PUSHES THE FIGHT:

Frick Has Warrants Issued for Thirty-six Men.

THE CHARGE MODIFIED THIS TIME.

"Aggravated Riot" Instead of Murder—All the Homestead Witnesses Before the Coroner's Jury and the Advisory Committee Included—Attempt to Wreck a Mill and Kill Seven Score Workmen—The Randall Club Down on Streator—Letters That Frick Received—No More Interest for Strikers.—Troops Going Home.

PITTSBURG, July 28.—When Henry C. Frick was shot last Saturday he said, while the doctors were engaged in probing the wounds, that the tragedy would have no effect whatever upon the policy of the company toward the Homestead troubles. That he meant what he said was evinced yesterday, when Secretary Lovejoy appeared before Alderman McMaster and swore out thirty-six informations against as many of the ex-employes of the company, and upon which warrants were immediately issued. It was significant, however, that these informations made a change in the nature of the offence, the men being charged with aggravated riot, instead of with murder.

Two Significant Facts.

It is taken as indicating that the company now doubts its ability to sustain the main charge against any of the men, and has concluded to content itself by preferring a charge upon which there may be a chance of obtaining some convictions. It was significant also that among the names of those included in the informations were those of nearly every ex-employe who has testified before the coroner's jury that the first shots fired on the morning of July 6 came from the Pinkertons. The fact that the company should have selected these men as victims, especially in view of the fact that as witnesses before the coroner's jury they would most likely be expected to testify in court, has created a great deal of comment, and that not very favorable to the company.

The Advisory Committee on the List.

The policy of suppression of names in the matter of informations was again carried out yesterday, and the majority of the men against whom warrants were issued will have no knowledge of the fact until they are placed under arrest. It is understood that new informations will now be made from day to day for some time to come, but the advisory committee is prepared with ample bail and not one of the men will be allowed to stay in jail an hour longer than the machinery of the law will allow. Private information is also to the effect that the informations sworn out include the name of nearly every member of the advisory committee, as well as some of those who have already been arrested on the charge of murder and released on bail.

Attempted Outrage in a Mill.

A remarkable escape from almost certain death on the part of the 144 workmen in the forge department of Carnegie's Twenty-ninth street mill has just been made public, while the perpetrator of the fiendish act is yet unknown. An attempt was made Monday evening to blow up the boiler and engine departments of the lower Union mills at Twenty-ninth street. These departments are in direct connection with the heating and forge departments, which have been in constant operation since the remainder of the mill shut down. One hundred and forty-four were at work at the time the attempt was made. Few of the men knew of the threatened danger until it had passed. The engineer in charge of the machinery had left his post but a few minutes.

Was Only a Slight Explosion.

The waterman, whose duty is to keep guard of the gas, fires and water, left his positon to breathe fresh air on the outside of the building. When he left his post the gas was burning under the boilers. The gas is fed to the boilers through a two-inch pipe and the flow is enormous. When the waterman returned he noticed that there was no fire under the boilers. Not thinking to observe the usual precaution of shutting of the gas, he threw a piece of lighted waste into one of the grates. A slight explosion occurred. Five minutes delay would have permitted an acummulation of gas sufficient to blow the building to atoms and the workmen to eternity.

PROPOSE TO EXPEL STREATOR.

Private Iams Finds Champions in the Randall Club.

A sensational feature in the Private Iams case was brought out when members of the Randall club announced they would take steps to have Lieutenant Colonel Streator expelled from the Randall club. Colonel Streator takes an active interest in the Democracy in Washington county, but is a member of the well-known Democratic organization referred to that has its headquarters in this city. Attorneys Dickey, Frank P. Iams, S. W. Trent and J. D. Watson held a long consultation in Mr. Iams' office yesterday in regard to the proposed civil and criminal action to be entered against Colonel Streator.

Will Bring a Civil Damage Suit.

Attorney Iams said after the meeting: "We have just wired Colonel Freer, of the West Virginia national guard, to help us in this matter. Colonel Freer is an uncle of Private Iams and is one of the prominent criminal lawyers of the state of West Virginia. We expect to receive a reply by telegraph and we shall at once arrange a conference. We have spent several hours in examining the Pennsylvania law, and it is shown clearly that Streator had no authority for his actions, by either civil or military law. We do not propose to take any steps against Colonel Streator's military position. If the officers of the National guard will serve with him, and Governor Pattison and General Snowden take no action and keep him for a subordinate, then we have nothing to say. We shall prosecute Colonel Streator for damages and for aggravated assault and battery.

Threatening Letters to Frick.

It was learned yesterday that Frick had been receiving threatenidg letters for more than a month past. Nearly every mail brought him one of two incendiary missives, some of which are said to have been exceedingly lurid. In almost every instance they were anonymous. Frick paid little attention to these repeated warnings, and after showing them to one or two of his personal friends destroyed them, treating the matter more as a joke than real menace to his life. About two weeks ago the letters ceased, and this fact excited some surprise. Last Friday, however, Frick received a letter written in red ink in which was the following sentence: "In twenty-four hours you will be dead."

"Many a True Word Spoken in Jest."

