THE CHIVALRY OF CONGRESSMAN

We learn that when the Mount Vernon sailed from Brest there were certain congressmen on board who insisted on taking the places of soldiers.
The congressmen had done no military duty, but they wanted to get home. So did the soldiers who had been through hell and out again that congressmen might live to draw fat salaries and talk interminably in a comfortably upholstered council chamber.

The soldiers were left behind.
Some soldiers were allowed to come after the congressmen had all been assured that room would be made for them. But the soldiers were not allowed to keep the quarters that had been assigned to them. Army officers who had been through the fiercest of the fighting, were compelled to give up their staterooms to professional politicians who found Prince Alberts more comfortable than khaki. The officers were not eager to make the change, but the politicians insisted.

The matter is trivial, and yet it has its bearing on philosophy.
It rarely pays to be a hero—in some one else's behalf. The world has changed very little since the days of Sennacherib. We speak of the recent war as a holocaust, an Armageddon, and upheaval, a cataclysm. We give it several names that are common-places of bromide journalism.
We declare that the world has been revolutionized—that human nature is now metamorphos-ed, transformed.

It isn't much transformed. It will take us about a year to realize what a singular durability the more nauseous traits of human character have shown in surviving a purging process that should have eliminated them. It will be chiefly noticeable in those who did not really go thru the keynote process at all. Any congressman whose natural vulgarity formed the keynote to his character before the war will continue to exhibit that vulgarity to the end of his political activities.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backaches, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Scotland Neck people.

Mrs. E. N. Nelson, Roanoke St., Scotland Neck, N. C., gave the following account of her experience with Doan's Kidney Pills December 16, 1910: "I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they are just as represented. I have used Doan's for kidney complaint, getting my supply at E. T.
Whitehead Co's Drug Store and they have rid me of backache and put me in good condition."

On June 5, 1918, Mrs. Nelson said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has proven permanent. I think they are a wonderful medicine and am glad to endorse them again."

ONE SINGLE WORD !

ONE LITTLE WORD DESCRIBES THE GOODS SOLD IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF MY STORE. WHAT'S THE USE TALKING SO MUCH. WHEN ONE WORD TELLS THE WHOLE TALE? YOU ALL KNOW THAT ONE WORD, BUT WILL REPEAT IT ANYWAY. ISN'T IT SMALL TO MEAN
SO MUCH? JUST SEVEN LETTERS.

QUALITY !

WE HAVE MADE ARRANGEMENTS WITH ONE OF OUR CUSTOMERS TO HANDLE SWEET MILK EACH DAY.
PLEASE LET US KNOW HOW MUCH YOU WANT.

to the Governor of South Carolina
"It's a long time between"
Mint Cola

But there need be no "long time between" for you—just go to the nearest soft drink place and ask for Mint Cola.

Hundreds of stores and fountains everywhere sell it, because when folks try it once they want more.
