

FIREMEN RESPOND TO FIVE CALLS

Men Who Fight the Flames Spent Busy Day Yesterday; Record Broken for Two and Half Years.

The members of the Albuquerque fire department spent a busy day yesterday, responding to five alarms between noon and midnight. At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon fire badly damaged the house at 715 South Edith street, occupied by Rev. S. E. Allison of the Highland Methodist church. The house is practically a total loss and the contents were damaged to the extent of $300. At 1:30 a fire of rubbish in the rear of 612 South Second street caught on fire and the second-story station made a dash for that section of the city; no damage done. At 7:30 the two companies were called to First and T-jeras, where a wagon outside of the Albuquerque Carriage company had been fired in some unknown manner. At 9:30 a blaze in a building adjoining the office of the Charaville Coal company, First and Coal, called out both companies. The blaze was discovered in time to prevent a serious fire. Thirty minutes later the firemen made a run to South Williams street, where a one-story and a half-story had caught the contagion. The house was located near the brick yards, a long distance from town, and practically burned to the ground, only the adobe walls remaining standing. The house was owned by Rafael Garcia, of Fourth street and Santa Fe avenue. Mr. Garcia says the loss will be about $1,000, but he strongly suspects that the fire was the work of an incendiary. Garcia offers a reward of $100 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the guilty person.

SANTA FE BUILDS BIG RESERVOIRS FOR WATER

The Water in southwestern Kansas Was Bad, So the Santa Fe Built Reservoirs.

Topeka, Kans., April 24.—The Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad is spending more than $2 million dollars along its Southern Kansas lines to solve its most serious water problem. The company has throughout its entire system. Along this line the company has built six reservoirs, covering nearly four hundred acres of valuable land as there is in the state. These reservoirs are so constructed that they drain a large area and furnish water for the locomotives. No good engine water could be found anywhere. To use the natural water required the most expensive water treating plants or great damage to the engine boilers. Surveys were made for two years to locate natural depressions where large quantities of water could be stored. Then the company purchased the land and built reservoirs at Weida, Thayer, Moline, Richmond, Chanute and Owsango. All the reservoirs cover more than fifty acres each. The one at Chanute, which covers more than one hundred acres, contains 160 million gallons of rain water. At Weida the employees of the company have organized a country club and have stocked the reservoir with fish and wild game. The company has granted the employees permission to use the grounds and the lake as a pleasure resort.

"RED" BALCOMB IS KIDNAPED

High School Boy Abducted in Big Red Automobile and Held for Fifty Cents Ransom Till Rescued.

Kenneth Balcomb, better known as "Red" Balcomb, cartoonist and grid from here, a Central high school senior, was abducted in a big red automobile late last Friday night, and held for several hours for a ransom of 50 cents, which ransom, because of the bravery of a party of rescuers, was not paid to the hand. The kidnaping of "Red" was highly sensational. The story will be told in detail in the high school "Lariat" soon to be published, and Balcomb will illustrate the articles with cartoons which he will draw.

According to all the details obtainable, Balcomb was attending a party at the home of a high school girl during the progress of the party. Balcomb was called to the door and detected out of the house and around the corner where a friend was supposed to be waiting for him. "Red" soon became acquainted with his kidnappers. There were five of them, all wearing black masks. Balcomb soon found himself hog tied, gagged and blindfolded. He was thrown into a big red touring car and quickly carried away. Thirty minutes after the disappearance of "Red," an A. D. T. messenger rapped at the door of the home where Balcomb had been a guest. The messenger delivered a note which was written in red ink. It contained the information that "Red" had been abducted and demanded the payment of a ransom of 50 cents. Instead of handing the messenger 50 cents as the kidnappers had expected, the party guests took possession of the A. D. T. boy. Under penalty of death they extracted from him the place where "Red" was being held for ransom. Soon a second big touring car with a dozen excited boys and girls, with an A. D. T. boy as pilot, was racing through the street in the far west end of town when it discovered the rendezvous of the kidnappers. The touring car in which "Red" had been abducted was drawn up as a wind shield. The brigands, carefully guarding "Red," were circled around a blazing fire, awaiting the return of the messenger with the ransom. The messenger returned, but accompanied by a dozen rescuers. Swinging down upon the brigands, the rescue party secured "Red" and quickly untied the knots from the cords which bound his hands, took away the bandage from his eyes and removed the gag. This done, the rescuers made a dash for the left side of the house. The messenger returned, but accompanied by a dozen rescuers. Varsity Walloped in Socorro

