EBBETTS STEPS IN TO BREACH IN BASEBALL CRISIS

Owner of Brooklyn National League Club Arranges for Purchase of Kraft by Newark Internationals.

PLAYS ANGEL ROLE IN SERIOUS SITUATION

When Deal Was Closed Heads of Big Leagues Were in Session Preparing to Meet General Players' Strike.

Did you ever hear of Hans Wagner making a mistake in judgment? He has made errors, but fans and experts who have watched him in action for years agree that he has never been detected pulling a "one."

There isn't a chance for Jim Thorpe to break into the Giants' line-up, now that Dave Robertson has replaced Jack Murray in right field.
Murray was the weak spot. Robertson is playing the game up to the hilt.

If Marsons had not jumped to the Reds he could have secured a good offer from either Brooklyn or Chicago. When the Cuban made his jump, Hirsch had a trade under consideration. If the Cubs win the flag and wheel into position for a World Series split, the Cuban will kick himself.

Charley Somers, the Brown magnate, was one of the organizers of the American league, but it wasn't until this year that he got in on the ground floor, says the New York Sun. That may be true as to moneymaking, but not as to team standing. Jim Mc-Afee had the Browns fighting for the pennant early in the league's history.

But it was a marathon struggle that started.

Clark Griffith says he is not worrying about the Athletics, but fears Detroit. Sure, that's a good thing for the Washington pilot to do—stop worrying about catching the Athletics.

Mack's pitchers are going so hot now that he may have to wait until September to sew up the flag.

If it comes to bidding for Walter Johnson and Eddie Collins against the Fed offers a player?" It is likely to be a league affair rather than a club matter. The American league would not want to see two such stars captured by any rival organization.

Walter Johnson may not be winning with his old-time regularity, but he has already performed a feat this season that few major league pitchers or others, are likely to duplicate.
Johnson realized the ambition of every ball player—a home run with the bases full.

Heine Wagner still is unable to throw a ball across the diamond, and the Boston players now admit that he will never wear a Red Sox uniform again. In his place, young Roulet is playing a defensive game that equals that of the best shortstop in the profession.

for the rest of the life of his contract.

"I settled this case myself because I did not want to see trouble between organized baseball and its players," Mr. Ebbetts said.

"It seemed to me that this was the simplest and easiest way out of the difficulty—for Newark to buy Nashville's interest in the players.
Of course I realize that this settlement will be construed practically as a victory for the fraternity inasmuch as they got everything they asked for."

President Fuhr of the Players' fraternity expressed gratification at the outcome of the case.

"If the purchase is a bona fide one and the Newark club intends to use Kraft, we are satisfied," he said.
"So far as we are concerned the incident is ended."

ORGANIZED BALL GETS ANOTHER WALLOP FROM THE COURT

Justice Herbert P. Bissell Terminates Injunction Prohibiting Hal Chase from Playing with Buffalo Feds.

TEN DAY CLAUSE IS AGAIN TURNED DOWN

Court Denies Organized Baseball is Violation of Sherman Law But Holds it Monopoly Under Common Law.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 21.—Organized baseball suffered a legal defeat today when Justice Herbert P. Bissell granted the motion to vacate the injunction obtained by the Chicago American league club restraining Hal Chase from playing with the Buffalo Federal league club.

The lack of mutual obligation in the so-called ten-day clause of the contract under which Chase was playing with the Chicago team, whereby the club could terminate the contract on ten days' notice, while the player was bound under several provisions of the "national" agreement, formed the basis of the decision vacating the injunction.

That organized baseball is a violation of the Sherman antitrust law was denied by Justice Bissell on the ground that he could not agree that "the business of baseball for profit is interstate trade or commerce and therefore subject to the provisions of the Sherman act."

The court held, however, that it was monopoly of baseball business in contravention of the common law.

Chase was served with injunction papers June 25, while he was playing with the Buffalo team at Federal park. He has been off the bench since. In his affidavit on which the motion to vacate was based, Chase alleged that he gave the Chicago club ten days' notice of his intention to leave, at the expiration of which time he signed the Buffalo contract.

Regarding the ten-day clause Justice Bissell said:

"The plaintiff can terminate the contract at any time on ten days' notice.
The defendant is bound to many obligations under the remarkable provision of the national agreement.
The player's contract binds him not only for the playing season of six months from April 14 to October 14, but also for another season, if the plaintiff chooses to exercise its option, and if it insists on the requirement of an option clause in each succeeding contract the defendant can be held for a term of years. His only alternative is to abandon his vocation."

"Can it fairly be claimed that there is mutuality in such a contract?
The absolute lack of mutuality, both of obligation and of remedy, would prevent a court of equity from making injunction of otherwise. The negative covenant under such circumstances is without a consideration to support it and is unenforceable by injunction."

Justice Bissell declared organized baseball as complete a monopoly of the business for profit as any monopoly can be made.

"It is in contravention of the common law," he said, "in that it involves the right to contract as a property right; and in that it is a combination to restrain and control the exercise of a profession or calling."

The injunction was vacated with $10 costs to the defendant.

House Wired?

The cost of Current is a very small matter when one considers the convenience and advantages of electricity. An Electric Fan can be operated for a fraction of a cent per hour, mighty cheap, indeed, for relief on a hot day. Family washing and ironing can be done for less than ten cents. Electric Light for lighting purposes is correspondingly as cheap, while giving the best of light. So cost of Electricity is a small matter when one considers, or contemplates the matter of wiring. We will be glad to tell you how inexpensive this will be. No charge for information.
