THE CITY'S PROGRESS.

Indications of Rock Island's Advancement.

Fast Predictions Amply Verified in the Present Growth—The Brick Factory—Beautifying the Parks.

Three years ago the Argus published a series of articles speaking of Rock Island's advantages both natural and acquired, and the bright prospects that were before the city. That the record of the city since then has amply borne out every assertion made by the Argus as to the city then and the indications of what was in store, for it is well shown in the splendid system of street improvements which are so well under way that they will not be checked until the entire city is paved, and the building that was done last season and is planned for the present summer.

The establishment by the Rockford Construction company of a plant in Rock Island is not only a gratifying evidence of the prosperity of Rock Island and the advantages it offers, but of the confidence felt by outside capitalists in Rock Island's immediate future. For it is a practically settled fact now that the contemplated factory will be located at Sears, where representatives of the Rockford company have been prospecting for some time. In a word the survey has been made and the terms agreed upon by which the Rockford company is to take possession and erect its buildings at once, preparatory to the reception of the machinery as soon as it arrives from Ohio, where it was recently purchased. The company having thus evinced its determination to locate here, the city council, while it will no doubt order the paving extensions on Main avenue at its next meeting, will likely withhold specifying the time when the work is to be done or advertising for proposals until the new company, which is to be a Rock Island enterprise and industry, is in a position to bid on the work.

The new system of park improvements is fairly under way, and Commissioner Jackson, of Spencer square, has a force of men at work excavating for the cross walks which will probably be of tile. The band stand is being moved to one of the angles, while a rustic or an iron fountain will ornament the center. The square is to be nicely sodded and flower beds, etc., provided.

A case which has the semblance of bigamy is pending, which implicates a couple in this city and which is likely to be prosecuted at most any time.

Perry Beckwith swore out a warrant this afternoon for the arrest of Geo. O'Neill, charging him with the larceny of a coat from the Crown restaurant on the 11th ult.

John Sullivan and John Carroll, a pair of truants, were run in by Officers Hetter and Schaub last evening for intoxication. This morning they were fined $3 and costs each and fined out of town.

Frank Blazer, a tramp, while on his way to Davenport was beaten to death with a cane by a fellow tramp just outside of Iowa City early yesterday morning, and robbed of $35. The murderer is believed to have come on this way and the police have been notified to be on the look out for him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jamison, living on Fifth avenue, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets, had a serious misunderstanding Thursday, and the result was that the head of the household was arrested on complaint of his better half, and yesterday afternoon Magistrate Wivill imposed a fine of $3 and costs.

S. J. Geisinger and John McDarragh engaged in a disgraceful fist encounter and scuffle in front of the Rock Island house saloon shortly before noon today. It is not known who was the aggressor, but a dispute grew out of the discussion of the antagonism of the society, the members of which are known as antagonistic to the Roman Catholic church. The men attacked each other viciously and desperately, until finally separated in the saloon into which they had carried their struggle, and where James Corcoran became implicated in his efforts to protect his friend McDarragh. Constable Eckhart at last separated the men, and later Officer Kramer put Geisinger and McDarragh under arrest. Geisinger had pretty ugly bruises about the eyes, while McDarragh had a severe scalp wound.

This afternoon Geisinger swore out a complaint for the arrest of McDarragh and Corcoran charging them with assault, but a continuance was taken until Monday.

His Bill Against the Field.
Representative Crawford, of Edgington, was again in the city yesterday. The attempt by the Union to bring Dr. W. T. Boughton out for the legislature is no doubt accountable for Crawford's mission to Rock Island, it being a pretty well conceded fact of which no one is more aware than Bro. Bill himself, that the announcement of Boughton's candidacy is the part of a republican scheme to defeat him. In a word, it is the field against Crawford and all elements of the party in the county are concentrated in an effort to accomplish the purpose—which must be Crawford's political scalp and nothing short of that will do. Boughton's candidacy must be a part of such a plan, as he is not popular with his own party. He was appointed postmaster at Edgington against the protests of nearly every republican in the township, and is known to be a man who always has his lightning rod out for anything in sight. As another part of this scheme to down Bro. Bill, Dr. Cozad, of Reynolds, is brought out for senator, and Crandall, of the same neighborhood, is ticketed for treasurer. With the south end of the county thus provided for the republican bosses hype to knock out Crawford on the geographical issue.

A GEORGIA RAID.

The Stoneman Exploit During the War, in which Rock Island and Moline Soldiers Participated.

