POLITICS IN IOWA.

Four Candidates Now Up for the Governorship.

PROHIBITIONISTS IN THE CONTEST

They Declare the Liquor Question the Paramount One and Lay Plans to Beat Jackson and Capture the Legislature—The Declaration of Principles—Populists Assert That There Are But Two Parties, Now, People's and Gold

DES MOINES, Sept. 6.—The Republicans who deem prohibition the most important political question before the people of Iowa held a state convention here and parted company with the regular Republican organization the remainder of this campaign by nominating a candidate for governor and repudiating the liquor plank adopted at the August convention. Calvary Tabernacle contained about 300 delegates and 1,500 visitors when the convention assembled. Banners containing quotations favorable to prohibition from past Republican platforms were conspicuous. Rev. Emory Miller, of Des Moines, was made temporary chairman and Rev. J. B. Wells, of Eldora, secretary.

The Chairman's Remarks in Brief.
Dr. Miller in his address said that if the Democrats elect Governor Boies again this fall it will be the fault of the recent Republican convention. He attributed the condition of the Republican party in Iowa to generalship which had sought to placate the whisky minority at the risk of losing the prohibition majority. The regular committees were appointed and the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock. At the afternoon session the temporary organization was retained. The committee on credentials reported sixty out of ninety-nine counties represented by 300 delegates. Prominent visitors from various parts of the state were admitted as delegates to the number of a hundred or more.

Points of the Platform.
Judge C. C. Nourse was chairman of the platform committee and he reported resolutions which declared that as the Republicans have taken a new departure on the liquor question, and the Democrats adhere to their former position on that subject, and the leaders of both these parties have endorsed the declarations of their respective platforms, therefore it has become necessary for the prohibitionists to nominate a ticket for themselves which shall represent the sentiments which they express. It was also declared that it is not the design to organize a new party or to shun on political views heretofore individually maintained, but to repudiate the doctrine of local option or license of the sale of liquor in any form.

Prohibition of Tanglefoot Paramount.
It is further declared that the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating beverages is the paramount and practical issue of the campaign, and will be pushed forward and not permitted to be hidden by the discussion of questions over which the governor and legislature can exercise no control; that liquor selling is a crime; that it is recommended to the people to use every proper means to elect a prohibition legislature and finally that it is believed that the people of Iowa will endorse this movement to prevent a "backward step" on the liquor question which would be discouraging and humiliating and to be deplored by all men who believe in the right.

Coffin Nominated for Governor.
The proposition embodied in the platform to nominate a candidate for governor provoked a lengthy but one-sided debate, the sentiment of the convention being plainly in line with the report of the committee. B. F. Wright, of Charles City, explained the object of the nomination. The defeat of Mr. Jackson, the Republican candidate, would be a warning to Republican members of the legislature to stand by the law. Several men were proposed, but finally L. S. Coffin, of Fort Dodge, was nominated on the chance of his accepting, he being out of the state at this time. Coffin has been prominent in the Republican party for years.

HAWKEYE STATE POPULISTS.
They Nominate a Full State Ticket on a Free Silver Platform.

DES MOINES, Sept. 6.—The Populist state convention held here was entirely harmonious. The attendance was up to the average of similar gatherings in recent years, about 300 accredited delegates being reported. A full state ticket was nominated. The platform endorses the Omaha declaration and says there are only two parties—the People's and the Gold. Upon the distinctive state issue of prohibition the platform is in favor of the present law until it can be succeeded by state or national control of the liquor traffic. The convention was called to order by Chairman R. G. Scott, of the state committee. The decorations consisted solely of charts and maps illustrating the distribution of wealth in the United States. Temporary Chairman J. M. Joseph, of Creston, spoke at length. The burden of his remarks was that the money kings control the old parties; that they are but divisions of one party, and destined to camp together soon. The tariff is a humbug, he declared, and the so-called bimetalists are conspirators. His radical utterances in favor of silver as "the money of the constitution" created the wildest applause. A. J. Westfall, of Sioux City, was made permanent chairman, and Alfred Wooster and Crawford Davis secretaries.

