find water for Norman, but it found an apparently inexhaustible supply. The waterworks system is owned by the town, and upon an investment of $60,000 there is realized annually a net profit of 7 per cent after the expense of maintenance, improvement and royalties have been paid.

Some eight years ago Norman was hard pressed for water. Numerous wells had been sunk in the west part of the town with a total output of only 25,000 gallons a day. The building of Neat Royalty Is Paid for Guaranty a pipe line to the South Canadian river at great cost was bein, discussed when G. L. Abbott, a farmer, said that if the town would enter into a contract to pay him or his heirs a royalty of 15 cents on every 1,000 gallons of water consumed he would undertake to provide a water supply of not less than 100,000 gallons a day, and at the end of ten years the wells should become the property of the town. Norman accepted the offer, and Abbott entered into a partnership with M. L. Haworth, a contractor, Abbott examined the topography of Norman and decided that prospects were best near the site of the present railroad station, close to the business center of town. At the appointed time Abbott appeared on the ground with a forked branch of a birch tree. Holding the "water witch" firmly in his two hands, he moved from place to place, while a crowd watched him. "WATERWITCH" WAS RIGHT.

Abbott was so jubilant that he gave a bond at once for the fulfillment of his contract. He sunk a well at a cost of $4,000 and at a depth of 240 feet struck a vein of excellent water with a flow of 80,000 gallons a day. # Make Wash Day a Day of Pleasure

You have long considered wash day a necessary dread. Now you can consider it a pleasure, for the new way is to let us bear the burden. Then wash day is merely a matter of gathering the soiled clothes together. When our wagon calls, wash day is over as far as you are concerned. When the clothes are returned they will be spotlessly clean and delightfully fresh. The colors will be bright, the buttons will be on, there will be no rips or tears. When you consider the expense of washing, the price you pay to help, the cost of fuel, the discomfort and aggravation, you will say our way is truly economical. Drop us a postal or phone us now,
