DROPPED HIS ROLL

E. H. Bridenstine, Iowa Farmer, Says Prof. Elwood, Clairvoyant, Swindled Him.

LATTER SUDDENLY DEPARTED

Victim Gave Him Money to "Magnetize" So It Would Reproduce.

Because he put his trust in Professor Charles Elwood, the clairvoyant, who has been at the Kimball house, Davenport, for some weeks past, E. H. Bridenstine says he is $800 shy. He told his story to the chief of police Saturday, and said that Elwood as well as his money was gone. Investigation showed that not only Elwood, but two pals of his—Shannon and Morgan—had left the Kimball house without leaving their new address. Shannon had been conducting clairvoyant parlors in this city, but boarded at the Kimball during his stay.

Bridenstine, the man who admits he was plucked of the last $800 he had, says he was anxious to make money and decided to consult Professor Elwood, whose advertisements he had read. The professor made him pay $1 down as a fee and gave him a magnet, telling him to carry it in his pocket until the next day, when he should return with money to wrap the magnet in. Bridenstine obeyed instructions and brought back some money. The bills were wrapped about the magnet, which, thus covered, was carried about for another day. Then Professor Elwood said it would be necessary for Bridenstine to bring $800 with him in order that it might be magnetized and made productive in investments.

Changed Packages. Bridenstine brought the $800, which Elwood carefully counted and placed in a large brown envelope. He pulled several newspapers from under a table and placing the envelope between them made passes and murmured mystic words. Then he pulled out an envelope and gave it to Mr. Bridenstine, who was to carry it for a certain length of time in his inside vest pocket, next his heart.

Bridenstine handed the $800 to Professor Elwood Thursday and Saturday he opened the envelope and discovered that it contained instead of the money pieces of newspaper cut the size of greenbacks. He went to find the professor at the Kimball, but Elwood and his companions had gone.

Bridenstine is a farmer from near Iowa City, but has been in Davenport for some time.

RECEIVED $28,000 FOR TWO MONTHS' KINDNESS

Because he showed a kindly interest in an old man, Fred Billings, of Sterling, formerly of Marinette, Wis., is today richer by over $28,000, willed to him by Peter Keller, a miser, who died recently at his home in Sterling, of rheumatism. Fred Billings is employed by the Sterling, Dixon & Eastern Electric railway as a freight steam engineer. He arrived in Sterling about two months ago from Marinette where he was employed by Mr. Higgins. He had much difficulty in securing a desirable house for himself and family, and after much search he made a proposition to Mr. Keller, who has for many years lived the life of a recluse, that he rent his house. The agreement was that Mr. Billings was to have his house rent free, and in return he was to take care of Mr. Keller. The old man had been living alone and the place was dirty and ran down. Mr. Billings had the place repapered, cleaned it up, and did much work about the premises. He also showed Mr. Keller much attention. This kindness appealed to the old man, and three weeks ago he made his will. In his will he left everything to Mr. Billings, a man he had known but a few months, but who had kindness and cheer to give to others.

BARNUM & BAILEY PARADE IS SAID TO BE MARVELOUS

The parade of the Barnum & Bailey greatest show on earth is this year said to be superb and most marvelous. It contains many novel features of a high educational character which are of great value to every child. The inaugural parade will take place about 10 o'clock a. m. in all cities in which the great show will exhibit.

It will be a treat to all persons, but especially to the little folks, to see the novel features specially designed for this stupendous and substantial affair. The word novel is used advisedly. For there are 29 of the most elegant and costly floats and triumphal chariots ever devised. They also contain many tableaux vivants, the figures correctly costumed in the national dress of nearly all the nations of earth, while the teams of splendid horses attached to them are accompanied by outriders, similarly attired, representing some special uniform of the nations. One of these huge floats requires a team of 40 elegantly matched horses and is driven by one man. Besides these there will be many elephants, camels, Roman racing chariots of the same character as those used in the days of Pharaoh, mounted cavaliers, ladies, and performers, displays of open dens of wild animals, carved golden cages of rare beasts, allegorical chariots illustrating children's fairy tales, nursery rhymes and fables, and a myriad new features never seen in a parade or anywhere else. For with the usual disregard of expense invariably characterizing the Barnum & Bailey show, they secured the best architects, artists and designers to construct an absolutely new parade for the pleasure of the people to signify the home-coming of the show from its triumphal tour of the world.