A loss in the score until the seventh inning seems to have been the undoing of the University team in their game with Socorro last Saturday. Overcoming a victory, their steady and consistent playing suddenly broke down, and the Socorro team by a sudden rally sent seven men over the plate in the last three innings. The score follows: Varsity, 10; Socorro, 20.

Sudden Rally of Miners in the Seventh Inning Puts Kibosh on Local Boys, to Tune of 5 to 10.

The Grays began working in the third inning with two out. Kinn singled and went to third when Guavara, in trying to peg him at second, threw the ball to center field. Kinn scored on Patterson's single. With two out in the fifth, Weeks singled, Kinn and the same and Patterson got away for two bases, scoring Weeks and Kinn. Salazar smashed for three bases and scored Patterson. Allen drove a liner into right field, apparently good for three bases. R. McCanna, however, was on the job and successfully speared the ball. The Grays gathered three runs in the fifth but failed to get another man over after that round. Four hits were made off Weeks in the fifth, the Grays giving him the merry ha ha because of the swiftest. Weeks took a decided brace after the fifth and pitched ball. The Grays clouted the sphere considerably, however, and if it had not been for the gift-eyed support given him by the Haps the center aggregation would have gone in a snuff. Time and again the Grays were robbed of a hit by the fast work of the infield and outfield. Guavara, the husky little revolutionist who fought for the Haps, did it in a way which surprised the fans. Weeks had nothing in his repertoire which was beyond Guavara. "Osses" got everything and jugged bases like Big Chief Myers of the New York Giants. Joe McCanna at first played that position like a veteran. LaPrak at second was fast and sure. Higgins was always conservative and reliable at short. Ty Cobb Chavez played a speedy game at third, but executed a headlong in the eighth inning when he hit for a single and tried to stretch it into a two-bagger by running to second and hitting the pitcher's box, missing first by thirty feet. Silva, Murphy and R. McCanna proved a strong combination in the field and backed each other up in good shape.

HAPPY-GO-LUCKYS WIN HANDILY IN TIGHT GAME

Juvenile Baseball Club Takes Fall Out of Albuquerque Grays, Much to Surprise of Fans.

Only the Haps were ball came down from the mountains. Shaggy rosinne Shango Wheel! And so he was feeling salutacious. 'Chased old Pratt a mile, by gracious. Licked old Stup and two dog Tonsers. Then marched home with old Pratt's trousers. Shango Wheel!

The above poem is respectfully submitted as a partial explanation of the Happy-go-Lucky and their backers fell yesterday afternoon just after they had succeeded in trouncing the Albuquerque Grays on the Traction park baseball diamond by the score of 5 to 4.

Yes, the Haps accomplished the seemingly impossible. Took on the Albuquerque Grays, among whom may be named several "big leaguers" and walked them in the name sturdy way they have walloped amateur aggregations for the last six weeks.

The Haps had a big job on their hands, but went into it and won. They did it so handily that it is a long story. The story, of course, should start out by saying that the Haps had "Tabe" Weeks to do the pitching for them. "Tabe" was loaned for the occasion by Manager Daniel Padilla of the Grays. "Young" Weeks, brother of "Tabe," did the slab work for the Grays. And if anything Young Weeks had a shade the best of it over his brother. The Grays pulled in nine hits off of big Weeks, while the Haps only got seven hits off of Young Weeks. Each pitcher struck out nine.

The Haps played out-head ball at first inning by aggressively going after the game. With two down in the initial round, Guavara made first on an error by Salazar at short. Guavara went to second on a passed ball and scored when Weeks hit to right. The Haps were then shut out until the seventh, when Murphy got on when A. Salazar, catcher, dropped the third strike and pegged wild to first. Higgins was hit by the pitcher Silva, singled, scoring Murphy and advancing Higgins to third. Higgins scored when Burns made an error when he attempted to handle a hot grounder with a ball on it, sent from the bat whizzed by R. McCanna in the eighth. Guavara hit for two bases and Weeks scored him with a hit. Patterson hitting the ball roll away from him on first.

