In a total vote that approached the record in the history of Rock Island politics, 5,160 having been cast, the first application of the provisions of the new commission form of municipal government law resulted in the nomination of H. M. Schriver and George W. M'Caskrin for mayor, and the following for commissioners: Martin T. Rudgren, R. R. Reynolds, Archie Hart, P. J. Carlson, Orrin S. Holt, C. J. Smith, Jonas Bear, and Nicolai E. Juhl.

SIGNIFICANT FEATURE.
It was a significant fact of the election that not one of the present councilmen, nor any of those on the ballot who had either served in the council or had held office under the city in recent years, with the exception of Martin Rudgren and C. J. Smith, succeeded in getting on the election ballot. The disposition seemed to be, and this without particular disparagement of any candidate, to start with a new deal. This apparent purpose on the part of the voters carried down many good men, both among the present and past office holders of the city.

WHO THE CANDIDATES ARE.
Of the candidates who go before the people, Harry M. Schriver, nominee for mayor, is the present assistant state's attorney and a man who has not before held a municipal office, while George W. M'Caskrin, the other nominee, is the present mayor. In the line of commissioners, Martin T. Rudgren is city clerk, R. R. Reynolds is an attorney, Archie Hart is a leader in labor circles and one of the oldest conductors in the employ of the Tri-City Railway company, P. J. Carlson is the socialist candidate, Orrin Holt is a mechanical engineer, C. J. Smith is the present police magistrate, Jonas Bear a retired merchant, and Nicolai Juhl a retired building contractor. The race was close for some of the commission-ership nominations and there is quite a healthy class of near-winners.

ON THE MAYORAL CONTEST.
On the mayoralty, the activity in behalf of Mr. Schriver's candidacy, coupled with the withdrawal of C. R. Chamberlin late last week, upset many of the calculations. Guyer drawing extensively from the Scott following and taking a considerable number of votes from Schriver in addition to his own support and that which would likely to have held to Chamberlin.

This afternoon at the city hall, the election returns are being canvassed by the mayor, the city attorney and city clerk. Under the new primary law, these are the officials for the canvassing board.

The tables on this page record the unofficial figures in detail.

ENGINE COLLIDES WITH FREIGHT CARS

Crash in Silvis yards last evening. Attended by Burning of the Wreckage.

A serious wreck resulting in the overturning of an engine and the burning of four box cars and a way car, occurred last evening in the west yards of the Rock Island road in Silvis. Engineer Fisher, in charge of engine No. 1640, was backing his engine and a caboose along a siding. The caboose crashed into four box cars which were standing on the transfer track and Fisher narrowly escaped with his life. The engine was derailed and turned on its side while the other cars were partly telescoped into each other and piled in a heap. Fire broke out in the wreck and the cars were destroyed. The flames were still in progress this morning. Considerable damage was done to the engine.

She was adjudged insane and committed to the hospital at Watertown.

John Hoelt of Moline was also adjudged insane this afternoon in the county court and was ordered committed to the hospital. He went to Davenport four days ago and while there became violent and was picked up by the police. They soon decided that he was insane and he was taken to Mercy hospital. Today he was brought over here.

Mr. Schriver Makes Statement

Harry M. Schriver, nominee for mayor, today gave out the following statement concerning his candidacy: "I realize that the position of mayor of an important city like Rock Island is a great responsibility as well as a great honor in fact the greatest honor or that can be conferred on any citizen."

"The eight candidates for commissioner are good men and any four selected from them will be good competent advisors and co-workers for any mayor."

"All that I can say is, if I am elected, realizing the importance of the changes that will have to be made owing to the new conditions, that I will be honest, unbiased and untiring in my efforts to have a clean city, and one in which it will be safe for the female portion of the population to travel our streets without being insulted or molested."

"I can only promise that if elected I will not disgrace the name of Rock Island, and I don't think the respectable citizens will be disappointed in my administration. I shall be fair and impartial and shall use my best endeavors to further every project tending to the advancement and prosperity of Rock Island."

To the Whole Rock Island Public.
I have the utmost pleasure in thanking you for the tribute paid me in nominating me for commissioner. I wish it to be clearly understood that my thanks are to every one in every part of the city and to the ladies, too, for I am sure they used their influence for me. I want to say to you further that I am going to do my best to be elected and then I will do my best for you.
JONAS BEAR.

THE FIRST VOTE ON MOLINE SIDE

Commission Form Primary Results in Close Contest for Mayor.

OLSON AND CARLSON RUN

Nearest Candidate to Leaders is 800 Behind—The Commission Nominees.

In the race for the nomination of mayor of Moline yesterday, Mayor Andrew Olson and Martin R. Carlson simply walked away from the entire field, and after the returns began to come in, it was simply a question as to which of the two would poll the highest number of votes. Carlson finished in the lead with 1,431 and Olson's total was 1,345. The third man in the race was more than 800 votes behind Olson and the rest of the contest of aspirants for the office, fell even further behind in the totals. The race now for the office of chief executive of Moline, will be a close and interesting one, as both of the nominees are well known. The difference in their total vote yesterday was less than a hundred. It remains to be seen which one of the two can secure the highest number of votes which were cast yesterday from their defeated opponents. A total of 4,587 votes was cast for the mayoral candidates.

DISTRIBUTION OF VOTE.

It was distributed as follows: Martin R. Carlson, 1,431; Andrew Olson, 1,345; E. A. Douglas, 542; Thomas A. Kelso, 456; Elmer A. Morgan, 348; John F. Rose, 266; Robert C. J. Meyer, 153; A. H. Mertz, 46.

In the race for the nomination for commissioner, E. L. Eastman led the field of 57 candidates for the office