The following brief index is more eloquent in telling the story of this wonderful and costly pageant than anything that can be written of it, and will also be found of great service to many who may wish to know just what the allegorical floats represent, as well as indicating the characters typified by the wearers of the elegant costumes:

America—Blue and gold. Group with American on buffalo, surrounded by Canada, Columbia, Aztec, pioneer, etc. Living figures of Indian, Canadian snowshoer, Gaucho, Mexican, cowboy driver and scout, outriders. Six American soldiers in khaki.

Two Hemispheres—Pure gold. Typified both hemispheres. Continent in bas-reliefs, animals with uplifted trunks. Coat of arms of Great Britain, Germany, Austria, Belgium, Italy, Chili, Argentine Republic, Brazil, Mexico, Canada and the United States. Drawn by 40 horses.

Golden age of chivalry—Green and gold. In form of gigantic two-headed dragon with flaming tongues, fangs, blazing nostrils. Captive maiden on back and knight templar on side. Driver medieval servitor with six knights as outriders.

Fairy tales—Red and gold. Groups and living pictures representing nursery rhymes, puss in boots, humpty Dumpty, Jack the Giantkiller, Fairy Queen, Sleeping Beauty, Prince Charming, Beauty and Beast, Witch, Al Baba and the 40 thieves, Aladdin and the lamp. The outriders are six heralds, and representative of "Hearts" and "F. T." fairy tales.

Funny folks—Green and gold. All sorts of comiques and grotesques. Jack-in-the-box standing in a group of gnomes, clowns, grimaldis, pantalons, harlequins, etc., with burlesque general on horseback. Six outriders of fools and jesters with clown driver.

Our country—Blue and gold. Shields of all states. Uncle Sam driver. Altar of liberty guarded by Roosevelt and McKinley. Figures of Washington with Grant, Lincoln and goddess of liberty. On either side peace and plenty. Huge shield with enormous darters with Asiatic riders. Caravan of 28 elephants. Some with howdahs and pretty girls. Four-horse Roman chariots, with ancient charioteers. Gentlemen hippodrome riders and jockeys, lady performers and race riders. Open dens of wild beasts. Huge golden carved cages of wild animals. Comic features, clowns, acrobats. Team of four harnessed zebras. Military bands, etc., etc. Steam callopes.

G. MIXTER INJURED

Steam From Cooling Tank of His Automobile Severely Scalds His Face.

ACCIDENT ON FIFTH AVENUE

Explosion Occurs When He Seeks to Fill Tank With Water Last Evening.

George Mixter, superintendent at Deere & Co., Moline, is suffering untold agony and will be unable to fulfill his duties for some time, as the result of an accident which occurred in this city last evening. The accident was a most peculiar one, and one that most people would not have expected to occur.

Mr. Mixter had been out in his automobile, and the water in the cooling tank had run low, which of course resulted in the tank becoming charged with steam, and a high pressure of steam at that.

When Mr. Mixter reached the watering trough just below the street car barn on Fifth avenue, he decided to fill the tank. When he took off the cap for this purpose there was a rush of steam, which went into his face with terrific force, scalding the face badly.

Head Placed in Bandage. He was given surgical attention and his head bandaged in such manner that only two peep-holes and a breathing hole were allowed.

It is expected that the skin will peel from the face and that it will be some time before Mr. Mixter's face presents its normal appearance.

NOTHING YET HEARD FROM TAMPCO SCHOOL TEACHER

As yet no light has been thrown on the mystery surrounding the disappearance of F. N. Sackett, principal of the public school at Tampico, who went to Fulton June 6 to meet an insurance agent, and who went to Clinton the next day and disappeared completely. The police have made diligent inquiries, but have failed to get any trace of the missing man.

Chief of Police Rundgren, of Clinton, has received a letter from J. N. Natrass, The Duquenois insurance man who was met at Fulton. The Duquenois man stated in his letter that he had no knowledge of the whereabouts of Sackett. The latter was to meet him in Fulton June 12, he said. Enclosed was a letter which Sackett had written to Natrass the 7th of June. In the man who is now missing stated that he thought the following Monday would be a good day for them to meet at Fulton, where they could go to Albany together, Sackett having asked for an agency in the insurance company which Natrass represents. The insurance man did not go to Fulton, and not heard anything from Sackett since.

