DEFENSE CENTERS URGED TO PLAN NEW INDUSTRY

OREM, Utah — Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson, speaking at the State convention of the Utah AFL-CIO, urged all communities with sizable defense production and no industrial diversification to organize joint labor-management efforts to prepare in advance for any sudden change in civilian or military requirements which could cause large-scale local unemployment.

Orders Transfer Of 10 Students

RICHMOND, Va. — The Pupil Placement Act of Virginia sustained another setback when United States District Judge John D. Butzner ordered the transfer of 10 previously rejected Negro pupils to white schools in Richmond.

Judge Butzner's decree restrained the Richmond school board and the Virginia State pupil placement board from denying nine colored children admission to the Chandler Junior High School and one teenager to the John Marshall High School.

The decree was issued in response to a suit filed on behalf of the Negro students by S. W. Tucker, Virginia State NAACP counsel.

Fla. School Board Stalls Parents

KEY WEST, Fla. — The NAACP will provide legal counsel for parents of children whose applications for reassignment to white schools were turned down here recently.

The Monroe County Board of Public Instruction recently announced that it would end racial discrimination in Key West schools. However, when 60 Negro parents made application, half were denied.

Charles Major, local NAACP president, said that his branch will petition the Board for an end to all discrimination by race in all the schools of surrounding Monroe county.

Conference To Discuss Women's Job Opportunities

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Representatives of industry, labor and women's groups have been invited to Washington on September 24 to attend a 1-day conference on employment opportunities for women.

Scheduled by the Committee on Government Contracts of the President's Commission on the Status of Women, the meeting will be held in the Interdepartmental Auditorium.

The conference is being planned "to ascertain the facts relating to employment opportunities for women and to obtain the advice and ideas of leaders in the community," according to Dr. Richard A. Lester, vice chairman of the President's Commission and chairman of the Committee on Government Contracts.

STRIKE ACTIVITY EXCEEDS 1961 LEVELS

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Strike idleness during the first half of 1962 was about 60 per cent higher than the postwar record low reached during the same period in 1961, according to preliminary estimates of the U. S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. However, the ratio of time lost to time worked was below the level for comparable periods in all but 4 postwar years.

Craftsmanship From Bronze Age At The Art Institute

Medieval European enamels, ivories and metalwork, and rare Prehistoric Irish gold ornaments from the permanent collections of the Detroit Institute of Arts are among the objects now displayed together for the first time in the new Treasure Room adjacent to Romanesque Hall on the ground floor of the museum.

Installed by Francis W. Robinson, curator of ancient and medieval art, these examples of ancient and medieval craftsmanship date from the Bronze Age to the Romanesque and Gothic periods, from 2000 B.C. to 1500 A.D.

Never before displayed, though it has been in the collection since 1948, is a unique pewter lavabo in the form of a Gothic castle. It comes from the celebrated collection of Count Hans Wileczek at Burg Kreuzenstein on the Danube.

A French Gothic ivory diptych of unusually large size from the first half of the XIV Century represents 14 scenes from the life of the Virgin and of Christ. Gift of Mr. Robert H. Tannahill, the two panels give an idea of the methods of the medieval ivory workers and reproduce in miniature the sculptures on Gothic cathedrals.

A 13th Century French enamel-ed crozier of St. Michael, gift of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford II in 1959, contains in the volute a bright gift figure of the saint and a dragon, highlighted with brilliant blue enameling and turquoise studs. It is shown along with the French ivory crozier of about 1200 A.D., a 1941 gift of Mr. Tannahill. Also displayed is another important French medieval enamel, a recent gift of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford II, a book cover with the representation of the Crucifixion.

The Irish gold objects, very scarce in this country and mysterious as to use, origin and meaning, are older than written history. They include crescent-shaped collars (amulac) made from thin plates of gold; a torque of twisted ribbon form, clasps, armlets and small unclosed rings that may have been either ornaments or money.

For A Tasty Meatless Meal

Two of today's most popular modern foods are processed cheese and instant whipped potatoes. These foods have been brought together by the Borden Kitchen in a main dish recipe which has much hearty appeal. The entire dish takes less time than was required in grandmother's day just to peel and cook the potatoes. The creamy smoothness of process cheese food with its fine melting qualities aids in making a truly fine tasting vegetable main dish.

News In Hosiery Business; New Wafer Weight Control

INTRIGUE IN THE HOSIERY BUSINESS! If you haven't read about it, here's part of the story that's making big news in the hosiery business. In about thirty days, ladies, a manufacturer will market a sheer, seamless nylon hose that will not run, even though it is snagged.

There have been reports of all kinds of intrigue in the industry about the product. And why not! The new hose will last much longer than those now on the market. Ladies report the greatest casualty to stockings is snagging and these snag-proof ones will make difficult selling for other brands.

You might look for them at your favorite store. The price, it is reported, will be $1.75.

ANOTHER NEW PRODUCT! The Department of Agriculture has come up with a new product. It is a potato-milk wafer for weight control.

They are made by whipping air into a mixture of mashed potatoes and skim milk, with salt and flavoring added. After forcing the dough through a press, it is cut into bite size and toasted. The object is increased consumption of potatoes and milk in a low calorie way.

THE OLD HOMESTEAD! Once upon a time Americans had one home and they lived in it throughout the year. Then came the automobile!

The trend from then has been toward two-car families. Now, believe it or not, the trend has swung even further — two-home families.

Americans are building or buying second homes — general located on lakes, rivers or in forests — at the rate of more than 100,000 a year. This has been going on for a number of years and is expected to grow in the near future as family income increases.

The building industry says the increase is due, besides the rising standard of living, to a desire to get away from home more often during summer and a retreat for retired persons.

SHOPPING FOR A COLLEGE? Whether you have a son or daughter going to college this fall or next year, sooner or later most American parents have to make the shopping tour for a college for junior.

For your information, 1,167 colleges in the United States offer some 98 million dollars every year in scholarships and other financial assistance.

A list of these institutions is now available. The publication is "Financial Assistance for College Students: Undergraduate." Printed by the government, it is available from: Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. Price $1.25.

(Don't write this newspaper).

PREDICTION! The publication named above could become the "best seller" of the nation in the next two years.

MARKETING TREND! The marketing revolution in America is accelerating. Briefly, here are a few of the trends causing retail merchants and their organizations a big headache:

1. The housewife can buy appliances, clothing, and numerous household items in a supermarket;
2. Catalogue buying has spread to the suburbs and cities;
3. Door-to-door selling is on the upswing;
4. A new version of the old peddler's wagon has appeared — the "shopmobile" that visits suburbs;
5. Closed-door stores selling at a discount to selected customers;
6. Rental services for all kinds of household items; and
7. Vending machines.

Where it will end no one knows, but the shopper should benefit to some degree.

BUILDING TRADES PAY SCALES RISE

WASHINGTON — Hourly wage scales of union building trades workers rose by an average of 2.5 per cent during the second quarter of 1962, U. S. Labor Statistics reported.

Widespread rate revisions resulting from spring contract negotiations or interim wage adjustments raised from the estimated average hourly scale for all building trades workers to $3.96 on July 2, an advance of 6.4 cents during the quarter.

The 59th Annual Convention of the American Teachers Association held recently in Miami, Florida, drew large numbers of delegates from some twelve states and consultants from throughout the country.
