KILLED BY FOUL AIR.

Three Miners Suffocated, and in Attempting to Save a Comrade.

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo., May 27.—A terrible accident occurred yesterday at the Little Corporal mine, near this place, by which three men—William Barkley, John Dierks, and B. Benson—lost their lives. It appears that a drift has been driven from the main shaft, and a raise was made from the drift to intersect an old incline above. This incline has been known to have had air for sometime. It is supposed that when the break was made through, the men were at once overcome with the rush of foul air and killed. Dierks and Elmer Miller were found by Benson in the top of the raise, both insensible, and he carried Miller and returned for Dierks, only to pay the forfeit of his own life for his singular bravery.
