

Daily Argus.

Tuesday, October 29, 1872.

LIBERAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
HORACE GREENEY,
OF NEW YORK.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
B. GRATZ BROWN,
OF MISSOURI.

President-elect,
John C. Breckinridge.

1st District—George H. Hoyle, of Cook.

2d District—C. G. F. Hoadley, of Cook.

3d District—John C. Clegg, of Cook.

4th District—Ivan S. Swan, of Kane.

5th District—Robert C. Barnard, of Kane.

6th District—John C. Clegg, of Henry.

7th District—Asaph Bush, of Will.

8th District—Samuel M. Kankakee.

9th District—Geo. Edmunds, Jr., of Hancock.

10th District—David L. Phillips, of Sangamon.

11th District—Samuel L. Paine, of Coles.

12th District—John D. Lewis, of Coles.

13th District—John Hinckley, of Clark.

14th District—Ben W. Sharp, of Perry.

15th District—Franklin Pierce, of Wayne.

For Governor,
GUSTAVUS ROHRIG, of St. Clair.

For Lieutenant-Governor,
JOHN CHAPMAN, of Champaign.

For Secretary of State,
EDWARD RUMEL, of Peoria.

For Auditor,
DANIEL O'HARA, of Cook.

For Attorney General,
CHARLES V. EASTCOTT, of Lee.

For Clerk of Circuit Court,
JOHN D. DUNN, of Henry County.

For Sheriff,
HENRY H. BROWN, of Rock Island.

For Treasurer,
JOHN W. DIMOCK, of Madison.

For Comptroller,
CHARLES DUNHAM, of Henry County.

For State Senator,
LEVI H. COOPER, of Henry County.

For Representative,
CHARLES DUNHAM, of Henry County.

For Congress—Sixth District,
DAL CALVIN THE SNAKE, of Rock Island.

For Representative,
JUNIUS STEVENS, of Bureau.

For Senator,
CHARLES DUNHAM, of Henry County.

For Sheriff,
HENRY H. BROWN, of Rock Island.

For Clerk of Circuit Court,
JOHN W. DIMOCK, of Madison.

For Comptroller,
CHARLES DUNHAM, of Henry County.

For State Senator,
LEVI H. COOPER, of Henry County.

For Representative,
CHARLES DUNHAM, of Henry County.

With the distinct understanding that I elected, I shall be President, not of a party but of the whole people. I accept your nomination in the most cordial manner. We are one country, North and South, are always bound together by the bloody chain which has too long divided them, forgetting that they have been enemies in the joyful consciousness that they are and must henceforth remain brothers."—Horace Greeley.

We have turned our backs on the past— we stand in the present and look to the future. The past is lost to us—the future is ours, let us make it a glorious one.—Thus, A. H. DUDLEY.

WILL YOU ATTEND TO IT?

Will you see to it that a few of the leading men in your ward, and in your township, get together and make arrangements for bringing every Greeley voter to the polls? If you do this we shall carry the county. Will you attend to it and see that it is done?

Our friends in each township and ward must take care of their own business. If they don't pull a full vote the fault will be in their own local organization. They must depend on themselves, and manage their own affairs. Will you see to it before it is too late?

The Washington correspondent of the Standard writes:

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.' It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in copying it. It is characterized by the great good sense which is his distinguished characteristic. The correspondent says: 'The motive that prompted Mr. Greeley to write the letter was never known by the Association.'

It is sufficiently evident on the face. He is a friend to the blacks, and desired to give them judicious counsel. Here is the letter:

"N. Y. Standard, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1870.

"Mr. Greeley's letter to his constituents, who was a laborer under the Freedman's Bureau Association. The letter is published by the Gazette under the impression, of course, that it is calculated to do Mr. Greeley political harm. We are quite confident that it will not have that effect, and are only sorry that it was not reproduced earlier in the Standard.

We take great pleasure in