GOT MONEY FROM MARINE LEAGUE

Ex-Congressman McCleary Makes Admissions Before House Investigators.

Washington, April 8.—Testifying that he had received in checks from $600 to $1,000 from the Merchant Marine league of the United States to cover expenses in speechmaking trips and that he had never received a dollar in cash, former Representative James T. McCleary of Minnesota, once second assistant postmaster general, occupied the witness stand at yesterday's session of the house ship subsidy investigating committee. Besides the special committee there was present an array of individuals interested in the legislation.

Mr. McCleary was given permission to correct the record of his previous testimony, saying that instead of the amounts he had received from the league "not equaling the expenses," he wished to say that they did not materially exceed his expenses. Mr. Garrett of Tennessee, democrat, for the committee questioned him closely as to this.

NEW CENSUS PLAN

Bureau Will Try Sending the Schedules to Heads of Families in Advance.

TO FILL OUT AT LEISURE

Experiment Tried in Larger Cities Expected to Greatly Aid Enumerator in His Work.

Washington, D. C., April 8.—Each head of a family in a number of large cities will receive, a few days prior to April 15, when the United States census begins, an "advance population schedule," containing all the questions which appear in the official population schedule to be carried by the census takers. These advance schedules are to be filled in by the heads of families or, in their absence, by other members of their families, and the schedules will be taken up by the enumerators during the progress of the actual enumeration.

This action on the part of the census bureau is a complete innovation and an important advance in American census methods of obtaining a count of the population, and the bureau authorities expect it to prove of great practical and scientific value.

It insures greater accuracy and completeness in the returns, as the heads of the families, who are generally the most reliable sources of information, are themselves given sufficient opportunity in advance of the enumeration to examine deliberately and to answer exactly the census questions. In past censuses it was the case usually that the head of the family was absent at work when the enumerator called and reliance had to be placed on other members of the family, frequently servants or children, or on neighbors, none of whom can be classed as dependable informants.

The advance schedule will also undoubtedly prove of great assistance to the enumerators. It will enable them to perform their work more expeditiously and agreeably, and will lessen the number of cases involving repeated calls by them.

It is the intention of the census authorities to confine the present scope of this auxiliary method of population enumeration to the large cities which, in the past, have contained the greater number of absentee heads of families.

Introduces Enumerator.
In a communication to the "Head of the family," printed on the back of each schedule, Census Director Durand states:

"In accordance with the act of congress approved July 2, 1909, the enumeration of the population of the United States will begin on April 15. An enumerator will call at your house, or apartment, for the purpose of obtaining the required information concerning all persons, belonging to your household. It is necessary that you should prepare the information in advance of the enumerator's visit. Please, therefore, answer all the questions contained on this advance schedule for each member of your household and preserve it so that it can readily be given to the enumerator when he calls. By doing this you will not only aid greatly in the work of securing an accurate enumeration of the population, but will probably save yourself much trouble, since if you do not do so, a great deal of your time will unavoidably be taken by the enumerator in securing the information he must obtain, and he may have to call on you several times.

Will Go Over Answers.

"This schedule, as filled in by you, should be given to the enumerator when he calls. As he has been given detailed instructions, which it has not been possible to put on this schedule, concerning the exact manner in which each question should be answered, it will be necessary for him to go over the answers with you or with some member of your family for the purpose of making such additions or changes as are called for by his instructions. All such additions and changes should be made by the enumerator on this schedule or on his official schedule before he leaves the house. The advance schedule, whether filled in by you or not, should then, in all cases, be given to the enumerator to be forwarded to Washington with his official schedule upon which the corrected information for all families in his district has been written.

"Read the president's proclamation on the schedule, which emphatically states that you can not possibly be harmed in any way by giving information to the census."

Another section of the back page of the schedule is devoted to brief instructions to govern the head of the family in filling the schedule. A third section contains the complete text of the president's census proclamation.