The Grays began working in the third inning with two out. Kinn singled and went to third when Guavara, in trying to peg him at second, threw the ball to center field. Kinn scored on Patterson's single. With two out in the fifth, Weeks singled, Kinn and the same and Patterson got away for two bases, scoring Weeks and Kinn. Silva, Murphy and R. McCanna proved a strong combination in the field and backed each other up in good shape.

For the Grays A. Salazar made his debut as a backstop. Salazar is not so handy with the big glove as young Moses Chavez and fell down on the job at critical times. Young Weeks pitched consistently ball throughout and it wasn't because he didn't mix 'em that the Haps got away with seven hits. Patterson did good work at first and will very likely be a regular this season. Burns was fast at second, but not invincible, as was proved when he made a costly error which netted the Haps a run. Ross Salazar pitched a backstopper of a game at short and covered a great deal of territory. Allen of the varsity was a good man at third. Kinn got a hit every time up and fielded well until the eighth, when he surrendered his job to Guavara of the varsity, who is after a tryout. Ahlich, a new man, blew the one chance he had yesterday, but will doubtless accept every chance hereafter, appearing to be a sure thing fielder. Hidalgo, utility pitcher, was in the center for the Grays and had an opportunity to do nothing more than to get one hit.

The Haps were much elated because of their victory and had to be talked out of holding a torchlight parade to celebrate their victory. The Haps are negotiating for a game for next Sunday with the Indian school of Albuquerque and the St. Michael's college of Santa Fe.

Notes of the Game.

Joe McCanna has proven to be the real article at first base and he is there with a big line of talk at all times. Too much cannot be said in praise of the good work of big Weeks in the box and at the bat. He delivers the goods and with support such as he had yesterday he is a sure winner. LaPrak fields his position well and knows how to put the ball on the base runner. Silva can punt the ball and run the bases with the best of them. Guavara handled Weeks' delivery with ease and his throwing to the bases and hitting are features of every game. R. McCanna can field some, too. He grabbed a pair of good ones in the right garden yesterday. Ambrosio Chavez is an old around star and nothing gets by him at third base. Touch the bases Ambrosio and you will be the idol of the fans. Leo Murphy stands right up to the plate and makes the pitcher work for them. He is in the game all the time and is popular with the fans. Higgins is always up to his neck in the run getting and never overlooks anything in the infield.

BIGGEST PROJECT FOR ARIZONA

Eastern Capitalists Purchase Thirty-Two Thousand Acres and Propose to Reclaim by Water Storage in Arizona.

Prescott, Ariz., April 24.—News has been given out here of the purchase by eastern capitalists of a tract of land embracing 32,000 acres in Lonesome valley and a project to reclaim the same by water storage. The transaction is one of the heaviest this has ever been recorded in the history of Arizona and the lands to be irrigated are among the richest in the territory.

The consummation of this important undertaking follows after mature deliberation, scientific research of conditions and attractive possibilities offering exceptional inducements in production. Behind this movement is Col. E. P. Thayer and former Congressman James E. Watson of Indiana, both of whom have made frequent trips to the country and carefully investigated conditions to the smallest detail. The vast area taken over was purchased from the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company. About 18,000 acres of the grant lands were included in the remaining 14,000 acres were scripped from Mogul Base for government lands adjoining the acreage sold. As delineated in the deeds, the lands begin at a point about six miles north of Prescott in the Point of Rocks section and end in lower Chino valley, the line of the P. & P. railroad running through the center of the purchase a distance of nine to ten miles. All lands open to location, and which are to be reclaimed on the principles outlined, are embraced in this purchase. Associated with the deal is the taking over under option of other lands, that of the Winesop ranch, embracing over 900 acres, being among the most important. This asset holds the key as it were, to the situation. It controls the outlet of Willow creek, where the later empties into Granite creek, and is admirably situated as a drainage avenue for a large watershed. On this land is the proposed site of the large water storage system that is to receive first consideration in the great reclamation project.