The letter annoyed Frick no more than did its predecessors. That afternoon Frick and P. C. Knox, one of the company's counsel, took dinner together at the Duquesne club. "Knox, I'll be dead in twenty-four hours," Frick laughingly said, as he handed Knox the letter. The two gentlemen laughed about the matter, but it is said that Knox retained possession of the epistle and thereby hangs an important clue as to the conspiracy to "remove" the millionaire steel man.

Opinion of Carnegie in England.

Councilman J. J. McGuire, of Pittsburg, returned from a tour of England and Ireland yesterday. Mr. McGuire says that Andrew Carnegie, by his course since the Homestead strike, has earned for himself the contempt of all Europe. He says the aristrocarcy and the working people unite in denouncing his apparently unconcerned attitude in the present trouble. They believe the great ironmaster should have taken the first steamer for America when he learned of the Homestead riot. They consider his recent actions a complete flop from the principles of his Triumphant Democracy, and say he would build a more enduring monument as a philanthropist by raising his workingmen's wages than by the erection of free libraries."

The Manager Out of Danger.

The surgeon in attendance upon Mr. Frick was seen late last evening. He reports that Mr. Frick passed a very comfortable day; that not the slightest unfavorable symptom developed. The surgeon now considers Mr. Frick practically out of danger.

MORE TROOPS LEAVE HOMESTEAD.

The Military Occupation Rapidly Coming to an End.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 28.—The headquarters of the division of state troops will be discontinued today and Major General Snowden will depart for Philadelphia, after turning over his command to Brigadier General Wylie. Yesterday the Thirteenth and Fourteenth regiments and the Governor's Troop of cavalry from Harrisburg, left Homestead for home. Orders have been issued for the departure today of the Fourth and Ninth regiments and Battery C. It is probable that two regiments, the Tenth and Eighteenth will start home tomorrow, leaving the Fifth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth regiments and Battery B, and the Sheridan troop of cavalry from Tyrone, for an indefinite stay.

Six More Men Arrested.

More arrests for complicity in the riot were made today by Constable Morris, of Pittsburg. The men arrested were C. W. Mansfield, a real estate agent and reporter for the Homestead News; Peter Nau, an ex-saloonkeeper; Peter Allen, Matthew Foy and Thomas Connelly. The charge against these men is "aggravated riot." Constable Morris had other warrants with him. One was for Burgess McLuckie, who is out on bail pending trial for willful murder. The second charge is "aggravated riot." He was not arrested, but will give himself up. Another warrant on the charge of "aggravated riot" was served on Captain O. C. Coon, formerly a captain in the national guard. Captain Coon went to Pittsburg last night and gave himself up and was released on $2,000 bail, as were all the others arrested.

The Industrial Trouble Growing.

A mass-meeting was held at Duquesne yesterday afternoon and several lodges of the Amalgamated association were formed. Every department in the mill is now closed down. The men in the transportation department of the Edgar Thompson Steel works at Braddock, part of the Carnegie plant, struck for higher wages yesterday.

NOTIFIED TO CLAIM THEIR MONEY.

The Carnegie Company Will Act as Bankers No Longer.

PITTSBURG, July 28.—From his sick room yesterday Chairman Frick issued orders that 800 of the following notices should be sent to the employes of the company who have quit work at Homestead, Union mills and Beaver Falls. "As provided in the agreement covering the special deposit of money made by you with Carnegie, Phipps & Co., limited, you are hereby notified that, having left the employ of the company you are no longer entitled to receive interest on said deposit. Interest ceased at this date, and the principal will be paid you on demand at the general offices, or on one day's written notice sent in from the works."

Amounts to a Large Sum.

This special deposit arrangement was inaugurated by the company in 1886 and aggregates about $180,000, ranging from small investments to as high as $2,000, the limit of investment allowed. The plan was put in force to allow the men an opportunity to secure homes for themselves. It is in operation at all of the works of the Carnegie Steel company. All of the salaried men paid by the Carnegie company at Beaver Falls were paid off in full yesterday. The company will make no effort to start these works soon.

Arrests of Anarchists.

The shooting of Manager Frick has demonstrated that there are 1,000 anarchists in Pittsburg. The police hold that these men—or some of them—are implicated in the attempted murder. One suspicious circumstance they speak of is that though those arrested were known to have received many letters just prior to the shooting not a line can be found at their houses, and they (the police) claim that this shows that the letters were criminating and that they have been destroyed. Among Bauer's papers, however, was found a list of Pittsburg millionaires and their residences, including those of Frick, Phipps and others.

Two More of Them Taken In.

Carl Finster of 13 Buchanan street, Troy Hill, and August Turnopk of 256 Sandusky street, Allegheny, two supposed anarchists, were arrested by Detective McTighe yesterday. These men went to the jail and asked to see Berkmann. Being refused permission they asked a boy where cell No. 11 was. An officer went after them and asked them what they wanted to see Berkmann for. They said they wanted to give him some money. They had no money on their persons and were locked up.

Somebody Making Bombs.

Last evening the police authorities came into possession of facts leading them to believe that bombs are now being made in this city. A merchant in Smithfield street reports to the police that within the past three days he has sold unusually large quantities of small glass tubes and other materials that are used in the construction of the usual anarchist bomb.

The Weather We May Expect.