The convention held a love feast with speeches and songs while a collection was made, and then the committee on resolutions, of which General James B. Weaver was chairman, reported standard Populist resolutions, the keynote of which was that the "one overshadowing, all-absorbing issue before the American people today is the question whether the debtors of the United States shall be allowed to pay their debts in the money of the constitution or whether their names and property shall be confiscated for the benefit of the pirates. The only party that votes as a unit against the tricks of the millionaires is the People's party. There are only two parties today—the People's party and the gold party."

The charge that the demonization of the silver dollar in 1873 was a cold-blooded conspiracy and villainy is reiterated and the election of the president and senators by popular vote is advocated; it is demanded that the mortgage pay a share of the tax on the mortgaged property, and woman suffrage is indorsed. The platform was adopted without debate and a ticket was nominated as follows: Governor, J. M. Joseph, of Creston; Lieutenant Governor, E. A. Ott, of Des Moines; supreme judge, A. W. C. Weeks, of Winnetka; railroad commissioner, J. A. Gray, of Muscatine; state superintendent, Mrs. Withrow, of Marshalltown.

Silver Republicans of Kansas.
DENVER, Sept. 6.—The Republican state central committee of Colorado met in conference to decide on the future course of the party in this state in view of "the hostile attitude which the eastern members of the Republican party in congress have assumed towards bimetalism." There was a full attendance and an address was adopted declaring that while it was the purpose of the Republican party of Colorado to make silver the paramount issue it was not deemed best to abandon the party at large, as on all issues aside from that of silver they were in full accord with the national organization.

IDLE LABOR IN PROCESSION

They Come in Contact With Some Men at Work and Riot Ensues.
CLEVELAND, Sept. 6.—A desperate encounter occurred between a crowd of unemployed workmen and several gangs of pavers and sewer builders. A procession of idle men was formed in the Hungarian and Polish section and began parading the streets. They passed through Holston street, where about forty men employed by McCarthy & Seger were at work on the sewer trench. The 400 or 500 men in the procession, nearly all of whom were foreigners, shouted as they passed the sewer builders, but made no move then to molest anybody.

They had not proceeded far, however, before they halted, and returning to the sewer trench opened war on the men at work therein. Bricks and other missiles were thrown at the sewer builders, some of whom were badly hurt and others were wounded. Unsuccessfully with the fists of their assailants. One of the contractors says that at least twenty-five foreigners pounced upon one sewer builder and beat him in a terrible manner. Michael Trp was hit in the side with a brick, Joe Baehler was badly cut on the head and face by a similar missile, and a bricklayer whose name could not be learned received a bad cut in the cheek.

GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT

Some Features of the Parade—Harrison Keeps Open House.
INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 6.—The great parade came to an end late in the afternoon, and the veterans were so tired with their long march that many reunions which were to have been held were dropped. No estimate has been made of the number in line, but the procession did not equal by any means the one last year. Four crippled veterans, who were among the earliest riders of the G. A. R., led the Illinois division. They were W. F. Kenagel, of Kankakee; W. J. Rutledge, of Jacksonville, who was prominent with Dr. Stevenson in forming the Grand Army; General A. C. Swelser, of Bloomington; and W. H. Jenkins, of Springfield.

A mimic monitor was a feature of the parade. It was drawn by six horses and escorted by a body of sailor veterans. Wisconsin showed up well, as did Ohio, while there was but one veteran each from Washington and Alaska. The Mattoon (Ill.) post chanted the refrain, "Hang Hoke Smith to a Sour Apple Tree," during the whole march. During the day ex-President Harrison's house was the objective point toward which hundreds of comrades bent their steps. The doors were thrown wide open, and all who came were welcomed. At Tomlinson hall at night the Woman's Relief corps was tendered a reception, ex-Secretary Noble delivering the address of welcome.