The last number of the National Tribune—the soldiers' paper—contains a brief history with cuts, showing the different stages of the physical condition of John W. January, a private, in the 14th Illinois cavalry. He enlisted when a mere lad, being a little over sixteen years old, and joined his regiment as a recruit in Feb. 1864. From this time until August 3, 1864, history chronicles some sixteen battles in which the 14th was engaged—all of them in the Atlantic campaign. On this last date Mr. January was captured on the great Stoneman raid, which proved so disastrous to many of the regiment. He was a prisoner of war at Andersonville, Ga., and Florence, S. C., for about six months. From the effects of scurvy, superinduced by starvation, he lost his feet, which he himself heroically amputated with a pocket knife. He still has the knife. He arrived at David's Island, N. Y., a mere skeleton, weighing but forty-six pounds, and after seven months' treatment in the hospital, was restored to bodily health. All things considered, his case is perhaps the most notable example of nerve and bodily suffering in the annals of the war. He is yet living, the father of a large family, and walks successfully with his artificial limbs.

Francis Watts and Patrick Cunningham, of Rock Island, and John W. Kelo, of Moline, were captured at the same time. Nothing definitely has ever been heard of their fate. Mr. Watts left a family, a widow, two sons and two daughters. His widow in her old age, blessed by kind children, lives in comfort and happiness. Her two sons are industrious and prosperous railroad engineers, and her daughters are respected and beloved by all who know them. Patrick Cunningham was a happy, jolly Irishman, who was a tailor working for Mr. E. H. Smythe when he enlisted. He had no relatives here. John W. Kelo was a frank, open-hearted young man, always full of dry humor. His parents have never ceased to mourn for him and sorrow over his untimely fate. Major H. C. Connelly, Captain Alvin Everts, Lieutenant Ward, M. Moore, Michael Kennedy, Peter McMahon, James Moore, Terrence O'Brien, John Driscoll, Job L. Grace, Peter Bredberg, Joseph Gravenhorst, James F. Loftus, Joseph J. Murray, Patrick Cahill, John S. Buck, Albert O. Day, Edwin T. Field, Taylor Gilmore, Andrew J. Wickiser, James O. Ross, Robert Kile, Geo. W. Wolf, Thomas Lucas, Peter J. Sunborg, Wesley Taylor, John C. McElhinney and Ezekiel Cox, all members of the Rock Island company in the 14th, survived this ill-fated raid, many of whom have since gone to their final resting place.

At the Theatre.
The Irish comedian Pat Rooney and his bright daughter, Kate Rooney, with the support of a fairly good company, presented the ludicrous comedy, "Pat's Wardrobe," to a fair audience at Harper's theatre last evening. The play is without plot, sense or reason, is constructed purely and simply for laughing purposes and as far as that goes it is a success. The selections by the Quaker City quartette were rich and highly meritorious.

Cleveland's magnificent minstrels appear at Harper's theatre next Wednesday evening. This is one of the best burnt cork organizations on the road. Nothing in minstrelsy has ever been seen in the city of New York that equalled the Cleveland consolidated Minstrels last evening at the Grand opera house. Long before the going up of the curtain every seat at the box office was sold and large numbers were turned away. There was more money taken in at the box office than on any Monday evening—the worst in the week—in the history of the house in the past ten years. The fame of the minstrels evidently had reached this city. The introductory spectacular, "Venetian Nights"—costing, it is said, $20,000—is a gorgeous set, rich and tasteful. The fun on the ends were made by Billy Emerson, Hughey Dougherty, John Queen and J. Marcus Doyle, aided by the clever interlocutor Burt Shepard. The concerted music, choruses, etc., were equal to the opera. Banks Winter, Messrs. Bridges, Leighton, Somers and Thatcher are vocalists of distinct merit. The Egyptian Phalanx, a drill, was very fine, as was also the dancing acts and musical melange. Billy Emerson's great specialty kept the audience laughing all the time. The three acts of the three distinct troupes of Japanese concluded an entertainment such as will probably never be seen after the present two weeks.—New York Daily News.

The People's New Cashier.
Julius Peetz, of Wabasha, having declined to accept the position as cashier of the People's National Bank, Mr. Carl Helpenstell was, at a meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon, promoted from the position of assistant cashier to the vacancy, and is now cashier. The appointment comes in the line of a reward of merit and industry, as Mr. Helpenstell has been in the bank a number of years, and has gradually worked himself up. He is possessed of a genial, polite disposition, is a thorough accountant, and a first class business man.

New Carpets.
Kann & Flemming, the well-known dealers in furniture, have just received another invoice of those nice patterns in carpets that they are famous for keeping. The new line embraces the very latest designs in Ingrain and Brussels, and were purchased with a view of meeting the requirements of their trade. The trade of this house is constantly increasing, which is due to the excellent quality of goods they carry. It will pay you to call and look at this stock before purchasing anything in the line of furniture or carpets.

