It Was a Close Call, but he Finally Objected to being Laid Out.

(Charlotte News)

The neighbors of Mr. Ellias Garrison, in Berryhill township, this county, assembled at his house last Monday to lay him out, as he had been pronounced a corpse and had every appearance of being a genuine one. Just as they were getting ready to set to work, however, Mr. Gar risson came to life and put a stop to the preceedings. It come about by a fall from a tree. A swarm of bees had setlad on a limb of a tree in Mr. Garrison's yard. Mr. Garrison is a cripple, but be has a tooth for honey and decided to have the swarm He climbed up the tree and began sawing off the limb upon which the bees had settled. He worked the sav with his right hand while be held on to another limb with his left hand for support and levecage. He had scarcely commenced operations before this supporting limb gave way and he was precipitated to the ground, 30 feet below. He was picked up for dead. It being considered re sonably sure that his neck was broken, but, as already related, he came to before the neighbors had got Fresh Ground Hominy and the grave clothes on him. Mr. Garrison was seriously hurt; but Dr. Herron says that he will recover.