The Clinton police, who are familiar with the facts in the case, are of the opinion that Sackett is suffering with mental aberration, and is wandering about in that condition, perhaps far away by this time. Efforts to locate him will be continued.

DR. J. A. WHEELER IS NOW GAME WARDEN OF STATE

Gov. Yates has appointed Dr. J. A. Wheeler, of Auburn, to be state game warden, to succeed A. J. Lovejoy, of Winnebago county, resigned. Wheeler, who was elected secretary of the republican state committee, is one of the governor's staunchest friends, having made the Yates fight in Sangamon county. Lovejoy is slated for the position of grain registrar at Chicago. Gov. Yates' broadax has severed the official head of Charles Dowell, deputy warden of the Chester penitentiary, and he has returned to Jackson county to join the colony of ex-officials who have gone before.

WRITING A BOOK ABOUT REPUBLICAN DEADLOCK

The republican state convention deadlock is to be commemorated in a book by J. McCan Davis of Springfield, soon to be published. The book will be a volume of several hundred pages and will contain the story of the campaign for the governorship and a complete account of the convention itself. It will be written without factional bias, various candidates and party leaders who were conspicuous in the contest having been freely consulted in its preparation. The book will have more than one hundred illustrations.

GENESECO INSTITUTE MUST HAVE LOCAL HELP TO EXPAND

Rev. W. S. Marquis, of this city, and Mr. Thompson, of Geneseo, the committee of the board of trustees of the Geneseo Collegiate institute who went to New York to see what help could be secured from the general church board toward raising the grade of the institute to that of a college, met with the other trustees in Geneseo Friday evening and reported upon the success of their mission.

At the recent meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States, the college board was entirely reorganized, new men appointed and the headquarters from Chicago to New York. Furthermore, the general assembly directed this board to abandon all Presbyterian academies in the United States for the obvious reason that the rapid and universal development of high schools rendered the academies much less necessary than in previous years. The church at large has resolved to throw its support to colleges only. This movement is in direct opposition to the Illinois plan which proposed to endow academies as well as colleges.

The trustees of G. C. I. were quick to see that this action of the general assembly would make it impossible to develop the institute along the lines they had planned; so they decided to confer with the board to see whether help could be secured to reorganize the institute as a college.

The G. C. I. trustees estimated that in order to reorganize as a college, it would be necessary to secure sufficient funds to erect a new building at a cost of not less than $25,000 and to increase the present endowment by at least $50,000. This means that $75,000 would be a minimum amount necessary to place a college on a safe running basis. It was decided to make an effort to secure financial assistance from the people of Geneseo and vicinity, without which the project will probably be abandoned.

ROCK RIVER MAY BREAK TWO RECORDS THIS YEAR

A few days ago word was received from Dixon that Rock river at that city had reached the lowest point known for 40 years and was steadily receding, every morning showed a bank of moist black earth from which the water had receded during the night.

The river has been lowering steadily in Rockford, says the Rockford Star, but it is only within a short time that it has been particularly noticeable. It will only be a matter of a day or two before the results at Dixon will be experienced here. Concerning the condition of the river the Star continues:

"Every year at this time the river has been low caused from lack of rain and the drying up of the springs, but this year the water has been good. The manufacturers on the water power say that it has held up to a high mark longer than usual and it was only two or three weeks ago they began to realize the time for trouble in that direction had arrived.

"The river this spring reached the highest water mark known in 20 years and today it is so low in places the steamers are unable to land at the usual places. At Love's park landing is impossible until a pier is built and this is only one of many instances along the river."

It's Quality That Counts

In coal it's quality that makes heat, it's quality that retains, it is quality that makes possible consumption of 90 per cent of the combustible part of it, leaving a light, clean ash; lastly, it's quality that lessens your fuel bill—you're not paying for dirt, refuse or unburnables. The coal we handle, both hard and soft, deserves all the good things we and our patrons say for it. A ton will talk as loudly as a carload.