Judge Glenn adjourned the circuit court this morning until Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Buy your carpets, furniture and draperies at the C. F. Adams, 323 Brady street, Davenport.

Mr. John A. Boyer and niece returned home this morning from California, where they spent the winter.

Kann & Flemming yesterday sold a large bill of their fine furniture to a business man in Davenport.

Miss Edna Davis returned this morning from a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. Henry Fuller, at Fulton.

Louis C. Philebar and Miss Rose Richards were united in marriage by Magistrate Wivill this afternoon.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. John Biehl's son, Harry, occurred yesterday afternoon, Rev. G. W. Gue officiating.

Editor Comstock, of the Cambridge Chronicle, one of the luminaries of the journalistic field of Henry county, was in the city today.

Mr. Henry Robley, of Calamus, Iowa, is in the city, having come for the purpose of attending the funeral of his nephew, Harry Biehl.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McDonald welcomed a promising boy this morning, and the newly made paternal walks with an unconscious air of pride such as can only be attained at such times.

The weather clerk has got rattled again. This morning he announced a decline in temperature of twenty degrees by tomorrow morning, which will take the mercury down to within two degrees of the freezing point.

Prof. and Mrs. John Biehl and family desire to extend their heartfelt thanks to their friends and neighbors for their kind services during the illness and at the funeral of their beloved son Harry; also for the beautiful display of flowers.

Miss W. Peterson would like to let the ladies know that she has just returned from the east with an elegant line of the latest styles of millinery, the prices of which are lower than anywhere in the city. The original styles are out of question.

Another good sized attendance was on hand at the Industrial fair last night. The committee was disappointed in some of its anticipated features at the last moment, but did its best to entertain its patrons in other ways and succeeded admirably. Tonight will be the firemen's night, and after the street parade, which is to start at Hillier's hall, there will be an appropriate programme at the armory.

The funeral of the late Jennie Warren took place yesterday, the Rev. Mr. Perego, pastor of the deceased, conducting the service, though he is just recovering from his recent illness. Though there was but about two hours notice of the funeral, the church was well filled. The remains were not taken inside the edifice, but were allowed to remain in the hearse outside. The music was by a Hampton quartette. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. T. Pettis, Geo. McNabney, Morris Heagy and Joel Benson.

Mrs. Mary M. Yeager died at her home on Seventh avenue, between Eighth and Ninth streets, at 12:30 today of an ailment superinduced by the La Grippe. She would have been 87 years old April 15, and had lived in Rock Island since 1870, having previously located at Davenport in 1846. She leaves three children: Mrs. P. Blockmeyer, of this city; Mrs. Johanna Baumgartner, of Davenport, and Fred Yeager, of Rock Island. The funeral occurs from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

The Chicago Tribune's Washington correspondent made another very frail and indecorous attack upon the river and harbor committee yesterday for its favorable action with reference to the Hennepin canal, and he accuses the chairman of the committee with acting so cautiously with reference to what the committee proposed to do for the canal that he did not even let Congressmen (sent into the secret). The Tribune correspondent should not vent his spleen upon the committee simply because it has kept its business a secret until its plans were matured, nor should he think that he will make friends for the Chicago ditch scheme by attacking the Hennepin.

New Shoe House.
Murray's new shoe store, No. 111 Second street, Davenport, has just opened for business. The room they occupy has been fitted up especially for their convenience. It has all the modern improvements and has an extensive line of fine footwear for all ages and sexes which they invite the public to call and examine. Mr. Murray will cater especially to the fine trade and will always make an effort to please by having the best goods and the latest styles. If you go over the river to buy footwear it will repay you to call at this new establishment and examine their goods and get their prices. Mr. Murray comes to Davenport from Cedar Rapids, where he has done a successful business for several years. He thoroughly understands the shoe business. Remember the place—next to Beiderbeck's wholesale grocery.

The only time payment house in Davenport—The C. F. Adams' Home Furnishing house, 323 Brady street.

Crystal Cut Table Glassware

The Catsup Bottle and Berry Bowl shown above are two of the many new things in such ware, and may give you a little idea of what it is like; but I think you would like to call and select from the new lines constantly coming in, a few other articles to give variety to your table service. As to prices—if you are disappointed at all—it will be to find them so low.

It would take more space than is at my disposal here to speak at all fully of the new things coming in, to say nothing of staple articles. I hope it is understood by this time that visitors are always welcome whether they come to buy or not, and to look at what the store contains is better than to read about them. Please call.