The encampment proper assembled in Tomlinson hall this morning at 10 o'clock. The morning session was devoted to preliminary business. There were about 1,000 delegates present. Last night there was a brilliant display of fireworks witnessed by many thousands.

Renewal of Business at Harrisburg.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 6.—A marked revival is noticeable among the industrial establishments in this city and deposits are rapidly flowing into the banks. The Lochiel rolling mill, in which work was suspended a few months ago, is being put in shape for resumption Oct. 1. The L. L. Groves work has resumed work and all its departments will be in operation by the end of this month. All the mills of the Pennsylvania Steel company at Steelton started up today and gave employment to 2,000 men.

NOVICES FOR SURE.

Or There Would Be Some Dead Trainmen.

WOULD-BE TRAIN ROBBER CAUGHT.

A Unique Case, for a Fact, to Occur in Missouri—Contradictory Report of the Remarkable Event. But the Capture Was Accomplished Somehow—The "Holdup" Takes Place at a Notorious Point—No Money Lost.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 6.—Another train has been held up on the St. Louis and San Francisco road, this time with the unique accompaniment of a captured robber. Express train No. 1 on the "Frisco" west bound was flagged with a red light a few miles east of Pacific, which is about forty miles west of St. Louis. The train came to a standstill, and two men held the engine crew at bay while a third went to the express car and demanded admittance. The messenger refused to open the door. The demand then came from one of the engine guards to "blow her open."

Trainmen Enter an Objection.
This command was almost instantly followed by a deafening report, and the woodwork of the car was wrecked. Then the three highwaymen joined forces and tried to enter the car, but were impeded by the wreckage. At this juncture the conductor and brakeman rushed up to the robbers with pistols drawn and commanded them to surrender. The robbers answered with a poorly directed fusillade which the two brave trainmen gave back with interest. Such unexpected resistance unnerved the robbers and two of them took to their heels. The third was overpowered and made a prisoner. So far as known no one was hurt.

The Popular Judge Bobs Up.
The prisoner was placed under guard in the station at Pacific and the train proceeded on its journey. Excited villagers to the number of 300 had gathered about the station when the United Press correspondent arrived, and it was only by the determined action of cooler heads that a lynching was prevented. The prisoner is far from being a desperado and looks and was too badly scared to talk. A pursuing party is already in the saddle and the escape of the remaining robbers is almost impossible.

Perhaps It Was Another Robber.
LATELY—Out of the contradictory stories it is now learned that it was Dr. Young P. Bond who captured the robber. The doctor had started on a hunting trip and had with him his shot gun, with which he forced the robber to surrender. The prisoner finally gave his name as Lenox, the son of a farmer at Newburg. Not a dollar was lost by passengers or express company.

Quite a Notorious Locality.
A later report says the robbers gained entrance to the express car and tried to blow open the safe with dynamite which caused the wreckage of the car to take fire. An approaching train frightened them from their work. The scene of the affair was at Sand Cut, one mile from Pacific, where Whitlock, alias Jim Cummings, made a big haul years ago, and also where S. M. Wilson relieved an express car of a bag of silver a little over a year ago.

STEWART SPEAKS AGAINST TIME.

And Morgan of Alabama Comes to His Relief.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Voorhees offered a resolution in the senate that beginning Thursday the senate shall meet at 11 a. m. He will speak on it today. Morgan offered a resolution for the appointment of a commission of seven senators and seven representatives to take into consideration the whole subject of national finances and suggest legislation. He will speak thereon later. Peffer concluded his free silver speech and Stewart took the floor to talk against time. He reiterated the charge that the silver dollar was demonetized by stealth and charged that Sherman voted against it to conceal the fact that the dollar was demonetized. He refused to be interrupted, and spoke to a slum house. At 3:45 p. m. he wanted an adjournment, but no one helped him out and he proceeded until Morgan moved an executive session, which was carried, and when the doors reopened the senate adjourned.
