, after getting it, threw wide to first. That let Beedles in. The next man was out. Score:

TO BOOM THE CITY

Advertising on Envelopes of All Business Houses is Proposed.

HOW WESTERN TOWN PROFITED

Two Large Manufacturing Plants Secured the First Year—How to Do It.

Rock Island, Sept. 5.—Editor Argus: With the healthy growth of the city in her recent past we are all anxious to maintain this reputation among our neighboring cities.

Many schemes have been devised and have been operated successfully by other cities much larger than Rock Island, and if the plan meets the approval of the people, why not try it here?

In a certain city in a western state this plan was adopted. The business men's association acting jointly with the city council, met and adopted some important resolutions, i. e. that all correspondence carried on by the business men, hotel men and others should be mailed in envelopes upon which was printed the population of the city, its advantages for manufacturing purposes, its railroad facilities, its points of beauty; in fact, a little synopsis of the praises of the city were sung wherever these letters went.

One Year's Results.

The result was, two large manufacturing plants were procured the first year, and their coming was directly traced to the message on the envelope. Many people came to live there with the reputation of the circumstance just named.

So that, having been thus rewarded for their activity, the project was continued another year with a similar result, and today this method of advertising has become a regular business enterprise where all the citizens help to make a city which is large, larger, and adding value to their property with each new acquisition. It bids fair to be one of the largest manufacturing and commercial cities in the west.

Now with all the advantages for manufacturing that we are possessed, as well as many interesting views, I believe such a method of advertising our city will prove beneficial likewise. It can be carried out with a limited expense, and I think it is a matter well considered by any business men's association. I believe that an organization for this purpose alone, making it a regulation to print and distribute envelopes thus gotten up would receive prompt patronage sufficient to meet the necessary expenses. Let us give it a trial and perhaps in carrying out this plan some other and better plan will be submitted, and if our efforts be rewarded then we can say we have at least tried.

Activity Necessary.

Nothing short of activity and determination on the part of all members of a municipality will send it ahead or make it a leader among other cities today.

Citizens, put your shoulders to the wheel of progress and your energy behind it and let us give Rock Island an impetus that will eclipse all previous years, and with this argument we will receive what is most desired by every inhabitant of a city, that is, "To live and be a member of the leading city of cities."

G. W. McCASKRIN.

Hayes returned up town after the game he found Wenig all packed up and ready to take transportation to Chicago. Mr. Hayes labored in vain to persuade him to change his determination, but the latter remained steadfast, declaring that he would stand for no roasting from any one.

President Bourke, of the Omaha baseball team of the Western league, last evening arranged with the local management to draft Wright and Graham to go to Omaha after the close of the Three-I season and finish the year there. If they make good they will be held for next year and the Rock Island association will get the $300 draft money for each. If they do not stick they will come back here. The Omaha team will have 18 games to play after the season ends here, counting the postponed contests, and in that time it will be known whether the two Rock Island players will do.

A WONDERFUL AERIAL ACT

Extraordinary Exponents of Artistic Gymnastics.

There never has been a better nor a truer title for any kind of a troupe than that of the famous gymnasts with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' shows and called "The Ten Peerless Pottery," and the greatest aerial act on earth. The extraordinary performance given by this wonderful detatche of men and women has never been approached before. It is the first time in the history of the circus that so many acrobats have ever been simultaneously in the air, and when it is remembered that each of these ten men and women are stars of the very highest magnitude in the acrobatic firmament, and are the union of the three greatest aerial troops ever known in this country, some idea of the remarkable feats may be imagined. They will prove one of the most pleasing features ever seen with any show, and to those who are fond of perilous feats in mid air they will furnish a most agreeable topic for conversation after you have recovered from the stunning amazement their wonderful performances will cause. They will be seen here tomorrow. Great shows exhibit here tomorrow.
