Movement at Roseyille.

A movement of a different sort from the above, but with the same general object in view, opposition of the trusts, is under way at Roseville, a town on the Burlington south of Monmouth. There tomorrow the People's National Protective association will be launched with a big picnic which will be attended from all the country

The meeting gives promise of being one of great interest inasmuch as the principles of the association will be expounded by men with national reputations such as Hon. William Prentiss, Hon. Frank P.
